Boar's Head Group Discusses Problems

The Great Boar's Head Civic association held its first meeting at Boar's Head Inn, Sunday afternoon, July 19. The following items of business were discussed: mosquito spraying, adequate lighting for Cliff avenue, traffic regulation on the head, and erosion.

Mosquito spraying which had been done once, and which members appreciated, was felt to be needed again due to the damp weather.

The lighting on the Cliff avenue side of the Head has not been adequate for a long time, and constitutes a safety as well as a parking nuisance at present.

The traffic and driving speed around the Head is also a safety hazard and the group felt that signs limiting the speed or suggesting caution should be placed at proper places. Merging traffic at the foot of the Head also needs control. The secretary, Mrs. Marion S. Dearborn, was instructed to acquaint town officials, chief of police, and Chamber of Commerce with these problems and ask for help in solving them.

President Alfred T. Grand presided at the meeting. The next meeting of the association will be held at the Boar's Head Inn the last Sunday in August at 6:30 p.m. The annual meeting and election of officers will follow the dinner. Reservations should be made by calling the Inn.

Disabled Cruisers Rescued By CG Boat

The Hampton Beach Coast Guard patrol boat towed two disabled cabin cruisers into Hampton Harbor Sunday after they were spotted from the lookout tower near the Hampton River toll bridge.

The 24-foot cruiser Charline, owned and operated by Charles F. Sanborn of Lynn, Mass., became disabled about 3 p.m. a half mile east of the river mouth when lobster warp got tangled in the propeller. The 30-foot Coast Guard patrol boat towed the disabled craft to the state pier.

About an hour later an 18-foot cruiser, Camp II, was spotted in a disabled condition 100 feet west of the bridge. Owned and operated by Joseph S. Whiteford of Cambridge, Mass., the Camp II had damaged its propeller against rocks while leaving the harbor with two persons aboard. It was towed to the Seabrook side of the harbor by the patrol boat.

The Coast Guard boat was commanded by BMC Patsy Papandrea in both assists. Other crewmen were EN2 Roger Elliot and EN Derek Perry.

Three Bay Staters Join Old Salts Club

Three men have become members of the honorary Hampton Beach Old Salts club since the beginning of the 1959 fishing season.

All three men will be awarded certificates indicating their achievements, felt sleeve patches noting membership in the select club, and billfold membership cards.

Michael Cierra of Woburn, Mass., joined the ranks of Old Salts Monday when he brought in a seven-pound haddock. James F. Keefe Jr. of Cambridge, Mass., caught a 10-pound codfish July 12, and John Doherty of Worcester, Mass., caught an 18-pound codfish July 15, to win them admission to the club.

Specifications for membership are available at the Chamber of Commerce or at either of the deep sea fishing business offices at the harbor.

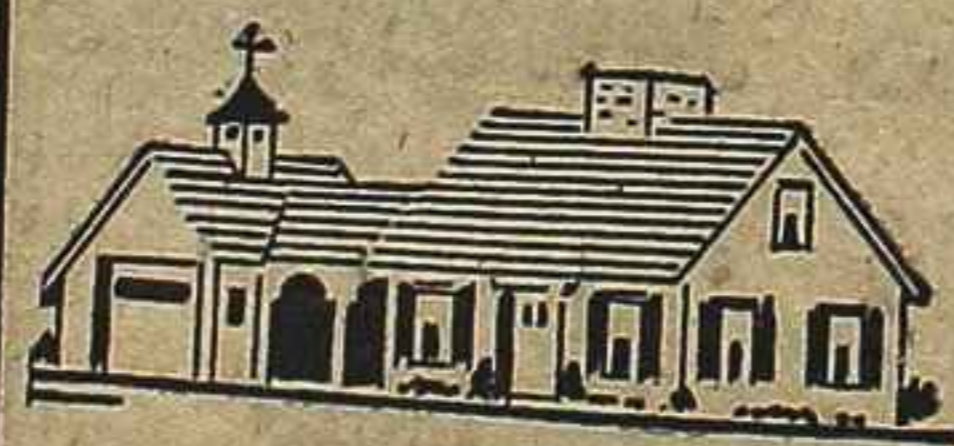

Franklin D. Roosevelt launched his campaign for presidency with a speech at Hampton Beach, Sunday, July 17, 1932.

