Over 100,000 At Beach For Second Consecutive Week

Another pleasant week-end brought record breaking crowds to Hampton Beach again Sunday. Highways were jammed giving ample evidence that additional means of reaching and leaving the beach by auto are urgently needed. It was estimated that over 100,000 persons flocked to the beach, cars filling every parking space from one extremity to the other.

Only one serious accident was reported but Mrs. Ruby Patterson, R. N., in charge of the first aid station reported a steady flow of patients for minor injuries.

One of the more serious of these was suffered by Joseph Leonard of Worcester, Mass., who was hit in the face by a ball. His sunglasses were broken and a piece of glass entered his eye.

Theresa McLaughlin of Dorchester, Mass., was hit in the eye by a stone and was ordered to the Boston Eye and Ear Infirmary after treatment at the beach.

With Hampton Beach jammed by visitors, other sections of the New Hampshire waterfront also came in for their share of attention and the entire stretch from the Massachusetts line to the Piscataqua river was crowded.

Walter F. Eagan, Providence, R. I., succumbed Saturday at the Exeter hospital to injuries received July 10 when he was struck by a car that had been believed out of gas. Chief of Police Jerome F. Harkness said today that Miss Virginia Mahan, driver of the car that fatally injured Eagan, would face a charge of driving without a license in Municipal Court, Saturday morning.

Five persons were taken to the Portsmouth and Exeter hospitals as the result of a collision late Saturday between cars operated, police said, by Alexander J. Morse, proprietor of the Malcolm hotel at the beach, and Eugene Hiltz of Lowell, Mass. The Morse car, in which the hotel man was alone, was lifted several feet over both the sidewalk and an iron fence.

Morse suffered a head injury and cuts on the left arm and hand that required 23 sutures. He and two passengers in the other car, Miss Margaret Boulet, 21, of Lowell, and George P. Desmarais of Chelmsford, Mass., were taken to the Portsmouth hospital, where they were held overnight. Miss Dorothy Jackson of Lowell and Hiltz were treated at the Exeter hospital.

Richard Arlen Voices Choice for "Salad Celebrity Week"

Popular Richard Arlen

THROUGHOUT the town, food merchants are featuring "Salad Celebrity Week" and their stores are literally loaded with salad-time menu suggestions.

To commemorate the occasion, many movie celebrities were asked their favorite salads. Among them is Richard Arlen, starring in the new Universal production "Hot Steel," who says, "Good old chicken salad is what I go for—but I like it prepared this way—"

Here's his favorite recipe:

- Favorite Chicken Salad
- 4 cups diced chicken
 - 3 cups diced celery
 - 2 diced oranges, free from membrane
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 to 1 1/2 cups Hellmann's real mayonnaise
 - 5 cups finely shredded red cabbage
 - Pimiento strips
 - Watercress
- Lightly toss together chicken, celery, orange, seasonings and real mayonnaise. Arrange cabbage in salad bowl or on chop plate or platter. Heap the chicken mixture in the center and top with additional real mayonnaise. Garnish with pimiento strips and watercress. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

U. S. Army Officials Investigate Fatal Crash

Nearly 1,000 Boy Scouts Stage Big Parade At Beach Friday

Breaking camp after five days at the Camp Ashworth camporee on the state bathhouse reservation, 550 Boy Scouts from 48 troops in the Daniel Webster council departed for home Sunday afternoon after entertaining their families at dinner.

The boys of Troop 176 from Dover established a camp record in barbecuing 50 pounds of turkey to feed 60 parents at the campsite. This troop, which was presented the greatest number of awards at the court of honor held Friday and Saturday nights, was the first troop to arrive at the encampment Monday and the last to leave Sunday evening. The 34 scouts in attendance during that time made the troop the third largest at the camporee. Troop 200 from Newmarket with 42 Scouts was the largest and Derry second with 36 Scouts.

Parade Friday
At the final safety monitor drill Sunday morning Kenneth H. Hodgdon, field scout executive, awarded certificates and World's Fair pins to Elliot Noyes, John and Robert Cushing of Troop 177, Hampton; Frederick Gowen and Richard Kinburg of Troop 185, Stratham; Vernon Webb of Troop 180, Dover; Orville Gauthier, scoutmaster of the Hampton troop, and Roland Hinkley of Portsmouth, who was camp chief of the camporee.

With flags fluttering in the ocean breeze, trumpets blaring and spectators cheering, nearly 1,000 Boy Scouts, Sea Scouts and Cubs marched along the boulevard Friday afternoon.

