The BEACHCOMBER

Fisherman Lands 61 lb. Cod Just Off Hampton Shores

Three local men hit the "jackpot" recently as far as deep sea fishing goes. Joe Ferguson, Sr., Hampton, heads the list for the current fishing season of those who have brought in the real big ones. Fishing from a Smith-Gilmore boat, Ferguson caught a 61 lb. cod fish.

Close behind him with identical catches of 35 lb. cod fish were Terry Bragg and Ray Gilmore, Hampton Beach.

Gilmore, for the past several years, has skipped fishing boats for Smith-Gilmore during the summer months. During the winter, Ray teaches school.

Terry Bragg, 16 year old Winnacunnet High school sophomore, was the latest of the three to make a big catch. Terry is no stranger to fishermen in the area as he has made

Camera Club Holds Banquet At Beach

The Winnacunnet Camera club at Hampton held its annual banquet Wednesday night, June 28, at the Ashworth hotel, Hampton Beach. President Mrs. Jack Dow was presented a gift of money from the club members in appreciation of the hard work and effort that she has put into the club during the past year.

Following dinner the annual club color slide competition was held with Herb Babbirk of the Piscataqua Camera club acting as judge.

First prize was won by Mrs. Nettie Leavitt for her color slide entitled, "Buddha." Grace Whitman took second prize with "Serious Business." "Chimney Pots" by Mrs. Jack Dow was the third prize winner.

Honorable mention went to Nettie Leavitt for "Balinese," to Harriet MacPherson for "Grand-daughter Nina," and to Muriel Fogg for "Lazy River." Mrs. Dow also received a special award ribbon for the greatest number of points accumulated during the year.

First Amateur Talent Show Attracts Biggest Audience

The largest crowd of the beach season filled the sidewalk and street in front of the bandstand Monday evening to view the first talent program of the year.

A threat of rain the entire evening failed to disperse the large audience as it constantly expressed approval of the performances by bursting into shouts and applause.

Eighteen entrants took part in the junior division and 15 participated in the senior division.

The first to gain top honors for the summer was a local girl, Denise Dupuis, 8, Winnacunnet road, Hampton Beach. Denise, who has been dancing for only a year, won with a dance to Sweet Georgia Brown.

Second place honors went to a trio from 5 Haven lane, Exeter. Donald Savage, 13, his sister, Eileen, 12, and their cousin, Shirleen Caron, danced to Heartaches.

Peggy LeBlanc, 8, 107 Lafayette street, Burlington, Vt., won the third place trophy. She danced to the tune of Stepping Out With My Baby.

The senior division performers continued where their predecessors had left off in giving very capable performances.

First place went to John Kotsios, 21, from 51 School street, Concord. He sang Wild in the Country.

The second place award went to one of two bands who

Marsh Development Plan Wins Legislative Approval

The N. H. General Court adjourned Saturday at 11:55 a. m. after what was believed to have been the longest continuous session in the state's history.

An all night 24 hour and 55 minute session saw only a handful of weary lawmakers on hand when House Speaker Stewart Lamprey banged his gavel for the last time.

Perhaps the most significant of the bills, HB 108, the legislation creating the Hampton Municipal Development Authority, was signed by Governor Powell yesterday paving the way for the authority, which was first established by the 1959 Legislature as the Marsh Development Authority, to proceed with its work.

The local bill as amended, changes the method of bonding the town to require a customary two-thirds vote as is the case in all bonding issues where the faith and credit of the town are pledged.

Another amendment provides that such votes must be taken at a regular town meeting and not at a special meeting as originally planned.

The authority would develop marshland in Hampton, within boundaries as amended by legislative action, for residential and recreational purposes.

Another bill which has long been advocated by Governor Powell and Director of Forestry and Recreation, Russell Tobey, is the governor's so-called $10 million "crash program" to expand New Hampshire's public and private recreational facilities. This bill caused the principal dispute of the final day marathon session.

