Mountainous Regions

Snow covered the ground in up-land regions of Northern Vermont Monday, it was reported by motorists. The Newport-St. Albans highway, 30 miles from Newport, was white for more than a mile in the vicinity of Hazens Notch. Elsewhere the mercury dropped under 40 degrees.
To keep cool these hot days adjust your diet so that you will not eat food that produces fuel and heat, eat more vegetables and avoid starches, meats, and sweets.

Biggest Business Ever
For Beach Merchants
Over The Holiday

Although beach merchants did the greatest volume of business over the holiday weekend of any previous weekend in the history of the resort, there were few difficulties or minor accidents to mar the pleasure of the vacationists.
At the first aid station Mrs. Ruby Paterson treated only three persons for firecracker burns, a much smaller number than in other years. Robert Brown of Greenfield was burned when a firecracker exploded in his hand. For similar burns Ruth Swain, 100 Third street, Leominster, and Gertrude Cole, 1A Hatheway street, Worcester, were also treated.
The beach firemen had less activity than around previous Fourth's. A cigarette thrown out of a third story window at Cutler's manor started a fire on the piazza roof. Firemen also made six trips to the mile bridge for other cigarette fires.
Despite the heavy travel through the beach for several days there was nobody injured in auto accidents. A slight collision on the mile bridge resulted in the arrest of one

Not only are the clam beds in the Hampton river "above sus- picion" but the "clams taken from them are exceptionally clean," Dr. Charles D. Howard, state chemist and sanitarian in the department of health, has notified the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce and Seabrook selectmen, as the result of the investigation made following the conviction of Judge Howard C. Page in the Haverhill court last March.
The communication from Dr. Howard states that the clams dug from the flats in Hampton harbor the middle of June were found to be of "low bacteria content and representative of eminently sat- isfactory quality". The investigation by state authorities was made at the request of the Seabrook select- men in a visit to the Concord office on June 11.
They claimed that the newspaper publicity given the conviction of Judge Page gave rise to the rumor that the clam area in the Hampton river is unclean. It has since been brought out that the pollution of

Automobile Accidents By Drunken Drivers In Municipal Court

One of the three drunken drivers arrested over the holiday as the result of the activity of the motor vehicle inspectors was fined and another forfeited bail of $200 in the Municipal court.

A slight collision on the Ocean boulevard at Seabrook Beach resulted in the arrest of John P. Slatery, 114 Ash street, Nashua. Arraigned in court on Monday he paid a fine of $50 and costs of $6.70 in addition to a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail.

After colliding with the car of Henry Berounsky, 419 Marcy street Portsmouth, on the mile bridge last Friday evening Martin F. Mickolu, 297 Irving avenue, Lawrence, was charged with driving under the influence of liquor in the holiday session of the court and the case was continued until next Saturday by Judge John W. Perkins.

L. Henry Campbell of Athol, who was arrested in North Hampton early Saturday morning on a similar charge, was arraigned in court later that day and given a continuance to Monday. Through some misunderstanding he defaulted his $200 bail.

Arrested on June 27 by Officer Jerome Harkness on a charge of driving so as to endanger the lives of the public Henry B. Lubien, Jr., of Concord was fined $20 and costs of $4.70. For minor highway violations the six motorists, fined a total of $11.70 each, were James W. Stevens, editor of the Newburyport Item; Robert M. Lehner, Lynn, Mass.; Earl M. Conrad, Beverly, Mass.; Albert Daigle, Lowell, Mass.; Phyllis I. Caswell, Kittery, Me.; Israel A. Miller, Auburn, Mass.

Those fined a total of $9.40 each were James Zeramy, Lynn, Mass.; Francis Riordan, Manchester; Geo. Wendell, Medford, Mass.; John Avenir, New Haven, Ct. Bail of $20 each was defaulted by Stanley Peska, Worcester, Mass.; Raymond Blanchette, Nashua; Rudolph Gadette, Worcester, Mass.; Raymond Despres, Nashua. The case against Robert J. Hanon, Bridgeport, Ct., was filed. Ernest Rosa of Portsmouth was found not guilty of speeding.

