two years ago, will return as the nurse at the first aid room.

Two new life guards at the bathhouse will be Kenneth Creighton, teacher-coach at Hopkinton High school, and John Omerston of Dover, a graduate of Colby college.

Stuart Carter, Hampton school teacher, has returned as cashier for the men's section and Miss Grace Sullivan of Nashua as cashier for the women. Lionel Carbonneau of Exeter will have charge of the roof garden tea room and Miss Katherine Hughes of Manchester will again be a checker for the women's bathing suits. The central parking area will be under Donald Bullis of Union, while that at the bathhouse will be handled by James Thompson of Exeter.

Make your vacation one to remember—Happy Hampton Beach.

Outing Is Held At Beach By Kiwanians Wed.

Nearly 200 Kiwanians and their wives from Dover, Derry, Portsmouth, Farmington and Hampton attended the first annual outing and Ladies' Day program for the clubs of District 7 last evening at the Hotel Ashworth.

Fred Mitchell of Lynn, Mass., governor of the New England district, was the chief speaker at the dinner over which James W. Tucker, secretary of the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce, presided. Other speakers included John W. Hopley of Portsmouth, lieutenant governor of the district; Parker Kenneally of Salem, Mass., secretary of the New England district; Glen Race, president of the Portsmouth club, and Lloyd Bridgman, president of the Dover club.

Miss Sharon Lynne, motion picture actress, who is with the Faragut Players at Rye Beach this summer, was the feature of the entertainment program, which also included Phil de Jongh of Boston. Because of the rain, competitive bowling was the only event on the scheduled sports program that was carried out.

Ocean Returns Sand It Swept Away

Rolling high on the beach, the high tides of the past two days have brought tons of sand swept away.

Earlier in the week state trucks hauled sand from the river-mouth to the beach front but small appropriations were soon exhausted. Now, as if to make restitution for its damage, the ocean has started washing tons of sand back onto the beach.

GOOD SEASON —

Moses says they most assuredly will get them.

The annual Hampton Beach "Camporee" of the New Hampshire Boy Scouts will begin on Wednesday, July 17 with "Boy Scout Day" and it is expected that over one thousand boys will be camped in the State Recreational Area for a period of nearly one week. Thursday, July 18 has been designated by the Hampton Village district as the date on which the annual Hampton Beach Children's Day will be held this season and an even more elaborate program is being planned for the youngsters this year.

Safety Campaign For July Fourth Organized By SCC

Cognizant of the adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," the New Hampshire Society for Crippled Children today announced that for the first time in the organization's history it would sponsor a Fourth of July Safety Campaign.

The public is gradually becoming more and more aware of the increasing number of serious accidents and fatalities caused annually by careless use of fireworks, and both the National Safety Council and the American Medical Association are working toward the elimination of needless accidents over the Fourth.

Fully aware of the crippling conditions and serious handicaps caused by these needless accidents, officials of the New Hampshire Society for Crippled Children today turned their attention toward assisting in their elimination in this state.

In conjunction with the safety campaign, the New Hampshire society will sponsor a "Firecracker" drive from now until the fourth, during which time bright, red "Firecrackers" will be placed in stores, banks, libraries, diners, restaurants and hotels throughout the state.

By this novel method, the society hopes to divert at least a portion of the money spent on fireworks in the state, and turn this money to use in continuation of its work for crippled children of the state.

Then He Did

He was in a fearful temper. As he went out he jammed his hat on his head, scowled at his wife and left her without a word. She called after him:

"You have forgotten something."
"Well, what?"
"You didn't slam the door."

Common Complaint

"She is a woman who has gone through a great deal for her belief."
"Indeed? What is her belief?"
"She believes she can wear a number five shoe on a number seven foot."

Rhubarb juice makes a delicious drink, either plain or combined with the juice of berries, oranges, lemons or other fruits.

marine zoological laboratory. Numbering three more than year ago, the students come from seven states and Nova Scotia.

Its only neighbors a Coast Guard crew and a fisherman's family, the laboratory is housed in five buildings on the rocks of barren Appledore Island. Currents within the Gulf of Maine bring to the student all manner of odd organisms, a variety of marine conditions present, from small enclosed to ocean depths of 250 feet.

The majority of the students, undergraduates, receiving an entire year's work in zoology during the eight week period. The rest, special investigators, seeking answers to particular sea life problems.

Two visiting instructors are the laboratory assisting Director Floyd Jackson and his resident staff. They are Dr. Borstwick Ketchum, instructor in biology Long Island university, and Geo. O. Lee, instructor in biology the Canal Zone Junior college, Balboa. Among special lecturers expected during the summer are Alfred O. Cross, professor of zoology at Bowdoin college, and Henry C. Raven, of the American Museum of Natural History.