The measure was finally passed in a compromise form. A portion of the bill is tentatively scheduled to include a $150,000 beach front project and new band shell at Hampton Beach.

The compromise which was finally agreed to provides that $9 million worth of the bonds will be spent on the development of the public park system with the projects to be designated by Director Tobey.

In a telephone call to Tobey Wednesday, the UNION learned that if the measure is signed, MARSH

Four Lovely Girls Seek Beach Beauty Title July 25

Applications continue to come in to the Chamber of Commerce office for the coveted Miss Hampton Beach beauty pageant. Rated as one of the prettiest contests of its kind on the Atlantic Seaboard, the beach pageant should prove to be one of the best ever this year.

The BEACHCOMBER, this week, introduces four more of the lovely contestants as they paused for a moment from their work and vacations to discuss the upcoming event.

Sallyan Julian, 16, 231 Venton street, Manchester, heads this week's list. Sallyan is a 5'3" blonde senior at Memorial High school, Manchester. She is a cheerleader at school and she likes to dance, swim and ski.

Her ambition is to attend the University of Hawaii, but she feels she will probably have to settle for her home state University of New Hampshire.

 among other projects that will be recommended by the Forestry and Recreation department will be the self-liquidating, Hampton Beach front expansion program.

Representative Herbert Cassassa noted yesterday that $25,000 has been included in the capital budget for the prevention of erosion at Boar's Head. Originally labeled SJR 9 and calling for $50,000 in state funds to erect a "rip rap" type wall around Boar's Head as recommended by Army engineers, the appropriation was cut to $25,000 during the final days of legislation and was added to the state budget.

islatore, yet to be signed, is one that will directly affect the Hampton area. The redistricting of New Hampshire's state Senate for the first time in 48 years, is almost a reality. Hampton is slated to be in new District 23 which will include Wards 1 and 2 of Portsmouth and will include the towns of Greenland, Hampton, Hampton Falls, Newington, North Hampton, and Stratham. The redistricting will cost Manchester a seat and will add one to Rockingham county.

HB 638, which would allow the sales of alcoholic beverages in licensed first-class hotels to residents of the town in which they are located, was approved by the Senate during the final week of work. This bill was vigorously opposed by many local residents.

Several clubs, mostly from Massachusetts, spent the day at the beach. Cloudy skies failed to hamper the spirits of those who attended.

The highlight of the day was the reading of a familiar page written by former General Douglas MacArthur on growing old. It was read by Bill Elliot of the Chamber of Commerce as a prelude to the awards which were given. The gist of the reading was the fact that a person may grow old in body but he's as young as his heart makes him. The Golden Age members gave Mr. Elliot a tremendous ovation for his effort following the reading.

The oldest member present Mrs. Margaret Welch, 84, of Worcester, Mass., received a trophy symbolizing the Achievement Award of 1961. She is a member of the Happy Hours Senior Citizens group of Worcester.

Runner-up and also receiving a trophy was Mrs. Mary Shaw from Athol, Mass. This was her second trip to the bandstand as she celebrated her 50th Wedding Anniversary at the beach just six years ago. She was joined on the bandstand by her husband, Mrs. Shaw is a member of the Golden Agers (Continued On Page Four)

Miss Hampton Beach Off To Miami And Beauty Pageants

Miss Diane E. Lipson, 19, Miss Hampton Beach of 1959, left Friday evening by plane from Boston for Miami Beach to participate in the Miss United States and Miss Universe pageants.

She was joined at Logan airport by Miss Maine, Barbara Dyer; Miss Vermont, Susan Neilson; Miss Rhode Island, Jeann Zellar; and Miss Massachusetts, Elaine Cusick.

Miss Lipson, never looking prettier, carried a special glass vial filled with Hampton Beach sand to be presented at the pageant. The vial was especially made by Mr. Patrick Dee, a glass blower at Hampton Beach for the occasion. The glass was in the shape of a sea gull with white and blue tipped wings. The attached card was worded as follows: "The Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce presents this vial of the best bathing sand in the world to the President of the Miami Chamber of Commerce."