DIANE CEPPI shows the typical enthusiasm of two-year-olds when they wet their feet in the ocean for the first time. Diane and her mother are from Worcester, Mass.

Water Works Bill Is Killed by Legislature

The bill to enable the town of Hampton to acquire the water utility which serves Hampton, North Hampton, and parts of Rye, was killed by the House Public Works committee this week.

The bill, introduced by Representative Douglass E. Hunter, was written after a unanimous vote by Hampton citizens at the March town meeting authorized the selectmen to prepare such legislation. A sum of $2,500 was appropriated by the town to cover legal and engineering expenses in preparing the defeated bill.

Hunter said he spoke with a number of the members of the public works committee following their action on the bill. The major reason for its defeat, he said, appeared to be the opinion of the committeemen that the legislation was unnecessary since there is already a statute which provides for the acquisition of public utilities by municipalities.

The bill differs from the present law in a number of respects, but the committeemen indicated that acts now on the books should be utilized rather than a new and different system. Hunter said the members of the committee agreed that municipal ownership of the water works was preferable to private ownership.

A public hearing on the bill was held by the Public Works committee at Hampton Beach June 3, at which time representatives from North Hampton and Rye, as well as Hampton's Representative Seth M. Junkins, raised strong opposition to passage of the measure.

The selectmen of Hampton have taken no further action toward acquisition of the utility since the defeat of the bill. A conference with Town Counsel John W. Perkins has been scheduled by the selectmen to review the matter in the near future.

STRAW HATS are quite fashionable with beach attire this season as per Martha Ann Wentworth, 16, of Haverhill, proves in this picture. She will be sponsored by the Laurentian hotel in the Miss Hampton Beach contest next week. A senior at Haverhill High school, she plans to enter Fisher Junior college, Boston, next year.

Seven Injured In Beach Mishap

Seven persons were injured in a two-car collision on Ocean boulevard near Church street last Thursday afternoon.

All seven were taken to Exeter Hospital where two were held over night for observation.

Police said a car operated by William J. McDonald, 60, of Burlington, Mass., was traveling north and was turning into Church street, when a south-bound vehicle operated by Mrs. Lillian M. Fitzgerald, 49, of Rochester, crashed into the side of the McDonald car.

The right side of McDonald's auto was badly damaged and the front of the Fitzgerald car was pushed in. Passengers and drivers of both vehicles were taken to Exeter Hospital in the Sturgis and police ambulances.

Police said a crowd of curious spectators hampered emergency operations.

Mrs. Christine Cameron, 80, and Mrs. Catherine Chisholm, 53, both of Malden and passengers in the McDonald car were held overnight at the hospital. Mrs. Cameron suffered bruises of the arms and knees and abrasions of the temple. Mrs. Chisholm was examined for a possible spinal injury, but was released after Dr. Henry Saltonstall reported her in "good condition" the following day.

One other passenger in the McDonald car, Mrs. Grace K. Cameron, 58, of Malden, and two passengers in the Fitzgerald car, Miss Susan Ann Fitzgerald, 12, of Rochester, and Mrs. Clara Morin, 72, of Eliot, Me., were all treated at the hospital and released, as were the drivers.

Sgt. Clayton LaBrack and Officers Andrew Maguire and George Leslie investigated.

In other traffic accidents during the week, a Providence, R. I. woman suffered cuts to her lip and mouth Sunday on the New Hampshire turnpike in North Hampton, when she was thrown against the windshield of a car.