Climaxing the parade was the presentation of a life membership to Col. George "Daddy" Ashworth in appreciation of his "generosity and whole-hearted cooperation." The presentation was made on the bandstand by Scout Executive Hillard Holbrook after the massed scouts had renewed their oath of allegiance to the flag and repeated their scout oath led by William T. Call, chairman of the Manchester district commission and a member of the executive board of the council.

Roland Hinkley of Portsmouth was parade marshal with Duncan Cameron, scoutmaster of Troop 98 in Derry, and Clyde Whitehouse, (Continued on Page Five)

Seacoast Groups Confer With State Planning Officials

Members of four committees of the Seacoast Regional Development Association met with state officials at the Hotel Rockingham Monday to discuss plans for a general regional development program for the future of this area.

Members of the committee on natural resources, land use and population, the committee on highways and transportation; the committee on marking and maintenance of scenic, historic and other sites and the committee on planned development and recreation were present for conference with Frederick P. Clark, director of the state planning division and his assistants, Charles Blessing, Sulo Tani and Edward Wing and with Russell B. Tobey, director of recreation of the forestry and recreation department.

These and other committees of the seacoast association are collecting information and mapping tentative programs for development of their particular fields.

To Coordinate Whole
Each of these committees in turn will report and their collective findings will be correlated by the association's committee for coordination of community planning.

Development of such a long range plan is intended to give the Seacoast Regional Development Association a definite plan or platform for the future by which it can state its aims and work for them with a definite goal in sight, and also a plan whereby when major developments of any nature in the future are projected they will be provided for beforehand. By this it is hoped that all questions of what might be best for the various communities affected will be answered before the project comes up for discussion. In this way the region will be in a position to avail itself immediately of any opportunity to better its assets.

Given Maps
In connection with the work each committee has already been provided by the state planning director with a map of the region with

Silver Ship Plunges Into Marsh After Striking Wires And Grazing Cottage Roof

An investigation by Army officials is underway today of the fatal plane crash Tuesday afternoon which took the life of Second Lieut. Raoul J. Bourgois, 25, of Frenchville, Me., attached to the 36th Pursuit Squadron at Langley Field, Va.

Three Rescued At Beach Sunday

Ignoring the warnings of signs and patrols, Roy Mather, a member of a Portsmouth Boy Scout troop, Raymond Insini of Marlboro, Mass., and Miss Marion Newman, a Red Cross nurse of Marlboro, were nearly drowned Sunday about 1 o'clock while swimming offshore at Hampton Beach.

The trio were washed up against the tip of the north jetty, but managed to cling to the rocks until help came. Boy Scouts went to the aid of their comrade and brought him to shore, meanwhile signaling to Lifeguard Jask Ormiston of Dover, who was on duty in that section of the beach. Miss Newman was rescued by Kenneth Creighton, teacher-coach at Hopkinton, who noticed her struggling in the current. Insini was brought to shore by Ormiston and all were given first aid at the State bathhouse, attended by Mrs. Mary Farmer, R.N. of Manchester.

Mather later returned to his troop at Camp Ashworth. Bathers have disregarded the several warnings issued at this dangerous spot for the past season and a regular patrol has since been stationed there.

its particular departments marked. At the meeting Monday the state representatives presented to the committees tentative programs for their study and development in working out their reports to be submitted later.

Members of the committees agreed also to visit Concord later to confer again with state officials. (Continued on Page Eight)

Flying low because of a heavy fog, the pilot, apparently seeking to get his bearings after circling out to sea, attempted to cross the Ocean boulevard midway between the North Shore hotel and Great Boar's Head when the undercarriage of the fast, light fighting ship struck electric wires.

Wing Grazes Roof
The big silver ship then careened toward a cottage, one wing grazing the roof, winged over and went into a sidslip that carried it about half a mile further before it plunged into the marshland.

Army officials are conducting an investigation into the cause of the crash while the young officer's body was removed to Boston from the Portsmouth Navy Yard, where it had first been taken.

The young officer spent some of his holiday fishing in Caribou lake to take back some of its denizens for his friends at the Virginia station.

Have You Heard?

By The Gadabouts

Have You Heard?
Any complaints about the weather? At least the occasional sea breezes are a relief to those who come from the cities where the mercury hit 100 during the past week.