It is the custom of the girls of each state to present a gift from their sponsors. Of all the girls Hampton contests, Diane is perhaps one of the closest as she is actually being partially sponsored by the local Chamber. All eyes at Hampton Beach will therefore, be on Miami Beach for the rest of the week.

Gifts were forwarded on behalf of Governor Powell to be given to the Governor of Florida and officials of the host state.

Miss Lipson will be staying at the Roney Plaza Hotel in Miami. This is one of three hotels being used during the ten days of the pageants.

Each girl will be constantly chaperoned. The girls are not required to show talent but are tested for mental alertness. They will perform in both bathing suits and evening gowns.

Research at the Mt. Washington Observatory in New Hampshire took the first steps in the development of radar.

Skin Divers Set Up Shop

Skin diving enthusiasts, both local and visiting, in the Seacoast area will be pleased to learn that a complete new skin diving equipment shop has been opened at Hampton Beach.

The Hampton Beach Divers shop, the latest store to open for business at the beach, is located at 2 Bailey avenue at the Hampton river bridge. The new enterprise was started by two local men, William Fellows, High street, Hampton, and Ray Gilmore, Hampton town Beach.

A few years ago, Bill Fellows started skin diving as a hobby off the coast of Cuba while he was serving with the armed forces in 1955. When Bill returned home, he encouraged Ray Gilmore to try the sport. Eventually Ray started in 1960 and out of this friendship grew the new business.

Both men are young and have been brought up on the water, so to speak. However, they both feel such a thrill and fascination while under water that they will almost guarantee that once a person starts diving, he will never stop. A visit to the shop and a chat with these fellows will almost fascinate one to the point of donning a suit and trying the sport.

Playhouse Comedy

Good Family Fare

"The Pursuit of Happiness" a highly amusing comedy of manners and morals, especially concerned with the art of bundling" which has long since been replaced by the parked car, provides the entertainment menu at the Hampton Playhouse this week with Katherine Helmond, Joel Thomas and Peter Bosche heading a strong cast.

If you wish to just relax and enjoy the entertaining lines and situations, the play will give you many opportunities for pleasure. However, if you wish to have the play penetrate more deeply, you will find it a biting criticism of America's failure to fulfill the promises found in the Declaration of Independence.

We have made progress - but the declaration that all men are created equal and that there will be equal opportunity for all for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness is far from reality. The barbed lines in this play sink in deeply irritating our unfulfilled responsibilities.

A talented group of actors from top billing to bit roles has given the production a smooth and balanced performance aided by one of Robert Green's fine stage settings and colorful authentic Revolutionary costumes.

A new comer - Katherine Helmond - immediately captured the hearts of the audience with her charming portrayal of Prudence. Opposite her in a very strong lead is Joel Thomas, as Max, and the bundling scene between these two fine thespians is one of the best bits of acting seen for some time.

It is played delicately with just the right amount of naive and tenderness enchanting the audience with its loveliness.

Peter Bosche and Maggie Owens teamed up most effectively as Aaron and Comfort Kirkland and Trent Knepper added much to the performance with his interpretation of the Virginia colonel.

In quite opposite roles, two old scene stealing favorites did just that when Ailsa Dawson, as the boy crazy maid, and Dennis Drew, as the bluenosed preacher, claimed the audience whenever they were on stage.

Give two actors with star ability a minor role and you get a star performance.

Fred Hoskins, as the Negro servant, added still further strength by doing an excellent piece of acting in another minor role. Rubber faced, Ian Sullivan, played the sheriff and developed the giant share of the laughs. The two Sons of Liberty were Ed Witherall and Phil Growick.