Mrs. Rita Manocchio was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Biagio M. Manocchio. The car was in collision with a vehicle driven by Charles M. Smith of Stoughton, Mass. Police said both cars were south bound when the Manocchio car struck the right rear of the Smith car.

State police also reported a car driven by Anthony Searno, West Medford, Mass. was struck from the rear when it stopped at the toll house in Hampton Sunday. The other vehicle was operated by Edgar L. Goy, West Roxbury, Mass., police said.

E. Wilson Sanders, 18, of Central road, Rye, is reported in good condition at Portsmouth Hospital this week after suffering arm and leg injuries Friday in Rye, when his motor scooter was in collision with a car.

Police said the car was operated by Leona Rand, 16, of Breakfast Hill road, Greenland. The vehicles were traveling in opposite directions when the accident occurred.

When the towns of Portsmouth, Exeter, Hampton and Dover tried to form a central government, independent of the Bay Colony in 1689, it was Hampton that nullified the effort by refusing to go along.

Showers Fail To Dampen Spirit Of Talented Juniors

Only a handful of spectators braved the showers Monday night to witness the talent parade from the choice viewing space in front of the bandstand but hundreds jammed the Casino sidewalk and veranda for the show.

Dampness caused the senior division of competition to be postponed, but the juniors performed as scheduled.

First place went to Miss Karen Cullen, a 13-year-old vocalist from Naugatuck, Conn., who sang a female parody on "Sixteen Tons."

Second place was won by a Hampton native, Miss Beverly Ann Smith, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Smith, 63 Mill road.

Little Beverly Ann danced the hula to the tune of "Little Brown Girl".

Miss Kathleen M. Donovan, nine, of Lawrence, Mass., captured third place from a field of eight contestants with an Irish song and dance.

Other contestants included Donna Marie McCormick, nine, of Auburn, Mass., who sang "Oh, Daddy"; Jay Dee Murphy, 10, of Jamaica Plain, Mass., who sang "Mrs. Murphy's Chowder"; Deborah Hebert, 11, of Lowell, Mass., who sang and danced to "Rockabye My Baby"; Billy Byron, nine, and Robert McLaughlin, ten, who sang "Remember You're Mine"; and Jonathan Seminatore, 11, of Woburn, Mass., who sang "Personality."

BABY-SITTING with lost children is sometimes pleasant and sometimes extremely unpleasant for the Chamber of Commerce office staff. Four-year-old Sandy Hussey turned out to be one of the pleasant visitors. He is being entertained by Miss Gisele Bougie of the Chamber staff.

Beach Youth Burned By Kerosene Lamp

A 10-year-old Lawrence, Mass. boy suffered second degree burns of the face, chest, and hands Friday when a kerosene lamp tipped over in the Great Boar's Head apartment house, where he was vacationing with his family.

Walter K. Merrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Merrill, was playing with the lamp when it tipped over, police said. Woodwork, curtains, and a bed in the room were damaged by the blaze before firemen arrived.

The Marine Memorial at Hampton Beach was dedicated May 30, 1957.

AH! SUNSHINE, at least temporarily. Striking Sharon Cotta, 17, of Augusta, Me., found an hour of sunshine to enjoy on the beach this week. Sharon is working at the Kenmore restaurant this summer and will be sponsored by Kimball Real Estate in the Miss Hampton Beach beauty contest next week.

Tag Day Nets $892 For Kiwanis

DR. PARRY TO PREACH
AT UNION CHAPEL
The services at Union Chapel, Little Boar's Head, on Sunday, July 26, will be conducted by Rev. J. Burford Parry, D. D., of Babson Institute, Wellesley Hills, Mass. The non-sectarian services begin at 11 a.m., preceded by an organ prelude.

Thirty-three children in Hampton and Exeter collected $892.50 in contributions during the first Kiwanis Tag Days drive for the club's welfare fund. Prizes were awarded by the Kiwanis club to the four children who collected the largest number of contributions, and the youngsters were treated to dinner Monday night at Lamie's Tavern during the regular meeting of the service club.