No reliable cure for mastitis is known, and complete recovery rarely occurs. Segregation of diseased cows aids in preventing the spread of the disease. Full information on the disease is contained in a new Extension Service bulletin, No. 225, "Mastitis". Copies are available from the Extension Service, Orono, Maine.

Community Church At Beach Has Supper For Organ Fund Benefit

The proceeds of the supper served at the Community church Thursday (tonight) by members of the Ladies' Aid society will be devoted to the fund for the electric pipeless organ presented to the church last Sunday by the society on the occasion of the 11th anniversary.

Mrs. Ethel Powers Ullig headed the general committee on arrangements which included Mrs. John Z. Ray of Haverhill, Mass., Miss Maud I. Entwistle of Portsmouth, Mrs. G. F. Archibald of Lawrence, Mass., given by Wilfred Tremblay, well known organist at Portland, Me., who is frequently heard over the radio. He played a variety of selections that showed the rich tones and orchestral color of the small instrument.

BELLYACHES

Turn your mind along the path of memory, and you may recall this childhood jingle:

*"A little fly flew past my door,
Right into the grocery store.
He ate so much jelly-cake,
It made his little belly ache."*

The verse says nothing about the bellyaches that afflicted humans after eating fly-blown jelly-cake and other foods, but there were plenty of them. The old-time grocery store, as a matter of fact, was an unsanitary marvel. The store-keeper customarily brushed the flies off the cheese before cutting you a slice. His cakes and breads were exposed to the ravages of any passing insect, as were his fruits and vegetables. What a chemical analysis of his cracker barrel would have disclosed in the way of foreign elements is unimaginable.

Contrast today's up-to-date grocery store with that of yesterday. Foods are protected by glass. Refrigeration keeps perishables in the best of condition. Syphons freshen fruits and vegetables. Bread and pastries come wrapped. It's pretty thin pickings for a present day fly.

The modern chain grocery systems were largely responsible for this change. In order to attract customers, they adopted the most sanitary display equipment. They put in show cases and refrigerators to protect and preserve foods. Other grocers followed suit to increase their business.

So the fly that flies past your door today will probably fly past the grocery store also, and this will save him, and maybe you, a stomach ache.

SHOW THEM NO MERCY

For the third consecutive year the crime or arson has decreased in the United States, reports the National Board of Fire Underwriters. And, the report adds, "Not only has the number of incendiary fires decreased, but there has been a marked lessening of such fires resulting from organized or professional criminals."

The arsonist is justly termed the most despicable of felons. He is also one of the most dangerous; no man's property, no man's life, is safe when he operates. The nation's arson bill still runs into many millions of dollars annually—to say nothing of the infinitely more important "bill" of burned and cremated bodies the arsonist leaves behind him. It is the duty and the privilege of every citizen to fight him.

The splendid success that has so far been achieved in battling arson has been well earned. Many units of government have passed the model arson law suggested by the National Board out of its long and broad experience with this type of crime. Prosecuting attorneys have shown the utmost willingness to pursue the arsonist until he is finally convicted. Courts have meted out the heavy punishment the crime deserves. Other bodies, public and private, continually carry on investigations of suspicious fires, keep records of known arson rings, and produce evidence that would otherwise be unobtainable.

"Skip" Woods Joins Beach Life Saving Guards This Season

Gerald G. "Skip" Woods, book-keeper at the Portsmouth water department, is a new member of the beach life saving force this year.

For many years he has summered at the beach with his parents and is well known among the swimmers. He passed the International YMCA examination and for a time was swimming instructor at the YMCA in Denver, Col., where he attended the J. B. Young preparatory school. He is a graduate of Hampton Academy.

The addition of Donald Langley makes three brothers in the group. Elbert Langley, who has had considerable experience both at Hampton and in Florida, is the veteran life saver of the force. On Sundays and holidays Kenneth Langley is stationed at North beach. The others are Ernest Underwood, who is starting his second season as full time guard; Roy Isbel of Exeter, who was guard at an exclusive club in Miami last winter, and Richard Hemingway of Groton, Mass.