Busy Program Announced For Boy Scout Camporee To Be Held July 17 To 21

Children's Day Parade Is Set For July 18

An earlier date than usual has been set for the annual Children's Day parade, it is revealed in the announcement of plans for the Camp Ashworth camporee of the Daniel Webster council B. S. A., by John W. Hopley of Portsmouth, general camporee chairman.

That most colorful event of the beach season will be held on the second day of the camporee, which is scheduled to open July 17 and extend through July 21. As in other years the Scouts will assist police with traffic regulating and will aid in the distribution of refreshments to the several thousand children following the parade.

The camporee, which will be longer and more largely attended than in any previous year, has been named in honor of Col George Ashworth, beach precinct commissioner and chairman of the New Hampshire Shore and Beach Preservation commission, who has fathered the festivities for children at the beach. For the first evening of the camporee the committee has arranged a band concert led by Maj Everett A. Moses on the camp site at the state bathhouse reservation, a campfire ceremony with songs, stunts and movies.

The first of the safety monitor drills by the World's Fair troops will be the first event July 18 and will be followed by the appointment of the Scout police and supervised swimming in the morning. The afternoon will be devoted to the parade of floats, decorated autos and costumed children, as well as demonstrations on the beach. From 3:30 to 5 the Scouts will be at home to visitors on their

Prominent Candy Shop Owner Dies Suddenly Thurs.

Owen J. Boston, prominent for many years in the confectionery business on Hampton Beach, died Thursday in his 79th year at Exeter.

Mr. Boston was born at York, Me. Retired during the past few years, Mr. Boston was one of the pioneer candy-makers in Manchester where he conducted a confectionery business for 35 years before moving his establishment to Hampton Beach. He maintained a candy shop for 25 years on the beach.

He made his home in Manchester for 50 years and was a member of Mt. Hope Lodge, N. E. O. P. The survivors are his wife, Mrs. Dora Boston, Manchester; a daughter, Mrs. Georgia B. Connor of Manchester; three grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Mattie Talpey of York Beach, Me., and a niece, Mrs. Irma Wagner of York Beach.

The funeral of Mr. Boston will take place from the Goodwin Funeral home, 607 Chestnut street, Manchester, Monday afternoon, July 8, at 2:30 o'clock. Friends are invited.

Army To Put Forts In Shape At Once

Plans for the strengthening of the harbor defenses of Portsmouth harbor were announced Monday night by Col. Robert Garrett, U. S. A., of Portland, Me., commanding the harbor defenses in this district. Approximately 150 enlisted men will be sent here during the summer and it is planned to recondition Fort Constitution and Fort Stark on the New Hampshire side and Fort Foster on the Maine side. The three forts were in use up to and immediately following the World War period but since 1926 have been under a caretaker's status similar to a number of other New England forts.

Fort Constitution, originally called Fort William and Mary, is where the first overt act of the Revolutionary war took place Dec. 14, 1775 when a band of patriots in command of Gen. John Sullivan seized powder which afterwards was used at the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Others among the first ten are a trip to the oceanic Isles of Shoals, steak fries, softball, trips to shore and resort theatres, archery, ping-pong, and golf.

The poll is conducted yearly during the opening week of the session to assist the recreation committee in planning extra-curricular activities.

Poor Weather Fails To Mar Holiday Celebration — Few Accidents Are Reported

Quinn Member Of Bathhouse Force

William Quinn of Manchester, a former track star at the University of New Hampshire, who is now studying medicine at Rochester, N. H., has been added to the life saving force of the state bathhouse and will work with Kenneth Craighton, teacher-coach at Hopkinton High, and John Omerston of Dover. Mrs. Rose Fitzgerald of Manchester was returned as checker for the women's bathing suits, while John Lyster of Concord holds the same position for the men.

Francis Nownes of Hampton has replaced Donald Bullis of Union, who has been placed in charge of the bathhouse maintenance, assisting Louis Head of Manchester, who is in charge of the maintenance work for all reservations. Theodore Gladu of Manchester has been added to the roof garden tearoom and Jack Evans is in charge of the refreshment counter on the promenade. Miss Doris Trafton of Portsmouth is doing the office work.

Robert Ring, 30 years old, who was to have been married today, is at the Portsmouth hospital with a severed artery as the result of fragments of a tin under which a fire cracker exploded.

At the Portsmouth hospital last night the condition of Ring was described as critical. The victim had taken a turn for the worse in the afternoon and a blood transfusion had to be administered during the evening.

The accident happened Thursday morning as Ring was sitting on the porch of his home on Winnacunnet road, Hampton. A tin can had been placed over a firecracker and the explosion shattered the can, a fragment flying 15 feet and striking Ring in the back of the neck.