Martin Mahoney of Exeter won first prize, which was a transistor radio. Jimmy Battersby and Jane McDormand of Hampton won second and third prizes respectively. Prizes were a table model radio and five dollars cash. Barbara Frazier of Brown avenue, Hampton Beach, collected the largest sum in one day. She collected along the beach Friday.

Co-chairmen for the Tag Day drive were Perley R. George and Harry I. McDormand. Assistants who helped the children were Mrs. George, Mrs. McDormand and Mrs. Kennebec Ryan. Kiwanian George was the committee and the club was grateful to the citizens and visitors of Hampton Beach, Hampton, and Exeter, who contributed so generously to make the charity drive a success. The proceeds will be used to promote the Kiwanis club's welfare and community projects.

Contributors were given lapel tags by the children to indicate they had donated.

Playhouse Comedy For Whole Family

A charming and abundantly funny family comedy—"Holiday For Lovers"—entertains theatergoers at the Hampton Playhouse this week with Joe O'Brien and Maggie Owens in the starring roles. For an evening of gay laughter this amusing play gets unqualified recommendation—and it is loaded with double-barreled humor for Canadian visitors who will appreciate the language difficulties of Americans in Paris trying to speak French. Joe O'Brien and Maggie Owens—husband and wife in real life—team up in "Holiday For Lovers" doing full justice to the starring assignments. For seasoned travellers, the opening scene which these stars do while making preparation for their trip to Europe provides laughter in every line.

This particular scene becomes even more lively with the entrance into the situation of "know-it-all" relations played by Patricia Sloan and Dennis Drew. The rapport between these two comedians is one of the highlights. Those seeing Denny Drew for the first time will understand why the old time members of the audience are elated to see this fine comedian back on the stage of the Hampton Playhouse.

The problems of the two daughters—Mary Doyle, as the teenager, and Nancy Watts, as the older sister who has been studying music in Paris for three years, are so familiar to the parents of young daughters, that it is like Doctor Spock on the stage. Both young actresses give most creditable performances, as do Frank Lyon, as the suave maestro, and Harry Millard, playing the young American abstractionist painter. The cute French maid is Anne Seymour.

This week's comedy is one that the whole family can enjoy. It is fresh and wholesome and most entertaining. H.L.P.

Rudy Vallee visited Hampton Beach for the first time July 14, 1930, at which time a nationwide network radio program was broadcast by him from the Ocean House.

ALL ABOUT MUSIC

By DICK SANSON

Glad you could make it again, all you sports. I do hope you are enjoying your stay here at Hampton.

Well, this week the music world was saddened by the death of Billy Holiday. Those of you who have followed her career realize what a loss the death of this fabulous blues singer is to the business.

Miss Holiday sang with some of the very biggest name bands. She became known as the "First Lady of the Blues." Not too far in the past she became the victim of narcotics. Billy had been forbidden to play at any of the fancy clubs in New York City or state, and this was a great personal insult to her. But, being ostracized from the New York circuit, she kept busy with European concert tours.

Recently she returned to Boston where she successfully completed a stay at Storyville. Returning to her home in New York, Billy was arrested for having narcotics in her possession. While being held for trial she fell ill and . . . I guess you know the rest.

Billy died with $74 to her name. If she had lived a few days longer she would have signed a movie contract for the story of her life, which would have given her $50,000 for the rights to film the life of Billy Holiday.

PRESCOTT MOVES
 On the lighter side of the music business I can report that Norm Prescott of WBZ radio has resigned to take a position with Embassy Pictures of New York.

Prescott has been a fixture of Boston radio for about 10 years. He got his start in radio at WHEB in Portsmouth, N. H., then he worked as a summer sub at WHDH, winning a full time show there in the fall of 1946. He then was hired as program director at WORL. He moved to WNEW in New York for a year, but WBZ brought him back to Boston in 1955 to handle the afternoon show.