Spectacular Drama At Community Church

"The First Commandment," a gigantic Biblical drama is being staged in the Community Church at Hampton Beach on Monday and Tuesday, July 20th and 21st at 8:30, Daylight saving time. This beautiful portrayal of the giving of the Ten Commandments to the people has been successfully staged throughout New England. It is being brought to Hampton Beach by the Community Church for the benefit of the new organ.

A local cast of 56 will appear in the Biblical roles in colorful and elaborate costumes. A choir of 24 voices with Mrs. Warren at the organ and Mrs. Madolyn Higgins Hoyt as soloist will supply the musical numbers between scenes. Mrs. Hoyt will sing "The Lord Is My Light" by Allitsen. The choir will sing "Glory to Isis" from "Aida", "From Egypt's Bondage Come", "God So Loved the World" from the "Crucifixion" and "The Hallelujah Chorus" from the Messiah, besides several well known hymns. The cast and choir are being selected from Hampton Beach, Hampton, North Hampton, Seabrook Exeter and other towns.

Rev. Earl Douglas is General Chairman of the production and Miss Hertha Mae Jerman, representative of the American Educational Co. is directing the drama. The cast will appear in the next issue.

Remember an article from you will be appreciated any time for publication. Just write to Record, Exeter.

Forty Year Absentee Tells Of Changes At Beach In Past Years

F. H. Scott of Westfield, Mass., is making his first visit to the beach in more than 40 years. Stopping at Ye Colonial Inn with his wife he has been telling Mr. Frank E. Nason, owner of the hotel, some of his boyhood experiences on the beach before many cottages were here.

At that time there was no Casino building and there were no cottages north of where the Casino now stands. As a youngster he made a contract with a man, he recalls, to fold and deliver newspapers to the cottage residents during the Summer for half of the season's profits. At the end of the Summer the man told him that the business had been very bad and gave him 25 cents for his two months work. That childish incident taught him a lesson about future business arrangements, he said.

Local Broadcast At Salisbury Heard By California Resident

At the neighboring Salisbury Beach the first coast to coast broadcast over 65 stations brought an interesting result. This week a letter was received from Mrs. Ethel M. Lewis of Albany, Cal., who was a former resident at the beach for a number of summers before 1904. The broadcast reminded her of her girlhood days on the Atlantic coast from which she moved at the age of 15. She requested that the song, "Melody from the Sky", composed by Louis Alters, a Haverhill native, who did the musical score for the "Trail of the Lonesome Pine", be played as part of the program on Saturday evening from 7 to 8.

Community Church

Next Sunday morning our speaker will be Dr. Nathan Wood, president of Gordon College of Theology. Dr. Wood will soon leave New England to go to London where he will address the Philosophical Society on his widely read book "The Secret of the Universe."

The evening service will be devoted to a consideration of "An American Menace." There are today various destructive forces at work, which threaten the moral life of our nation.

Friends are looking forward in keen anticipation to the production of the biblical drama "The First Commandment" on July 20th and 21st.

Noted Visitors Are Entertained At Beach Over National Holiday

Mrs. George A. Scannel of Washington, D. C., who is secretary to Congressman Lemke from South Dakota, the presidential candidate of the Social Justice and Townsend plan proponents, stopped this week with her husband at the Ashworth hotel. She was not available to newspaper interviewers, however.

Next week the sister of Senator Wheeler from Montana will stay at the Hayes cottage on Nudd avenue and take her meals at the Ashworth. Former Governor John Bartlett of New Hampshire was another outstanding visitor at the beach this week.

Seabrook Cottagers Enjoy Program Over Week End Holidays

Cottagers at Seabrook Beach enjoyed a "family party" on the holiday of sports, bonfire, fireworks and dancing which was arranged by the Seabrook Beach Cottage Owners' association.

On the holiday eve a bonfire was set off across the street from the store of Joseph Dockam. The ball game between the fathers and sons the next afternoon resulted in a tie score of 13-13. During the sport program there were running races and batting contests. The winners were Walter Platt, Jr., Joseph Sheehan, Mary K. Pickard, Roland Poyce Jr., Elizabeth Pickard, Geraldine Pickard and Beatrice Bennett. At the conclusion refreshments of ice cream and tonic were served.