Have You Heard?
How long it takes for a crowd to gather at the scene of an accident? Within a half hour of the fatal plane crash Tuesday the highway was almost blocked with cars that came from everywhere.

Have You Heard?
How many pairs of white shoes and trousers were ruined by marsh mud? One thing about the curiosity seeker, he never lets a little thing like sloshing through the marsh deter him.

Have You Heard?
That even the Chief can't have a day off?

Have You Heard?
That new cabins with curved roofs are being built on the beach? This is indeed a new wrinkle in cabin architecture and quite an ovation.

Have You Heard?
That a certain young blade is so, so much in love that osculations right in front of the police station are not out of order?

Have You Heard?
That saddle horses are becoming almost as popular as bicycles?

Have You Heard?
That following the plane accident Tuesday one enterprising lady gathered up all the wooden toys on her lawn? We wonder if she was afraid of "looting".

Have You Heard?
That one lady thought it was an "air raid"? Just why the enemy should pick on our beach for its first blitzkrieg is more than we can guess.

Have You Heard?
That Cliff really found his blonde last Wednesday? In fact she had a sister and so a merry time was had until the wee morning hours.

Have You Heard?
That a certain young man should be a little more modest and lower the shades while undressing?

Have You Heard?
That Albert Klasoskus, well-known fullback on the Holy Cross football squad last season, was a recent guest at Cutler's Seaview House?

Have You Heard?
That the indomitable Arnold B. is giving the fems a chance to recuperate while he has a fling at influenza? Tough time to be sick, isn't it pal?

Have You Heard?
That the men's softball league is drawing big crowds up at Tuck Athletic Field? You fans should get a load of Fire Chief Lamott, Al Corning, Vic Grandmason and many others in action. Are they good? Wow!

Have You Heard?
That Bob Pooley's singing school at the bandstand Sunday evenings are very popular? Here's a chance for even the monotonous to exercise their lungs under an expert singing master.

Have You Heard?
That many autos were seen parked along the ocean front over the week-end with blankets covering the windows and occupants changing their clothes? There is an ordinance against this sort of nuisance, which certainly doesn't add to the attractiveness of any resort and the practice should be stopped.

Have You Heard?
Who the rabid beano players are on the beach? It is reported that certain young ladies and older ladies go over the bridge quite frequently.

Have You Heard?
About the halibut that was caught off shore recently from the skiff of Capt. Claude Gilmore? Proving it is true that halibut travel in pairs, there will probably be many devotees of the sport out angling for its mate.

Have You Heard?
That the beach is going to the dogs? This is literally so as the second annual dog show at the beach will be held Aug. 23. Many local entries are expected.

Many Injured In Weekend Accidents

A score of persons were injured in a series of automobile accidents over the weekend when heavy summer traffic was combined with poor weather conditions as showers and fog overspread New England.

In the most unusual of the accidents a car driven by Robert T. Ryan of Malden, Mass., left the road and crashed into a pole while travelling toward Hampton through the marshes between Little River bridge and the Shaw-way. The accident occurred at 1:25 a. m. Monday.

Shortly after Ryan's car left the road an ambulance owned by Hay and Peabody of Portland, Me., and driven by William J. Braiser of Portland happened along. Braiser and his passenger in the ambulance, Carl Stilthen, also of Portland, had just placed the injured Ryan in the ambulance when two other cars collided nearby and one of them driven by Richard Allen of Kittery crashed into the rear of the ambulance.

The Allen car had hit one driven by John Dube of Haverhill, Mass., who was on his way to work in Hampton.

AMUSEMENTS

Paul Rose Hero Of Pirates' Victory

The Pirates defeated the Rye aggregation 9-8 on Tuesday morning. Rye opened up the batting attack in the first, scoring two runs. The Elliot Noyes coached Pirates put on the pressure and scored six runs on two hits and several bases on balls added to the visiting team's prestige.

In the second inning Rye picked up another run but in the Pirates' half they picked off three more bringing the total to nine.

The third inning was a good one for Rye as they hammered the Pirates' pitcher for four runs. Continuing to score one in the fourth the Rye nine came within one of tying the Noyesmen who were unable to tally after the second.