That was a "black day" for Boston. Prescott has had many a role in Boston radio and TV, but his main interest the last couple of years has been to play nothing but rock'n'roll. In my opinion, this has been a sorry accent to his career.

So the era of Norman Prescott has come to an end in Boston, and we can truly say that we are not sorry to see him leave. I do wish him much success in a new career of TV and movies. Who knows? We may see him hit the big time as a movie or TV director.

For a replacement WBZ has the talented Jim Holt, who hosted the Midnight Rider's Club week nights. Jim is a Rhode Island boy and worked at WICE, Providence, for a number of years. Your reporter wishes Jim well in his new slot.

A guy named Murphy Jack will step into Holt's shoes. Jack also is an out-of-state boy. I believe it is Hartford, Conn. — station WPOP. "BZ" men sure go way out of their way to find Dee Jays.

BEACH ROUND-UP
 On the local front the Four

Lads really filled the ballroom to capacity Tuesday night. Friday night Mr. Sammy Kaye makes a return visit to Hampton Beach.

Once again my spies on the beach reported there are some favorites of guys and gals here at Happy Hampton.

Sheila Young says to Joe King "A Boy Without A Girl" is like, well, you should know I simply say to Marcie and Bugs: "You're So Fine." The girls in the Weathervane — Sis, Judy and Donna — say they've had "A Little Too Much." Al Hamilton of the Surf theater wants a "Party Doll." Ann Batterbury says to Jerry V. — "You Don't Know Me"? And finally for an ex-playground attendant, from S. M. to Joan, "I Miss You So."

If you have any little quips about guys and gals on the beach, just drop them off at the Chamber of Commerce in care of yours truly and I take it from there.

I guess that wraps things up for this week. Stay happy, won't you?

In spite of a sign stating the swimming is strictly forbidden, youngsters fearlessly dive from the state pier in Hampton Harbor.

The boys have great fun diving for dead fish which they throw back onto the pier to frighten their coquettish girl friends. The girls get revenge by pushing the boys into the water. But no one minds getting wet, as the water averages several degrees warmer than the ocean.

Kids scam in all directions when they spot the Coast Guard cruiser approaching the pier.

Although the children are heedless of the scenic background of their "swimming hole," hundreds of spectators stop by the harbor each day to view the peaceful scene of lobster boats moored beyond the pier. The harbor is especially beautiful at sunset.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Morgan of Warwick, R. I., are spending two weeks at the Val-Ivan on King's highway.

15-Year-Old Driver Fined $50 Following Beach Accident

A 17-year-old youth who was the driver of a car in which a girl was killed May 19 on the New Hampshire turnpike near the Hampton interchange pleaded innocent to reckless driving charges in Hampton Municipal court Saturday.

Judge John W. Perkins ordered Mark H. Zartarian of Newburyport, Mass., held in $500 bail for the September session of the Rockingham county Superior Court. Zartarian was the driver of a sedan in which Miss Barbara Ashley, 15, also of Newburyport, was fatally injured when the vehicle went out of control on a ramp leading off the toll road and crashed into a bridge abutment.

Miss Ashley died on the way to the hospital and Zartarian was confined with a concussion, a fractured rib, and extensive cuts and bruises. He was charged by State Police Officer Maurice M. Gagnon with reckless operation and excessive speed causing him to lose control of the vehicle which went 384 feet off the highway before crashing into the abutment. The youth is represented by Attorney C. Francis Leary of Newburyport.

A 15-year-old boy was fined $50 by Judge Perkins Saturday after the youth pleaded guilty of reckless driving and operating a motor vehicle without a license. He was Anthony J. Cipoletta of Medford, Mass., who was the operator of a car which struck a 16-year-old Lawrence, Mass., girl at Hampton Beach July 4.