The victim lost considerable blood before he arrived at the Portsmouth hospital. Ring, whose father operated the popcorn stand on the beach behind the band stand for many years, was to have been married today to Doris Buede, a waitress in a Portsmouth restaurant.

Badly Burned Another victim was William Fellos, son of a call member of the Jupe Plivius tried his best but he couldn't prevent thousands of visitors from flocking to the beach Thursday, celebrating the "Glorious Fourth".

Rain throughout the early part of the day made the influx of visitors late but in the afternoon, it was estimated that close to 70,000 people jammed the beach and every available parking space, staying late in the evening to witness the fireworks display.

Have You Heard?

By The Gadabouts

Have You Heard?
That despite showers and chilly breezes the fourth really went over with a bang? The crowd, although slightly less than the past few years, certainly enjoyed themselves here at Happy Hampton.

Have You Heard?
That many of those lily-white city folks who came down for the day didn't have to fear the effects of "Old Sol"?

Have You Heard?
That most of the holiday crowd stayed late in the evening to witness the grand display of fireworks?

Have You Heard?
Or perhaps we should say—Have You Seen—the brand new streamlined B&M bus which makes daily trips to the beach? Some difference from the old trolley cars that bumped their way along the shore.

Have You Heard?
That there really are some people on the beach that can remember the old trolley cars? Many of the erstwhile motormen are now in business and can tell many a tale of the good 'ole days.

Have You Heard?
That many visitors had a great deal of trouble finding a parking place on the holiday? Wish someone would hurry with that big free parking area.

Have You Heard?
How many dollars worth of fire crackers went up in smoke over the Fourth?

Have You Heard?
That the police department did a fine job of handling the heavy traffic yesterday?

Have You Heard?
That the boys down at the engine house were kept busy also? Numerous small fires occurred with little or no loss due to the promptness of our fire department.

Have You Heard?
That about 50 MIT grads enjoyed a banquet at the Colonel's hostelry last Sunday?

Have You Heard?
That Miss Denise Hillard is again assisting at the Chamber of Commerce office?

Have You Heard?
That the town highway agent, Homer A. Johnson, and a large corps of men succeeded in finishing the tarring of roads before the fourth? Many of the residents of Church street and adjacent byways certainly appreciate the fine job they did.

Have You Heard?
That the band gave a concert up at Tuck Field Wed. night from 11-12, preceeding the huge annual bonfire which attracted crowds from miles around?

Have You Heard?
That the popular couple, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lorenz, down at the White Island section, celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary recently? Both Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz are heavy favorites among the beach folk.

Have You Heard?
Whether or not the boys are going to "swim the mile" this summer?

Have You Heard?
That Betty Loy, former blues singer at the Taft Hotel in New York City is spending the summer at the beach?

Have You Heard?
That the New Avon Hotel on B street is being managed this summer by John W. Dignon, Jr., who has made some vast improvements in this popular hotel?

Have You Heard?
That old saying that "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush"? We doubt if Sally has.

Have You Heard?
That Louise Juntgen of St. Pete is waltressing this summer at the Cozy Corner Cafe?

Have You Heard?
That the youthful George Downer is operating the B St. Market this summer with genial Ed Lessard as his manager?

Have You Heard?
That a certain young man was left "waiting at the gate for Katie"? Not one of the "swing" type, Bob?

Have You Heard?
That for a real treat you should visit Doug's Grill 'round the corner on C street? For home cooking and really good coffee it's hard to beat.

Plans Laid For 10th Annual Vacation Camp At Beach

Twenty Rockingham County towns were represented in the group of 100 farm and village women attending the annual rally of Rockingham County Farm Bureau, held Friday at the Green Gate in Exeter. Mrs. Mary A. Bennett of Newmarket, county chairman of women's activities, was master of ceremonies.

One feature was the planning of the 10th annual vacation camp, expected to be held again this year at Hampton Beach, the week of September 8. This year makes a full decade since the farm women decided that they, as well as their city cousins, were entitled to a vacation. Before that, it seems, all the city relatives used to come and visit them, but they didn't get a chance to shift to new scenes.

Requires Hotel
Ten years ago, the farm women proposed their own vacation. In fact, more than 100 of these women have joined the vacation movement and today it takes a four-story hotel to accommodate them and their program.

Indications, too, are that the 1940 vacation program will be more attractive than ever, with many old features and more new ones. The women quickly voted to hold camp, to make it the week of September 8, and to have it at the beach, Rockingham County being the only county in the state with an ocean front.

Camp features, Mrs. Bennett suggested, probably will include a demonstration of pewter and copper work by Mrs. Gibson of Hampton; a candy-making demonstration by Mrs. Hurley of Rye; fingerprinting of campers by Chief Manning Remick of Rye; a talk on "Our Responsibilities to Youth" by Simes Frink of Newington; and an illustrated lecture on the U. S. A. Visit Fuller Gardens.