"Mortal Storm" At The Ioka

In "The Mortal Storm," which comes to the Ioka Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, film audiences are offered a drama of compelling power enacted with consummate artistry by a brilliant cast headed by Margaret Sullivan, James Stewart, Robert Young and Frank Morgan. The filmization of Phyllis Bottome's gripping and tensely exciting story of a family embittered and broken up as the result of the divided political beliefs of its various members, has brought before the cameras with telling effects by that master of direction, Frank Borzage. Miss Sullivan's skill as a purveyor of emotions is shown to be at its very peak in her role as the daughter of a wronged professor, who must choose between the love of Stewart and Young, both of whom more than measure up to the exacting standards of difficult characterizations. Others offering excellent portrayals include Robert Slack, Bonita Granville and Irene Rich.

"Lost Horizon" At The Arcadia

"Greatest in screen history" is the verdict of the world's critics and the 3,000,000 persons enthralled by the overwhelming drama... the heart-warming romance of Frank Capra's mighty screen masterpiece, "Lost Horizon," opening at the Arcadia Theatre next Sunday. Millions—the world over—have been swept off their feet by its powerful drama and overwhelming beauty during 100 epoch-making roadshow engagements at $2.20 top. These 3,000,000 persons have previewed this great picture—and say it must be seen! By any standard of comparison... "Lost Horizon" will be heralded the greatest motion picture ever made! Ronald Colman stars in the production with Jane Wyatt, Edward Everett Horton, Margo, H. B. Warner and Thomas Mitchell.

Maureen O'Hara At Olympia

Daringly themed... powerfully acted, "A Bill of Divorcement" comes to the Olympia Theatre at Portsmouth on next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Unfolding the heart drama of a girl who dared not marry, though she loved a man more than life itself, "A Bill of Divorcement" is an amazing drama thrillingly played. Heading the great cast of this unusual screen offering are Maureen O'Hara, Herbert Marshall, Adolphe Menjou, Fay Bainter, Dame May Whitty, Patric Knowles and C. Aubrey Smith. The co-attraction on the Olympia's Sunday, Monday and Tuesday bill is "Till We Meet Again," which features Merle Oberon, Pat O'Brien, George Brent, Frank McHugh, Geraldine Fitzgerald and Binnie Barnes.

Then What?
"Can you give my daughter the luxuries to which she has been accustomed?" asked Mr. Wilkinson.
"Not much longer," replied the young man. "That's why I want to get married."

"Rain" Opens At Farragut

With but two more performances of "The Walrus and The Carpenter," the new comedy starring Florence Reed which they will present on Broadway next winter, remaining, the Farragut Players in Rye Beach are hard at work on their next production—"Rain," starring Sharon Lynne and Walter Coy, which opens at the Rye Beach playhouse on Tuesday evening, July 30, and continues through Saturday, Aug. 3. Without doubt this promises to be one of the outstanding shows ever offered by the local players, particularly since they have had the good fortune to obtain the services of Edward A. Blatt, well known Broadway producer, and recently with Paramount Pictures as a producer and director, to stage the production. This is the first time that Mr. Blatt has ever consented to stage a summer theatre production, and from watching rehearsals it becomes obvious that he is giving the present show a professional touch that is seldom found in any summer theatre. A featured role in "Rain" will be that taken by Edward Harvey, who this week is playing the Doctor in "The Walrus and The Carpenter." Mr. Harvey came to the Farragut Players after several years in Hollywood during which he was seen in such outstanding productions as "History is Made at Night" and "The Prince and the Pauper." "Rain" marks his final appearance with the Farragut Players this summer prior to leaving to turn out a new play in Suffern, N. Y.

"Maryland" At The Colonial

The romance, beauty and traditions of the proud South, climaxed by the most spectacular Steeplechase in America, The Maryland Hunt Cup Race, are highlights of Darryl F. Zanuck's technicolor production of "Maryland," new 20th Century-Fox picture which comes to the Colonial Theatre starting Sunday. Three leading members of the cast in "Maryland" have been awarded "Oscars." The superb list of prominent players is headed by Walter Brennan, the Academy Award-winning star of "Kentucky." The human, lovable role of the horse trainer in "Maryland" has been called another made-to-order part for him. Fay Bainter, who won an Academy Award for her sterling work in "Jezebel," has another important featured role in the picture. Brenda Joyce and John Payne, as the headstrong young lovers, torn by fierce family pride, share the romantic lead.

Lloyd Allows North Hampton But Four Safeties

Roger Shaw held a solo field day last evening when he singled four times in a row to lead the Rangers in a 12-5 victory. The Rangers opened with three runs in the first as a result of a base on balls to E. Lloyd followed by a single by Palmer and Shaw. Two errors and a passed ball accounted for the extra run. A hit, base on balls, a fielder's choice and a pass ball allowed two runs to score for the North Hampton nine. Turning on the heat the Rangers continued to mow them down in the succeeding innings until finally they won 12-5. Easily the outstanding event of the game was Murphy's double in the third inning and shows that the youngster may become another Jimmy Fox or Babe Ruth yet.