Besides injuring Miss Carol Metcalfe, the vehicle sideswiped another car and crashed into the front of a store on Ocean boulevard.

Cipoletta's friend, Richard S. Krevosky, 16, was fined $10 for allowing an unlicensed person to drive the car which was in his care. The car belonged to Krevosky's mother.

Clayton Lloyd Bagley of Seabrook was fined $25 after he pleaded guilty of throwing bags overboard when he was ordered to stop his boat for inspection by Conservation Officer Floyd S. Potter last Thursday. Officers said Bagley was suspected of digging clams for commercial use and having clams in excess of the limit in his possession when he was informed his boat was to be inspected.

Augustine J. Burke, 46, of Lowell, Mass., was fined $125 and had his right to operate a vehicle in New Hampshire revoked for six months after he pleaded nolo to a charge of driving under the influence on Lafayette road July 8. Judge Perkins suspended a 30-day jail sentence on payment of the fine. Burke was represented by Atty. Seth M. Junkins, Hampton.

Fined on charges of speeding were Michelle M. Bourgeois of Lowell, Mass., $15; John Devereaux Jr., 18, of Dover, $20; Peter C. Laganas, 31, of Lowell, $10; and Robert J. E. Williams, 54, of Dorchester, Mass., $15.

William M. Landry of Meriden, Conn., defaulted on a speeding charge. Winthrop B. Orgera, 18, of Rye defaulted $20 bail in which he was held on charges of disorderly conduct involving desecration and profane language to an officer and failure to answer questions asked by an officer. Wallace B. Robinson of Hampton Beach also defaulted $20 bail on drunkenness and disorderly conduct charges. John A. Hatfield, 23, of Woburn, Mass., defaulted $20 bail on a drunkenness charge.

Two men engaged in a fist fight on Ocean boulevard July 4 were each fined $15 after they pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct. They were John D. McCarron, 21, of Somerville, Mass., and Francis M. Gaspar of Hampton Beach.

Richard A. Lebeau of Newmarket pleaded guilty to a yellow line violation charge and paid a fine of $20.

Linda Jo McDaniel of Hampton Beach dropped charges of assault she had brought against Arthur Hoyt, also of Hampton Beach. Hoyt was held in $50 bail after he was accused of striking Miss McDaniel June 30 on P street.