There will be another lecture on flower arrangement; the annual trip to the Fuller Gardens at North Hampton; a talk on "Old Glass" by

RUBBER ..... baffling
How to make rubber, or something which will serve all the purposes of rubber, has been baffling scientific investigators for half a century. Thomas A. Edison spent the last year of his life on that problem. I talked with him not long before his death. He was sure he was on the right track, and that in ten or fifteen years he would be making rubber out of goldenrod.

More than thirty years ago a German scientist, Dr. Dulsberg, showed me in New York some automobile tires which he had made for the Kaiser's car out of an artificial rubber which he had invented. It was made, as I recall, principally from turpentine. It didn't stand up under use, but the Germans never ceased their efforts to make rubber.

In 1936 they got their answer. Real rubber, good for auto tires, could be made from acetylene gas and other substances. When the Germans had got their new "Buna" rubber, Hitler was ready to start to conquer the world. For modern mechanized, motorized armies travel on rubber tires, and airplanes must have rubber-tired wheels to land on "Buna" made the present war possible.

AMERICAN ..... substitutes
We're planning a national defense program, in which rubber will play a big part. It was exciting news to me, therefore, when two big American companies announced early this month that they are actually building plants to make artificial rubber. One is the B. F. Goodrich Company, the other the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

President John F. Collyer of the Goodrich Company showed a gathering of 500 industrialists, scientists and military men, tires made from a new substance called "Ameripol," developed by Goodrich chemists and tried out in practice for a year and a half. A plant to turn out several tons a day of this new "Liberty Rubber" is being built, he told them.

At the same time President William Stamps Parish of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey announced that his company is building a plant to make "Buna" rubber for the Firestone Company, and is prepared to make another new kind of rubber, "Butyl," very shortly. Like "Ameripol," this will be made from petroleum chiefly.

INGREDIENTS ..... here
The new "Liberty Rubber" is made of materials of which there is an inexhaustible supply ready at hand. Dr. Waldo L. Semon explained. Dr. Semon is the director of the Goodrich laboratories and with his assistants discovered the process of making "Ameripol." The basic raw material is ordinary petroleum, he said. By a cracking process this is broken down to a mixture of molecules, from which a gas is extracted. Putting the gas under pressure gives a substance known as "butadiene."

Anyone can do it. After you've got your butadiene you mix it with ingredients obtained from natural gas and air, add soap and you have a milky emulsion. Heat that and shake it well and the result is something that looks like the latex, or liquid rubber, obtained from rubber trees. It acts like it, too. In fact, for all practical purposes, it is real rubber, readily changed into sheet rubber for converting into tires. It sounds simple, as all new things do after they've once been produced. But the toll and skill and scientific knowledge and money that it took to make this new discovery and prove its worth are just another example of the difficulties pioneers face.

Henry Ford has been trying to develop production of the "wild" rubber of South America. The late Harvey Firestone laid out extensive rubber plantations in West Africa. But from both these sources a perilous sea voyage intervenes before the rubber can get to the United States.

Red Gulls Upset Forest Rangers' Winning Streak

For the first time in two years of Park League competition have the Forest Rangers been defeated. The Red Gulls, in their season opener last Friday afternoon, turned the tables on the Elliot coached nine to win, 7-6.

The Rangers were first to score, picking up four runs in the first, while the Gulls went scoreless. In the second frame the Gulls were not able to get a man safely across while the Rangers tagged the ball for two more runs, bringing their total to 6, Peloguin, despite an injured wrist, took over the pitching duties for Mr. Tucker's team.

"New Moon" At The Colonial

An orchid a day was the rule on the set of "New Moon," co-starring Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy and opening Sunday at the Colonial Theatre, Portsmouth, for an engagement of three days. The orchids were supplied by Mary Boland who, it was discovered, was an orchid fancier with more than fifty different varieties of the blooms growing the the specially constructed hothouse adjacent to her home. Unusually warm weather caused the plants to bloom out of season which meant that each day Miss Boland was able to bring blooms to the set for ornaments in dressing rooms.

"New Moon," a musical romance of the 1780's transpires in the romantic surroundings of New Orleans during Mardi Gras. There are thrilling scenes on the high seas and an exciting sequence on a tropical island where Nelson Eddy sets up a republic following a shipwreck.

Alison Skipworth At Farragut

Undoubtedly the most important event in the six year history of the Farragut Players will take place at the Farragut Playhouse in Rye Beach, N.H., next Tuesday evening, July 9, for it is on that date that the Farragut Players will present Alison Skipworth in person in Edgar Wallace's mystery thriller "Criminal at Large". Just how important it is may be gathered from the fact that it marks the first time in New Hampshire summer history that a prominent motion picture star has appeared on a local stage.