Dover Sea Scout skipper, as his aides. The largest troop in the procession was Troop 200 of Newmarket, sponsored by St. Mary's Catholic Church and headed by Rev. J. Desmond O'Connor and his assistant, John Barry. The troops coming from the longest distance were Troop 190 of Milton Mills, which is a new troop sponsored by the Baptist church, and Troop 192 of Madison, sponsored by the high school, with Thomas Jones in charge. Another new troop was that from Fremont, which headed the line of march behind the massed flags. Richard Colby was in charge of this troop, which was sponsored by the Methodist church. The highest honor in scouting, the Eagle badge, was presented to three youths from Troop 176, Dover—Earl Clark, William Chenevert and Donald McAtavay, and to William Crowley of the Newmarket troop at the Court of Honor held at the evening campfire. Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, with Bernard Paul as scoutmaster, the Dover troop won the greatest number of awards of any of the troops in the council. Life awards, the second highest rank, were presented to John Carroll, Walter Kelley, Lawrence Hughes, Arthur Leary and John McCann, all of Troop 176. Two others, Robert Booth and Roland Hemon, were made star scouts, while Francis Chenevert, Arthur Grenier and Norman Richards were promoted to the rank of first-class scouts. Those in Troop 176 made second-class scouts were Owen Calaghan, Leon Carroll, William Dickinson, Joseph Haley, Robert Hanratty and John Woods. It was announced by John W. Hopley of Portsmouth, who was master of ceremonies for the parade and patriotic exercises, that the Daniel Webster council now numbers 4,975 Scouts, Cubs and Sea Scouts, 2,218 Scouters and 224 Scout units. The registration for beach encampment was 536 scouts from 41 troops.

Saddle Horses Proving Popular

Added to the long list of recreational facilities on the beach is horseback riding which is becoming very popular this season. Many persons find this form of exercise very beneficial and are taking advantage of the fact that fine saddle horses may now be rented at Cutler's Sea View House at a reasonable price. For an eye-opener in the morning many advocate a dip in the ocean followed by a long canter, which doesn't sound a bit bad.

Have You Heard?
That practically every vacant lot on the beach has now been turned into a parking space? Prices range from 10c up (mostly up) with no extra charge if you get stuck in the sand.

Batch Of Smiles

Wrong Kind

"I have such an indulgent husband," said Mrs. Doll. "Yes, so George says," replied Mrs. Spiteful. "Sometimes indulges too much, doesn't he?"

Too Willing

The fellow stepped up to the door. He knocked and the door was opened by a beautiful blonde. "May I speak to your husband for a moment?" asked the fellow.

"I'm sorry," she said, "but my husband is away on business. He won't be back for at least a fortnight."

The fellow pondered. "That's all right," he murmured. "I'll wait."

Did He Jump

It was his first shore leave since war started, and the last boat was pulling away as he reached the quayside.

He took a running jump and landed in the boat, but was dazed by hitting his head.

The shore was 200 yards away when he looked up.

The dazed look gave way to one of pride.

"Boys," he murmured. "Can I jump!"

A Real Slip

"Did you hear that when old Robinson returned from abroad he fell on his face and kissed the ground of his native town?"

"Emotion?"

"No—banana skin."

Accident

"I ran across old Jones yesterday," remarked the first motorist. "Really?" replied the second.

"How was he looking?"

"He wasn't—that's why I ran across him."

LAFAYETTE ROAD HAMPTON CENTER

Seacoast Music Festival To Feature American Music

American music will be featured on the program presented by the New Hampshire Youth Orchestra at the two concerts of the Seacoast Music Festival to be held July 27 and 28 at Little Boar's Head.

New Hampshire's own MacDowell will be represented by his "Suite No. 2" which was first performed in 1896 by the Boston Symphony Orchestra. It is of particular interest that Mrs. Edward MacDowell is deeply interested in the Youth Orchestra, and has loaned the score for the orchestral parts of the suite from her private collection for this performance.

The native melodies used in "Two Indian Dances" composed by Charles Sanford Skilton, a New Englander, were supplied to the composer by Mr. R. R. De Poe, chief of the Rogue River Tribe in Oregon. The original instrumental setting of the dances was for a string quartet, but during the summer of 1916 the composer, at the MacDowell colony in Peterborough, scored them for grand orchestra.