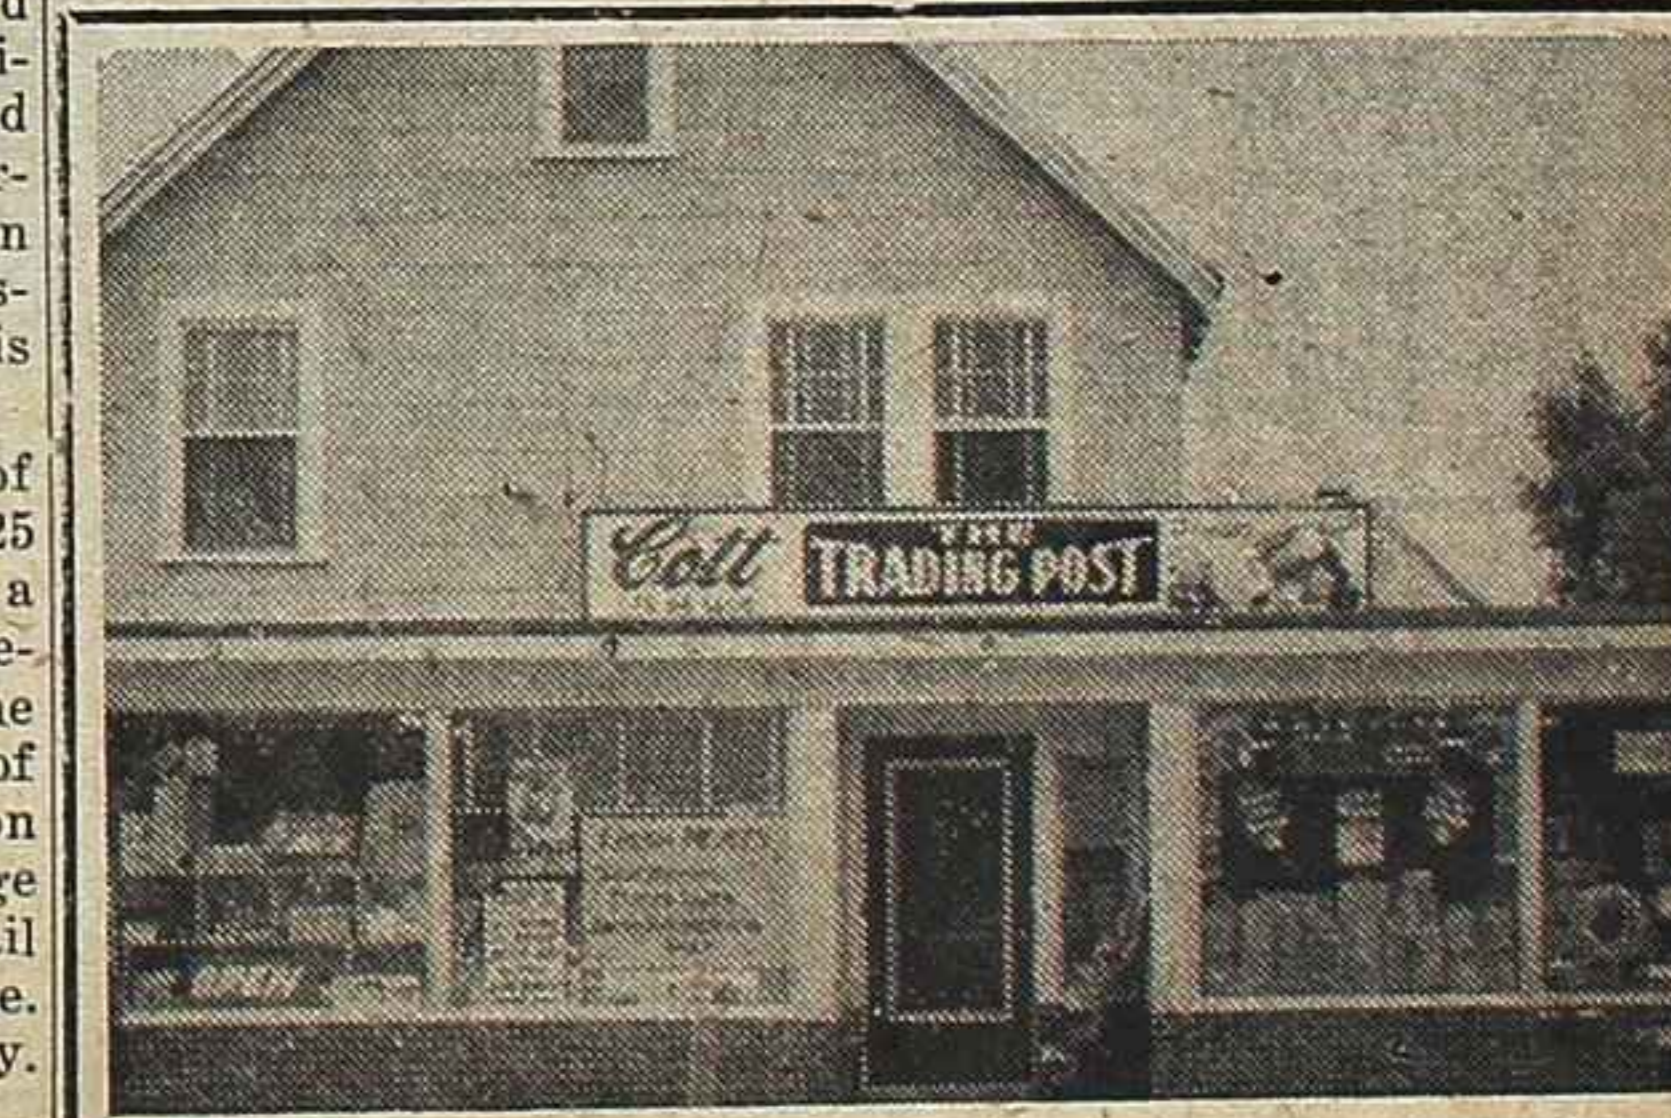

Leo F. Owen Jr. of Brighton Mass., was fined $10 after he pleaded guilty of "engaging in tumult" in a Hampton Beach rooming house July 5. Leonita S. Partin complained that he

CC Withdraws Bus Support

The Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce reversed its stand on a petition by Trailways bus lines to operate direct runs between New York and Portsmouth.

The board of directors had previously voted to support Trailways in its fight for a franchise which would allow the company to offer direct service between Boston and Hampton Beach. Twelve hours before the FCC hearing on the case, the directors voted not to support either side in the franchise battle. The action came after a lawyer from Greyhound bus lines, which is opposing the petition, spoke at a regular meeting of the Chamber directors Tuesday night.

The representative from the Greyhound company told Chamber directors that if Trailways were given the franchise there would be more buses coming into Hampton Beach than are needed, and that eventually both companies would have to curb service, leaving Hampton with poorer service than it now has.

A unanimous vote of the directors favored no action by the local Chamber of Commerce. Three delegates had planned to attend the FCC hearing in Boston Wednesday morning in Trailways behalf.

Trailways announced it would begin new service between Boston and Portland, Me., via Lawrence, Haverhill, and Portsmouth, July 24. This service will include stops in Hampton.

No FCC ruling has yet been announced on the Trailways petition to make permanent the temporary certificate permitting service between Boston and Berlin, N. H.

 Need Work Permits

Investigators "visited" a number of places of business at Hampton Beach last week in a drive to enforce the child labor laws.

Approximately a dozen children 15 years of age and under were found working in stores, hotels, and restaurants without permits.