"The Pursuit of Happiness" is not a "rock 'em-sock 'em" comedy. The first act moves quite slowly but continues to build up throughout the next two acts so that it booms into a fast moving final act. There is no question that the bundling scene is the most memorable of the evening and Massachusetts residents will thoroughly enjoy the liberal reference to "Blue

Heavy Fog Along Seacoast Keeps Coast Guard Busy

The heavy fog which enveloped the entire seaboard over the past weekend kept the men of the Hampton Coast Guard busier than usual. The fog trapped boats at sea and hampered search for the disabled vessels. A report of a 16-foot skiff with two persons aboard being overdue started the Coast Guard. The local Coast Guard cutter was sent to search for the craft which was two hours overdue. While on routine search the Coast Guard found the Lady Mar II, with three persons on board, disabled southeast of Hampton. The 18-foot cabin cruiser, operated by Eugene Carter of Woburn, Mass., was taken in tow to Hampton harbor. The Coast Guard cutter returned to sea to continue the search for the overdue skiff. However the search was again interrupted when the 26 foot cruiser, Dee-Art, was found lost at sea in the fog. Upon towing the Dee-Art to shore, the Coast Guard learned that the missing skiff had turned up safely at Seabrook. Still another call took the Coast Guard cutter to Hampton Beach where Robert Silver of North Shore boulevard reported sighting an object, which appeared to be a mine, floating towards shore. The Coast Guard, however, found it to be a deep sea fishing troll buoy. They took this to Hampton Beach. Mrs. Oscar Page of Fremont reported that the cruiser Jean Marie with her husband aboard was four hours overdue from a trip to the Isles of Shoals. The cruiser was eventually found and escorted to the Hampton pier.

On Saturday, the Hampton Coast Guard was sent two and one half miles out to sea in response to an urgent radio message from the Anne Josephine, a party fishing boat. Elizabeth Laugon of Williamstown, Mass. had become ill and requested help. She was transferred to the cutter and brought ashore at State pier. The fire department was called and responded with the rescuator. However, the Coast Guard reported that when she reached dry land, the woman refused medical assistance. She told them she would see her own physician.

30 Lovely Girls Seek Title Of Miss Hampton Beach July 25

FINAL FOUR CONTESTANTS to enter the Miss Hampton Beach pageant are these lovely misses. Left to right, Nancie Whitworth, 18, Adover, Mass., Barbara A. Jordan, 17, Everett, Mass., K. Lorayne Hickey, 19, Peabody, Mass. and Peggy F. Harkins Waltham, Mass.

Miss Hampton Beach of 1961 will be chosen Tuesday evening, July 25, at 8:30 p.m. in the Casino ballroom. The annual highlight, of the many beach festivities planned for the summer visitors, will find one lucky girl from over 30 contestants being chosen to reign over the many events at Hampton Beach for the coming year.

It is expected that several of the girls who have won the event in past years will be on hand to greet the new winner.

Heading the long list of personalities who are expected to attend is former winner Carolyn Komant. Carolyn was signed to a long term contract by Warner Brothers after competing in the 1958 Miss Universe contest. She has completed 45 telecasts on such programs as Hawaiian Eye, 77 Sunset Strip and others. She recently finished her first moving picture which is nearly ready for release.

Last year's winner, Diane L. Jezak, Dracut, Mass. is expected to be on hand to relinquish her crown to the new winner, Miss Diane E. Lipson, 1959 winner, who represented New Hampshire at the Miss Universe contest at Miami last week is also expected to attend.

Five outstanding judges will have the difficult task of choosing the new winner. (Continued on Page Eleven)

200 Air Force Cadets Relax At Beach

The 817th Air Division, Pease Air Force Base, was host to some 300 Air Force Academy cadets from Colorado Springs, Class of 1964, for five days this past week.

More than 200 of the youths spent Thursday afternoon at Hampton Beach in a half day of relaxation from their training trip which is taking them to a host of Air Force military installations.

Major Mazuzan of Pease was in charge of the athletic program of the youths while they were at the Portsmouth base. A portion of the program consisted of the trip to Hampton Beach. Air police and an air corps ambulance accompanied the five bus loads of cadets on the outing.