Another American composition to be played is "Saturday Night," an amusing fantasy characteristic of an American barn dance. It was composed by Robert L. Sanders, who received a master of music degree from Bush Conservatory at the age of 19 and later won the much coveted fellowship at the American Academy in Rome. Mr. Sanders has served as assistant conductor of the Chicago Civic Orchestra and during the past few years has been active as a guest conductor with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

One of the most ambitious numbers on Sunday's program will be the second movement from Howard Hanson's "Third Symphony." Dr. Hanson, talented young American composer who won the Prix de Rome, is director of music at the Eastman School. His "Third Symphony" was featured by the Boston Symphony on Dr. Koussevitsky's American program.

Victor Herbert, with his "American Fantasie," is the fifth American composer to be heard on the program.

The full program presented by the Youth Orchestra, at the Saturday afternoon concert at 4:30 at Little Boar's Head, or in case of rain, at the University Field House in Durham; consists of Mendelssohn's "Italian Symphony," one movement from Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scherzade" and one movement from Hanson's "Third Symphony," Sander's "Saturday Night" and "Finlandia" by Sibelius. The orchestra will be under the leadership of Bjornar Bergethon, its founder and conductor.

The Sunday afternoon's program opens at 5:00 with Wagner's "Rienzi Overture," followed by the first movement of the Franck "Symphony in D Minor," "The Legend" from MacDowell's Indian Suite, the Waltz from Tchaikovsky's "Sleeping Beauty," Grieg's "Heartswounds," Skilton's "Indian Dances" and Herbert's "American Fantasie."

The soloists at the Seacoast Festival will be Glenn Darwin, baritone, and Jean Tennyson, soprano. On Saturday, Mr. Darwin will be heard in airs from Verdi's "Simon Boccanegra" and Bizet's "La Jolie Fille de Perth," accompanied by the orchestra, and in a group of songs accompanied by Ruth Holbrook at the piano. Miss Holbrook, a Dover graduate student in the education department at the University of New Hampshire, has a music degree from Skidmore. She has studied piano with Maurice Hoffman, Jr., and Louis E. Johns at Skidmore and is an accomplished harpist as well.

Sunday, Miss Tennyson will sing "Pace, pace, mio Dio" from Verdi's La Forza del Destino and a song miscellany.

Holding On!

"So you've finished with Gladys?" "I'm not sure. She's a high explosive girl." "High explosive girl?" "Yes, dangerous when dropped!"

The plane was first sighted over the Five Corners in Hampton and followed the Winnacunnet road to the sea, going out over the water before the pilot reversed his course and headed west.

The ship gradually seemed to lose altitude and as it neared the Ocean boulevard its landing gear struck the wires, then the ship swerved and struck the tip of the roof of the Overlook cottage, now owned by Mrs. Henry Goddard of Baltimore, Md.

As the damaged plane continued on, observers on the ground saw wreckage and what looked like the body of a man fall but search failed to disclose any trace of a second victim, and authorities believed Bourgoin was flying alone. The ship is a single seater, although containing a rear compartment in which the flier's personal belongings were found.

Police Chief Jerome F. Harkness, Fire Chief George Lamott and a crew from the beach Coast Guard station under command of Boatswain's Mate Hallie D. Larrabee rushed to the scene of the crash.

The plane, however, had landed almost upside down, and had plowed a 15-foot furrow in the marshy earth, and some difficulty was experienced in extricating the body.

Marines On Guard
An ambulance from the Portsmouth Naval Hospital in charge of Lieut. Comdr. L. M. DeCiccio, M. C., took the body to the Navy Yard while a detachment from the Marine Barracks in command of Capt. F. C. DeSantis was posted on guard at the scene of the crash to keep the wreckage intact until army officials could make arrangements to have the wreckage removed from the marshland. The remains of the craft will be taken to Boston where an examination will be made.

The body was viewed by Dr. Frederick S. Gray of Portsmouth, Rockingham county medical referee, who said death was due to multiple injuries, including a fractured skull.

As news of the accident spread in late afternoon, thousands of curious flocked to the scene in every manner of conveyance and created a traffic jam more serious than on many a Sunday. Chief Harkness had to call in extra town police and state troopers to unsnarl traffic and clear the road for official cars.