Express Train May Be Stopped At Hampton

Efforts are being made by James W. Tucker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, to have the fast train which passes through Hampton at 7:28 p. m. stop here to take on passengers for Maine.

Since there is an increasing number of people from the section beyond Bangor and Auburn, Me., who are coming to Hampton Beach for vacations, Mr. Tucker is trying to persuade Boston and Maine officials make Hampton a flag station for this through train as a convenience for vacationists. At present the train does not stop except to leave passengers.

Music Festival

Many people are wondering how the opera "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Mascagni, can be staged during the Fourth Annual Music Festival, at Little Boar's Head, New Hampshire on the estate of Arthur L. Hobson, under the personal direction of Fabien Sevitky, on Saturday, July 11, at 5:30 p. m., D. S. T. This opera is being given because of popular demand and the courtesy of Fabien Sevitky and his group of artists.

The "Morning Serenade" on Sunday, July 12, at 9:30 a. m., D. S. T. will be presented by the Young Musicians' Orchestra, with Phoebe Davison, Soprano Soloist, under the direction of Fabien Sevitky. This is an unusually interesting program with just enough of the semi-sacred music numbers to please genuine music lovers.

Care must be taken these hot days not to cut the lawn too short. Set the cutter block higher, and thus prevent excessive burning by the sun. On very dry lawns the application of finely pulverized peat moss helps to retain the moisture.

An entirely new system of amplifying is being used this year to insure perfect audition on every part of the lawn. The amphitheatre is so constructed that it makes a perfect sound transmitter, powerful enough to cover the entire area, just as smoothly and harmoniously as though in an indoor building.

The Choral Concert, by the United New Hampshire Groups, under the direction of Norman Leavitt, will start at 2 p. m., D. S. T., Saturday, July 11. This program will include selections from Rossini's Stabat Mater which pleased so many in Portsmouth, N. H. a short time ago. The same voices will be heard in chorus and solo work, with a few exceptions.

The opera "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Mascagni, (in English), will be given by the Fabien Sevitky Ensembles and the Young Musicians' Orchestra, under the direction of Fabien Sevitky, on Saturday, July 11, at 5:30 p. m., D. S. T. This opera is being given because of popular demand and the courtesy of Fabien Sevitky and his group of artists.

Redecorated Band Is Center Of Attraction With Its Gaudy Colors

As part of the future development of the beach the band stand is to be redecorated in a modernistic manner. When the transformation is completed the Chamber of Commerce officials hope to have waterfalls illuminated with the play of colored lighting on each side. The first step in the redecoration was made for the fashion show of summer models on Thursday. The remodeling of the former Garland hotel and adjoining store into the modernistic Standish hotel set a pace for the rest of the beach establishments to follow.

Lowell Druggists At Beach Annual Outing

Nearly 100 druggists from Lowell, Mass., came to the beach on Wednesday for their 30th annual outing. After a buffet luncheon at the Casino the druggists enjoyed a program of sports at the athletic field behind the Casino. In the ball game the Steeds defeated Arthur's All Stars 6-5. The arrangements for the day's activities which culminated with a banquet in the evening, were in the hands of Frank J. Campbell, president; Charles Gallagher, vice-president; Harry Doresisk, secretary-treasurer; Paul Lamoreux, Henry LeDoux and Frank O'Shea.

Farragut Players To Give "Private Lives"