Miss Skipworth hardly needs be introduced to local audiences. During her eight year stay in Hollywood she appeared in an even hundred moving pictures, some of the best known being "Hitchhike Lady", "Old Ironsides" and "The Gorgeous Hussey". Last fall Miss Skipworth left the coast to return to Broadway where she enjoyed a successful run in Priestley's "When We Were Married", a popular comedy. Her appearance with Farragut Players the week of July 9 will be her only appearance in New Hampshire this summer.

Supporting Miss Skipworth in "Criminal at Large" will be two well known actors brought on specially from New York for this production—William Rorick, who was seen in Boston with Eddie Dowling in "Our Town", and Len Mence. Members of the resident Farragut company who will take important roles in the supporting cast include Anne Burr, a descendant of Aaron Burr, Sr., on one side, and Elder William Brewster on the other, who has achieved great prominence on the radio in New York. Art Smith, one of the original members, and in the opinion of many people the best actor in New York's famous Group Theatre, Walter Coy, another Group Theatre product now in his third season with the Farragut Players; and Lauren Gilbert, a popular favorite locally for the past five seasons.

This outstanding production opens Tuesday, July 9, with additional performances every evening through Saturday at 8:30 DST. For the remainder of this week the Farragut Players are presenting Sharon Lynne, also of Hollywood, in "Brief Moment".

"Lone Wolf" At The Arcadia

"The Lone Wolf Meets A Lady," Columbia's newest addition to the thrilling Lone Wolf series, is due to open Sunday at the Arcadia Theatre with Warren William Theatre with Warren William again portraying the light-fingered, light-hearted rogue. Jean Muir is the lady in the case and supplies the romantic touch without which no adventure of the debonair adventurer, who laughs at love and locksmiths, would be complete. A $100,000 diamond necklace is the prize as the Lone Wolf solves a double murder, frustrates a gang of desperate jewel thieves and rescues a distressed damsel in a whirl of reckless action. Eric Blore, Victor Jory, Warren Hull and Roger Pryor head the supporting cast which was directed by Sidney Salchow.

Open Air Theatre Open For Season

The Salisbury Open-Air Auto theatre opened Wednesday night for its second season, under a new management.

The theatre is located on Route 1-A between Salisbury square and Salisbury Beach. It is one of the finest plants of its kind in the country with accommodations for 1000 automobiles. Visibility is perfect from any part of the theatre whether in the front or back seat of a car. The finest in sound has been installed in combination with a new mammoth screen. A continuous policy, from dusk until midnight, will prevail throughout the season. Patrons can go in as late as 10:15 o'clock and see a complete show.

The opening attraction will be "Reefer Madness," a startling expose of the Marijuana weed and its menace to modern youth. The co-feature will be "Vivacious Lady," with Ginger Rogers. There will also be selected short subjects.

"What A Life" At Kennebunkport

"What A Life", the hilarious comedy of high school life that rocketed Broadway with laughter for nine months and then became one of the hit movies of 1940, will be presented by The Garrick Players at the New Kennebunkport Playhouse, Kennebunkport, Maine, for a week beginning Tuesday, July 9. The second production in The Garrick Players' 1940 season, the Clifford Goldsmith comedy, will feature Kenneth Forbes and Jean Welch in the leading roles, "Henry Aldrich" and "Barbara Pearson". Erford Gage, outstanding young Broadway director, is staging "What A Life" and sets were designed by Leslie Allen Jones, well known author and teacher of stagecraft.

Maine theatre-goers who attended the opening week of the New Kennebunkport Playhouse, to see The Garrick Players in "Tovarich", discovered a theatre whose charm and comfort cannot be equalled anywhere. Boasting the most comfortable seats in any summer theatre, Robert C. Currier's playhouse has been decorated throughout in authentic Maine style. Paneled walls, old maple and pine furniture and rare furnishings in the spacious, home-like lounge are but a few of the unique features of the Playhouse in Maine's old literary colony.

Supporting Mr. Forbes and Miss Welch, who play the parts made famous by Ezra Stone and Betty Field, is a professional Broadway company that is now celebrating its tenth season as The Garrick Players.

Irene Dunne At The Ioka

The hilarious complications which arise when a supposedly long-dead wife suddenly confronts her husband on the night of his honeymoon with his beautiful second spouse provides the riotous basis of the Irene Dunne-Cary Grant starrer, "My Favorite Wife," which comes to the Ioka Theatre Sunday and Monday.

It is a gay sophisticated romantic comedy in which these Hollywood luminaries hit a stride which should carry them to top comedy award for the year. How the quartet of bewildered people manages to extricate themselves from the dilemma leads to the laugh-laden climax of this sparkling romantic comedy.