NYA Emphasize Mechanics In Youth Training Program

In line with the rapid advance of a national defense program including non-combatant as well as military aspects of preparedness, the NYA in New Hampshire is placing special emphasis on mechanical and machine shop and forge shop training are about to begin on a two-shift schedule in order to reach the maximum number of youth.

Increasing attention is being given to the contribution which can be made by the National Youth Administration in general to the preparation of youth for employment in mechanical and metal trades. Through courses of work experience and related training at the motor mechanics center in Nashua, the aero-mechanics center in Manchester and the machine and forge shop center at Durham, approximately 100 young men are now receiving a basic preparation in those skills required in industrial production lines and there are at present opportunities for more to enroll. In many cases, the training received should lessen by months the adjustment period experienced by these young men seeking employment in factories.

These training centers in New Hampshire operate as part of the resident center program and because each center specializes in only one kind of mechanical training, modern equipment is available for the learning groups. At the Manchester aero-mechanics center, in addition to a sheet metal shop, there are half a dozen airplane engines which are used for instruction.

tion in dismantling and assembly of aircraft structures. At the Nashua automechanics unit, a fully equipped garage contains valve grinders, hydraulic presses and modern motor testing apparatus.

A special opportunity exists at the Durham center where machine and forge shop practice are carried on in the shops of the University of New Hampshire. Approximately 40 more young men will be accepted by the NYA for training here in the next few weeks.

The forge shop contains eighteen forges, two electric welding booths, four acetylene tables, and a steam hammer. In this shop the student receives the practical experience necessary to meet the fundamental requirements of a forge shop. By a set of exercises, the student becomes familiar with the properties of metal, their malleability, ductility, and fusibility. After receiving these, he is instructed in electric and acetylene welding. The machine shop contains various lathes, milling machines, shapers, planers, drills, and grinders.

The students receive instructions and also get experience in turning down pieces of stock, making threads, gears, and parts of machines.

Applications will be received at the NYA office in Room 2, City Hall, Portsmouth, N. H., by Miss Barbara W. Sands, Field Representative.

Police Kept Busy With Accidents

Several accidents occurred in rapid succession late yesterday afternoon which kept the police busy carrying victims to the hospital.

The first occurred at the corner of Mill road and High street, a dangerous intersection, when the car owned and operated by Maurice Kierstead, Exeter road, approaching the corner from the beach, struck the car driven by Mrs. Mattie Pierce, Winnacunnet road, who was driving in a southerly direction.

The force of the impact drove both cars against the telephone pole and gave the occupants a severe shaking up. Kierstead, Mrs. Pierce and a passenger were treated at the scene of the accident by Dr. Wayne P. Bryer and Kierstead was removed to the Exeter hospital in the truck belonging to Willard Emery, Mill road, accompanied by Chief Jerome Harkness and Lt. Cleve Percy of the State Police.

Mrs. Pierce and her passenger received a severe shaking up, while Edward Tobey, High street, a passenger in the Kierstead car, escaped without injury. Returning from the hospital Chief Harkness learned that Hollis Shaw, (Continued on Page Eight)

Man Is Sentenced For Beach Thefts

Theft of two pocketbooks from a house at Hampton Beach Saturday brought a sentence in the house of correction to Garrett A. Mirtha, 23, of the Bronx, N. Y.

Mirtha was a member of a group of magazine salesmen who have been working at the beach recently. Mirtha was arrested by Hampton police after Mrs. Everett Locke of Amesbury, Mass., reported the theft from her house on North Beach Boulevard. The two purses were the property of Mrs. T. H. McKinney of Watertown, Mass., and Mrs. William McKinney of Dorchester, Mass. One contained $2 and the other $4. The women, who are staying at Leavitt's Campground, had left their purses in Mrs. Locke's house.

Mrs. Locke also was out when Mirtha went to the door on a business call. Dr. Leo Nolet, a neighbor, stated that he saw Mirtha approach the house. Finding no one home the young man went in. Nolet added. (Continued on Page Eight)

New Hampshire Shriners will have their day at the beach at the annual Marfa of Bektash temple, to be held during the afternoon and evening of August 3.

Miss Phyllis Morgan, drum major who won first prize at the imperial council in Memphis, Tenn., will participate in the street parade of the Bektash temple drum and bugle corps, the Arab patrols and clowns both at 3 in the afternoon and 7:45 in the evening. Ira Lee Evans of Concord is director of the drum corps.