The Farragut Players turn this coming week from the sentimental charm of "Smilin' Through" to the brittle, sparkling piece of sophisticated comedy from the pen of Noel Coward, "Private Lives." This was the play in which Coward and Gertrude Lawrence delighted London and New York for exactly three months apiece and then stopped at the whim of the author despite the fact that the play could have run for a year in New York alone. The parts of Elyot and Amanda that charming but highly temperamental couple, whose violent quarrels form the chief source of amusement for the audience, will be played by Lauren Gilbert and Berilla Kerr. Mr. Gilbert, who has completely captivated Rye Beach audiences in his first two appearances, achieved his first start in drama under the direction of Jessie Bonstelle, who has made her Detroit Little Theatre a nationally-known institution. Miss Kerr's flair for high comedy is already attested to by her efforts in Barry's "Holiday." "Private Lives" is a light, inconsequential but highly amusing farce in which Coward shows us two people formerly wed to each other but now divorced, suddenly meeting when each is on a second honeymoon. They forget the incompatibilities of the past and find a renewed interest in one another much to the annoyance of the neglected bride and groom respectively. Since the devotion of Elyot and Amanda to one another is revealed largely by violent quarrels to the point of physical combat the second act generally proves terrifically exerting for the players and devastatingly funny for the audience. A very popular addition to the company will be made when Miss Ellen Riley of Amesbury joins them to create the part of Louise, the maid. Miss Riley, a superb character performer may be remembered for her interpretation of the maid in last year's production of "Hay Fever", another Coward play. The company will continue to play Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturdays evenings, as well as a Saturday matinee. Groups of fifteen or more, such as women's bridge and luncheon clubs who would like to attend in a body are urged to consult the management for special rates.

Resident of Seabrook Beach Lived There For Over 34 Years

Nearby Seabrook beach has bettered the record of Hampton beach in the age of its oldest resident. E. W. Hayes of Haverhill, one of the pioneers in the upbuilding of Seabrook beach, will be 93 years old on December 13. Active for his age he is again spending the summer at his cottage, "The Warwick", which is one of the oldest on the beach. The first man to build at Seabrook after the Granite State Land company took over the beach, he started his cottage in 1902 and has occupied it every summer for 34 years. Luther J. Holt of Exeter, who is known as the "oldest man on the beach" at Hampton, is 93 years old. He walks briskly to the center every day to listen to the baseball programs over the radio and chats with friends. Healthy red raspberry plants should yield 30 to 50 quarts of fruit for every 100 feet of row.

Chamber of Commerce officials were obliged to send vacationists as far away as Newburyport, Mass., and Portsmouth, N. H., for overnight accommodations. Prize Winner

Five year old Marcelle Lacerte, 67 Exeter avenue, Manchester, sang "Keep That Twinkle in Your Eye" and did an Irish Washerwoman jig much to the delight of the hundreds of spectators who thronged the sidewalks and Casino piazzas. The second prize went to a pair of dancers from Manchester called the Rhythm Twins, Irene Granz and Alfred Dupuis.

The third winner was Martin L. Mills of Haverhill, Mass., who sang "Twilight on the Trail". The rest of the program, for which James W. Tucker acted as master of ceremonies and J. Milton Fullford of Salisbury, Mass., as accompanist, included the song, "I'm in the Mood for Love", by Raymond Cote of C street, a tap dance by Elaine Toop, 6, of the beach, "The Champagne Waltz" sung by Russell Walsh of Worcester, "It's a Sin to Tell a Lie" by Raymond Smith of Manchester and "Goody, Goody" sung by William Varkas of Manchester.

The winners of each week will compete in the elimination contest to be conducted during Carnival week at the end of the season.

Seaplane

Two Alton Bay police, Jack Mc Mannus and Bernard Lyle, were speeding a man and his wife on their way to their son, who was believed to be dying as the result of an auto accident. After the plane landed the anxious couple were rushed by auto to their destination.

The landing of the plane was sighted by Foreston G. Alley, who was on duty at the lookout tower of the coast guard station early Sunday evening. Arriving at the scene the crew of coast guardsmen, headed by Boatswain Mate Clarence D. Beal, were obliged to don bathing suits to wade out in the surf to aid in launching the seaplane in deeper water.

By the time the rescue party arrived the couple had left by auto to hasten over the road to their son. Consequently, no information about their identity was secured by coast guardsmen. The latter included Surfmen Charles H. Frothingham, Allan F. Hanson and Real St. Marie.

A large crowd of spectators gathered on the shore to watch the coast guardsmen push the craft into deeper water where the pilots were able to take off without further difficulty.

Annual Children Day Plans More Elaborate Than Previous Years

Plans have been initiated this week by Col. George Ashworth, chairman of the precinct commissioners, for the annual Children's Day on July 24.