First Aid "My wife is cooking her first dinner today. Will you come to dinner?" "Certainly. I have always shared your troubles."

All-Stars Defeat Amesbury 4-1

The All Stars atoned for their defeat at the hands of Amesbury Sacred Heart last week by winning 4-1 Saturday afternoon before a handful of spectators.

Hampton's four runs came in the third when Dennett walked, went to second on a balk, Hutton reached on an error and Vern went to third. Bogret flied out to short-stop. Brown walked and Kelsey went out, second to first, as Dennett scored. White, with the first two bases occupied, knocked a home run into right field.

In the fourth the visitors scored one run on an error, a base on balls and a single.

Saturday they play another good team and hope more good fans will be on hand.

"Rebecca" At The Olympia

A motion picture masterpiece—that's what everyone says after seeing the film version of Daphne du Marier's best selling novel, "Rebecca," which comes to the Olympia Theatre in Portsmouth on next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, July 7th, 8th, and 9th. Produced by David O. Selznick, who made "Gone With the Wind," co-starring Laurence Olivier, hero or "Wuthering Heights," and beautiful Joan Fontaine in her sensational starring debut, "Rebecca" brings to the screen the truly brilliant drama of an unforgettable woman. Those who loved the book will live the picture which has been produced with equal faithfulness to the text and the spirit of the great novel upon which it is based. Without doubt one of the motion pictures that should be on everyone's "must" list, "Rebecca" will be presented at 6:00 P. M. and 9:30 P. M. Sunday, and on Monday and Tuesday "Rebecca" will be shown three times daily at 2:35, 6:00 and 9:30 P. M.

WHO WAS HERMANN BOERHAAVE?

How could modern science have saved Richard the Lion-Hearted?

WHAT IS THE LARYNGOSCOPE?

1. (1668-1738) He was the leading physician of the age and was principally remembered as a teacher and especially as a surgical chemist. Out of a desire to see the vocal cords in action Manuel Garcia, a Spanish singing teacher, living in London, invented the laryngoscope in 1852. He used a dentist's mirror and a lens. Today it is an instrument for exposing and examining the larynx, by making the passage from the mouth to the larynx a straight line. 3. King Richard died at the age of 42 from gangrene, following bad surgery. To extract the barb of a spear which had penetrated his shoulder proved beyond the ability of his surgeon. At that time nothing was known of antiseptics, and so after ten days gangrene set in. Then, a skillful surgeon might have saved the king by amputation of his arm. This was not attempted and a few days later he died.

Off Balance

Jones (dismally): "Yes, I had a balance in the bank not long ago, but since I became engaged it has all gone."

Friend: "Expensive Game, eh? Never mind, love makes the world go round, you know."

Jones: "Perhaps, but I never thought it would go round fast enough to make me lose my balance."

The Diff

"Dad, what is inertia?"
"Well, if I have it, it's pure laziness, but if your mother has it, it's nervous prostration."

Like This

"The most foolish persons are those who answer everything with a question."
"Oh, do you think so?"

Necessary

Two actors who were jealous of each other met in a hotel. They exchanged frigid nods.

"How are you getting along?" asked one presently.

"Pretty well," replied the other. "Still keeping alive!"
The first man eyed his rival steadily for a second and then asked casually: "What's your motive?"

Multiples

"Tell me at once, doctor, is it 'him' or 'her'?"
"It's a 'them'."

Clever Gal

"How did you get that bump?"
"My wife threw a vase at me."
"Why on earth didn't you duck?"
"I did, but she allowed for it."

It's Out Again

He: "Women can never keep a secret."
She: "Yes, they can. I have kept my age a secret ever since I was 25."

He: "But one day you will let it out."
She: "No; if I can keep a secret eight years, I can go on keeping it."

Watch Out

When a girl calls a man "Jamb," it means she's going to pull the wool over his eyes.

The Combat
"Did your wife catch a cold in the mountains? She is quite hoarse."
"No—she wanted to outdo the echo."

Like This

First Recruit: "Some achieve greatness; others have greatness thrust upon them."
Second Recruit: "You're telling me. I'm wearing army shoes, too!"

Spell It

Telephoner—Long distance? I want to place a call to Damariscotta, Maine.

Operator—How do you spell that, please?

Telephoner—Shucks, lady, if I could spell it, I'd write.

Ears to Hear With

"I wish you would shave that mustache off, John. You look like Hitler."

"Don't worry, dear. The neighbors know I'm no dictator."

No Miracle, Either

Judge—So you tried to drive by the officer after he blew his whistle.
Plaintiff—Your honor, I'm deaf.
Judge—That may be true, but you'll get your hearing in the morning.