The Chamber of Commerce issued a reminder to all employers to make certain employees under 16 years of age have obtained permits. In order to obtain a working permit, children must show a birth certificate and physician's report to authorities of their schools or at the Chamber of Commerce where working permits are issued.

Puppet Show Slated
 At Playhouse Aug. 1

Once upon a time . . . With these words the boys and girls of Hampton will be whisked away to the land of magic and make-believe when the Hampton Playhouse brings the world-famous Suzari Marionettes to Hampton on Saturday, August 1, 1959 in the beautiful ballet-fantasy "The Red Shoes".

This latest puppet extravaganza by the Suzari Company did not "Just Happen". It is the culmination of 20 years of team work. All the Suzari artists, wood-carvers, writers, set designers, costumers and choreographers have combined their efforts to make "The Red Shoes" the piece-de-resistance of the puppet show world.

Mr. Jack Hockhauser, who adapted the story from the Danish classic by Hans Christian Anderson, travelled through Denmark visiting museums and libraries in Copenhagen to secure material covering the songs, dance, dress and folk-lore of the early 1800's. These have been integrated into this production. The costumes are by the famed Silhouette Studios.

Suzari's director and founder, Miss Dorothy Zaconick, designed the puppets. She has spent many years both here and in Europe studying the art of puppetry and its place in the field of good, educational entertainment.

There is always a moral for young minds in a Suzari show, and each is brought to light with considerable delicacy.

"The Red Shoes" is no exception. The tale revolves about a wee Danish lass, who, passionate in her desire to be a grand ballerina, fails to keep a promise . . . but that would be telling!

Suzari Marionettes' "The Red Shoes" will delight children of all ages. Reservations may now be made at the Playhouse box office.