He hopes to make the event this year the most elaborate of any of the previous celebrations. Already neighboring towns have signified their intentions of participating in the spectacular parade of colorful floats and costumed children.

The Children's Day celebration will be only one event in the busiest week of the season. On Thursday of that week the Boy Scouts of the Daniel Webster council will have their parade and exhibition as part of their four-day encampment at the beach.

Once again the Bektash Shrine circus is to come to Hampton Beach for a stay of ten days starting July 24.

Church Army Back On Hampton Beach

In the Summer of 1935 a group of Church Army officers conducted services at Hampton Beach for six weeks. These services were held outdoors from the Bandstand and were in the nature of an experiment to see whether or not religious services of this kind would be appreciated. The results exceeded all expectations, the response on the part of the people in attending the services proved that the experiment was well worth while. As a result of this response, Bishop Dallas of the Diocese of New Hampshire, is again sponsoring the work of the Church Army, this year for a longer period of eight weeks. Benefitting from the experience of 1935 the members of this year's team have been especially chosen. The young men and women who comprise the team are all musically inclined and the services will include both vocal and instrumental selections.

The leaders of the team are Captain and Mrs. Hall of Detroit, Mich., assisting them are Capt. J. Daley, Capt. A. Bello, and Miss Nina Mat Dollar.

The Church Army is a missionary organization of the Episcopal Church composed of young men and women who have dedicated their lives to winning souls for Christ, seizing every opportunity to tell forth the Love and Power of God. The services will begin at 6 p. m. and last approximately half an hour. A cordial welcome is given to all.

Fresh Air Children Soon To Appear

Another year has rolled around and the Tribune Fresh Air is again appealing for two weeks vacation to help the poorest of New York's poor children from the poor tenement districts of which there are hundreds of thousands.

"Duly generous kindly people," says The Tribune, open their homes and hearts to these little people, and the local committee is asking all who read this appeal if you will be one of these people.

These children are selected with utmost care, those having perhaps for the first time their first glimpse of American life as opposed to the life and ideals of some of the foreign quarters of the city where he may be born.

Hampton is regarded as one of the warm hearted charitable people of the Friendly towns. The organization does its best to send out only children who are clean and free of disease. The examination being honest and thorough.

The local committee solicit your help: Rev. Herbert Walker, Mrs. Ada Tobey, Mrs. Arthur Heath, Mrs. Annie Brown, Mrs. Sarah M. Lane.

Clam Flats

In his communication Dr. Howard says, "A number of years ago this department made a comprehensive investigation of the sanitary conditions on the Hampton river and harbor, including a survey of this and tributary waters, with collection of numerous samples both of water and clams taken from various points in this area. This investigation, conducted during the Summer season, served to establish the absence of any material contamination in these waters and to demonstrate that the clams taken therefrom are exceptionally clean.

"Since this investigation was made there has been nothing to cause any material change in this situation. In fact, if anything the conditions in this respect are now more favorable than less. While it is true that Hampton beach sewage is now pumped to a treatment plant located back on the marsh, this treatment is an elaborate and effective one, including chlorination of the final effluent before its discharge into the marsh brook. It is inconceivable that enough impurity thus finds its way into Hampton harbor to be in anyway a menace to the cleanliness of the beds swept by this broad expanse of clean tidal water, the latter now free from any chance of carrying with it sewage as formerly deposited on the ocean front.

The scenes of beach life done in colors by Miss Phyllis Tucker, transportation agent at the Chamber of Commerce office, for the annual precinct banquet early in June continue to attract attention in the Ashworth dining room. On one wall Miss Tucker sketched the background of Boar's Head with yachts from the Hampton Harbor Yacht club in the foreground. On the other wall the flag ship of the club and other ocean scenes are portrayed.

Beach Fanfare

On Sunday 75 members of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters from Watertown, Mass., will hold their annual outing at the Ashworth. The Misses Lillian Durkin and Mary Morley are in charge of the activities.

Some of the animals for the Shrine circus which is to open at the beach on July 25 have already arrived here from Pennsylvania. Timothy was first grown in this country by John Herd of New Hampshire, about 1747. About the same time, Timothy Hansen introduced the crop into Maryland. The crop has since carried his name.