Wouldn't Help
"Those slugs have eaten all my radishes!"
"Why not put down some salt?"
"Certainly not! If they can't eat 'em without salt, they can go without!"

Just Sleepy

"I've never seen your wonderful eyes so dreamy before, darling!" he murmured romantically.
"You've never stayed so late before," she replied with a yawn.

Pretty Soft

"Father was very pleased when I told him you were a poet."
"Oh, I'm glad to hear that."
"Yes, the last of my boys he tried to throw out was an amateur boxer."

COLD WEATHER — (Continued from Page One)

Fire Department who was seriously hurt of five burned by firecracker explosions, all treated at the beach first aid room.

Authorities said the Fellows boy was swinging a slow match he held in his hand and it accidentally ignited the fuse of one of 60 firecrackers he had in a hip pocket

Pedestrian Hurt

Charles Donovan, 34, of 15 Bow street, Exeter, pianist with an orchestra playing at a Salisbury, Mass., restaurant, suffered a broken leg and badly lacerated right hand when he reportedly walked into the path of a car on the Ocean boulevard at Hampton Beach early yesterday morning.

First aid was administered at the scene by Mrs. Ruby Paterson, R. N., of the beach first aid station, who then rushed Donovan to the Exeter hospital with the help of a motorist. Police Chief Jerome F. Harkness exonerated the driver, Vity Kriagids of Worcester, Mass., after investigating.

Beach Items

A party of 50 MIT graduates from Boston, Mass., enjoyed a banquet at the Ashworth Hotel Sunday at 1:30 o'clock.

Word has been received here of the death of Miss Mary Ashworth at Des Moines, Iowa, whose serious illness resulted in the calling of her brother, Col. George Ashworth of Hampton Beach there. Col. Ashworth will return home following the funeral service.

Thursday was the 35th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lorenz of Hampton Beach and although the day was quietly observed by them, due to the recent death of Mrs. Lorenz' mother, Mrs. Lydia S. Brand, the couple received many gifts, cards and letters of congratulations from their friends.

Miss Denise Hilliard of Haverhill, Mass., is again this season assisting at the information booth of the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce.

There were 23 members of the Lowell, Mass., Women's Research club present at the outing held at Hampton Beach Wednesday afternoon.

Fifty employees of the Lawrence, Mass., office of the John Hancock Life Insurance Co. came to Hampton Beach for their annual outing Wednesday afternoon. They enjoyed a shore dinner, after which, sports, including a baseball game, quits and races, were enjoyed on the grounds in the rear of the Casino building.

Surfman Joseph Messier of the Hampton Coast Guard station, who was on leave of absence, resumed his duties on July 4. That day Surfman Allan F. Hanscom of North Hampton went on leave.

Salvation Army Opens Local Drive

The annual Maintenance Appeal for the Salvation Army opened today in Hampton, North Hampton, Hampton Beach and Little Boar's Head. A quota of $500 is being sought for in this district.

Arthur L. Penniman of Hampton is serving as chairman for the fund appeal while Dean B. Merrill of the Hampton Cooperative Bank is treasurer and will receive and deposit all money. The following are also serving on the committee: William Brown, Hampton; Dr. Harold Pierson, Hampton; O. J. Seamon, Hampton; Edward S. Seavey, Jr., Hampton; Mrs. Ray Merriman, North Hampton; Paul Hobbs, North Hampton; Forrest Knowles, North Hampton; Mrs. Henry Perry, Little Boar's Head; Col. George Ashworth, Hampton Beach; and Fred Lorenz, Hampton Beach.

A portion of the money raised in the Hamptons will be left in Hampton to be administered by the local committee while the balance will be used for the general work of the Salvation Army in Portsmouth under the supervision of Captain and Mrs. Clair T. Lowman, local commanding officers.

Sarcastic

"When I die," said Mr. Dobson, "I should like to be cremated."

"That would be just like you—to go away and leave ashes lying about," replied his wife.

The rejected suitor was standing before her, listening to her elaborate explanations of her decision.

"I trust I have made myself quite plain," she said.

He sighed. "It's only fair to give nature the credit for that."

Supreme Court Suspends Recent Water Rate Ruling Established By State P. S. C.

Company To Keep Children's Day Special Rate Accounts

CONCORD, N. H., July 12—Order No. 3766 of the Public Service Commission, establishing new and lower rates for the Hampton Water Works Co., has been suspended by the Supreme Court, pending the company's appeal from the order.

It is specified that, while the old rates will be collected until the case finally is settled, the company must keep special accounts, showing differences between the old rates and the new ones, and must set aside the difference between what is taken under the old rates and what would be received if the new ones actually were in effect.

Money will be deposited with the clerk of the Supreme Court, and will be returned to the company, the new rates are not upheld, or will be distributed to the company's customers, if they are maintained by the Supreme Court.