An amusing feature of the parade will be the unloading of 25 boys from Franklin in clown attire from a single coupe in front of the reviewing stand. On the return of the procession the 25 boys will be packed into the coupe for the rest of the journey.

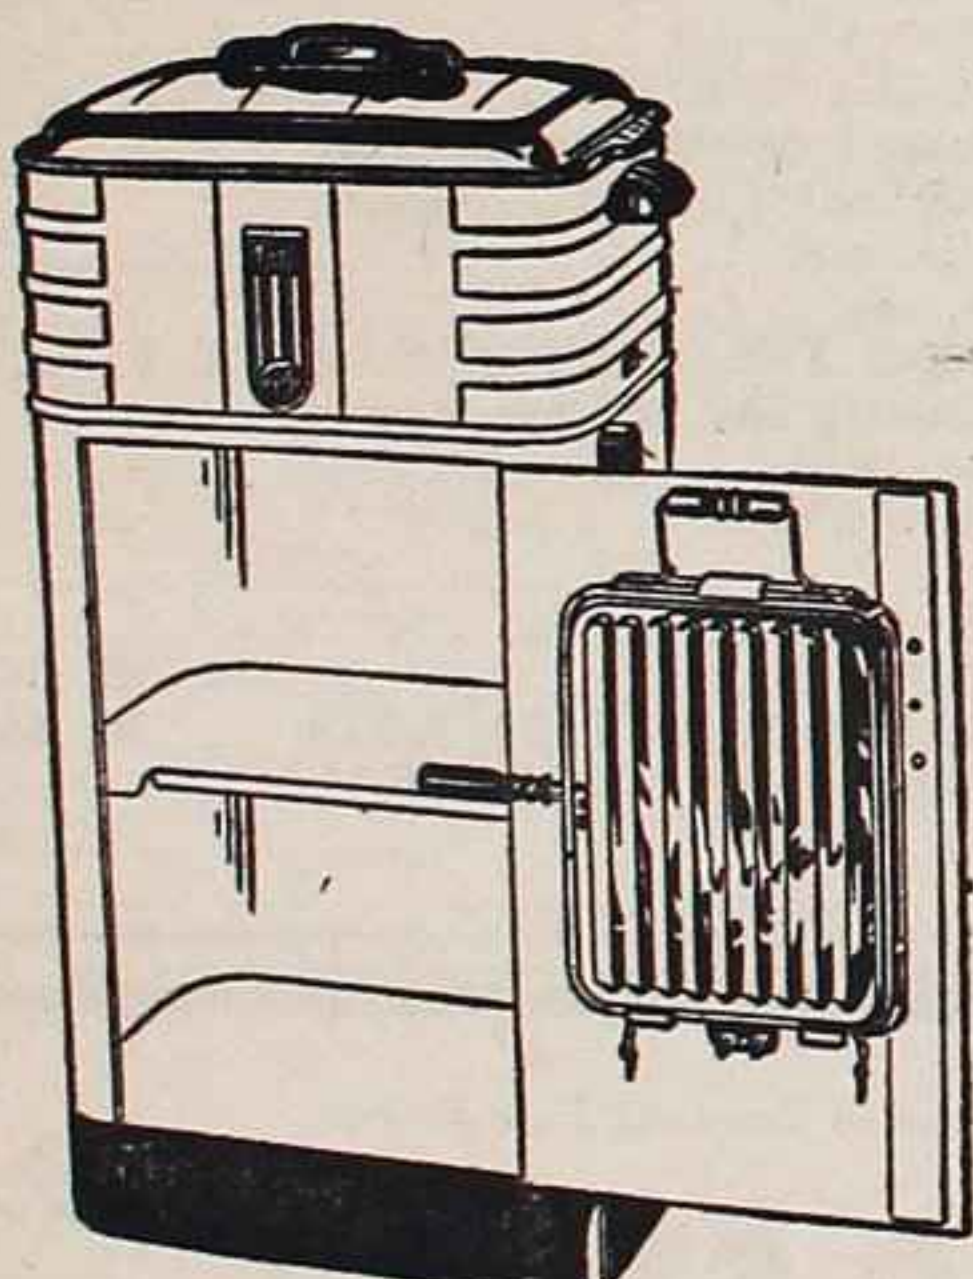

Following the parade a free vaudeville show of circus acts will be presented on the bandstand for all beach visitors through the courtesy of the shriners. This will include the sensational knife throwing act of the Gibsons from the Ringling Bros., Barnum and Bailey circus.