Girls Cop Honors In Junior Division

The first of the Amateur Auditions to be held at Hampton Beach took place at the band stand at 7 o'clock with a large audience. Phil Moody, lifeguard at Hampton Beach, acted as master of ceremonies, with Ted Wright, who is playing at the beach, as pianist. Prizes in the junior division were awarded as follows: first, Constance J. Hager of Fitchburg, Mass.; second, Peggie Karagian, Manchester; third, Dorothy Raikens, Springfield, Mass. Senior division prize winners were: Fredrick Williams, Boston; second, Fry Loneragan, Lawrence, Mass.; and Paul Lavecy, Albany, N. Y.

"GASLESS" CAR HITS BEACH PEDESTRIAN

An automobile supposedly without gas and manipulated by a licensee operator chased a pedestrian up onto the sidewalk Wednesday afternoon and ran over him.

William Egan, 42, of 143 Doyle street, Providence, was taken to the Exeter hospital with several broken ribs after he had been run over by the car driven by Miss Virginia Mahan, 167 Pleasant street, Worcester. She had been given her first lesson in driving by David Cahill, 211A Farnahan street, Lawrence, with a borrowed car and the gas supply apparently became exhausted. Cahill pushed the machine into a parking space and left to secure some gas. After he had gone Miss Mahan attempted to start the engine and lost control of the auto, jamming it between a popcorn stand and a hydrant with the pedestrian underneath. The accident is being investigated by Chief Jerome F. Harkness and State Police.

Stress Need For Seawall Repairs

The immediate need of a new seawall along the center of Hampton Beach was stressed Tuesday night at a joint meeting of the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce and the Beach Property Owners Protective association in the community hall.

The fear was expressed that erosion would permanently damage the beach unless the wall, which was washed out in the storm last April, is replaced. At that time a large section of sidewalk and parking area was washed away and the police station and comfort station were threatened.

A membership drive was approved by the group.

Beach Items

The two-day convention of the state Board of Health will be held next Monday and Tuesday at the Hotel Ashworth.

Plans are also underway for the entertainment of several hundred orphans from Manchester at the state bathhouse reservation.

Ideal Weather Brings Near Record Week-end Crowd With Many Enjoyable Outings

Estimate 100,000 Persons At Beach Sunday Afternoon

Sunday saw one of the largest crowds at Hampton Beach in its history. It was estimated there were more than 100,000 visitors here for the day to enjoy the various attractions and band concerts by the Hampton Beach band, under the direction of Maj. Everett A. Moses, both afternoon and evening. The crowd exceeded that of July 4th, when it was roughly estimated there were 75,000 here.

There were many family parties arriving constantly throughout the day and the beach was almost entirely covered by bathers.

Many minor cases of cuts and bruises were treated at the first aid room by Mrs. Ruby Patterson, R. N., and her assistant, Mrs. Sarah Coffin, Saturday and Sunday.

The most seriously hurt was Frank Allen, 20, of 219 Prospect Street, Lawrence, Mass., who while engaged in chopping up an old refrigerator at his summer home near Great Boar's Head, severely cut his right index finger, fracturing the bone, and cutting some of the tendons, when his axe rebounded. He was taken to the comfort station about 2:30 o'clock Sunday where he was given first aid by Mrs. Patterson, with Dr. C. Brickett Bailey of Hampton summoned and after treating him, the injured man was ordered to be sent to the Lawrence General hospital. The finger was cut near the first joint.

Several cases were also treated at the first aid room at the state bathhouse over the week-end for cuts and bruises.

About 50 members of St. George Greek Orthodox Church parish of Manchester were present at their annual outing held at the state bathhouse Sunday morning with beach sports and bathing enjoyed on the grounds, where lunch was eaten before their return later on in the early afternoon.

Many Outings Held At Beach Recently

The women proved to be more proficient spellers than the men at the spelling bee held as part of the day's festivities for 84 employees of the United Life and Accident Insurance company of Concord at the Hotel Ashworth in observance of the company's 26th anniversary.

The winning team was composed of Catherine Simpson, Marie McDonald, Jean Kellogg, Mable Shapleigh and Bertha Merrill. On the losing team were Howard Ring, Dean Thomas, Edgar Rines, George Clark and Harry Barrett.

President Speaks
At the banquet, Warren E. Cutting, chairman of the outing committee, was master of ceremonies. Remarks were made by John G. Hanna, president of the company, and an entertainment was presented by Walter Richardson of Dover.

Transportation was in charge of Aldo Madisen, George Clark and Mable Shapleigh. Program arrangements were made by Miss Simpson, Margaret Gavaghan and Warren Cutting. On the souvenir committee were John Cassidy, Dean Thomas and Helen Young, while the attendance committee was com-
