Chamber Seeks Beach Business A.M. Shutdown

The directors of the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce recently voted to send a letter to all business establishments at Hampton Beach which remain open all night or nearly all night and to ask their cooperation in a voluntary closing during specified early morning hours.

The chamber officials said they would seek on a voluntary basis to have all business establishments which remain open throughout the early morning hours to close for any five hour period between 12 midnight and 6 a.m.

The chamber officials also stated they agreed with the precinct commissioners that more State Police help is needed at the beach particularly where there is so much state property, including the Hampton Beach State Park and Sea Shell, involved.

They also noted that they definitely felt that all the proposals previously given in regard to possible solutions to curb problems such as have cropped up the past two years should be seriously considered. They feel it will take a combination of both state police help and such measures as curfews, ordinances and other proposals aimed in the right direction to completely remedy the situation.

In a recent letter to town officials, it was noted that Gov. John King was aware of the situation and that more state police officers have been assigned to the Seacoast area. It was also stated that other state police help would be available if needed.

The directors, however, continued to commence taking other strides to put Hampton Beach back to the noted family beach of the past with the announcement of the letter which would be sent out in the near future requesting the business owners to cooperate in the five hour early morning closing hour.

Area Mail Zips With New P.O. Code Numbers

Mail in the seacoast area began "zipping" last Monday as the Post Office department inaugurated its zone improvement plan, better known as the ZIP code.

In announcing the ZIP code, Post Office officials said the program using a five-number code with addresses will speed mail deliveries and reduce the chance of mis-sent mail.

The first number in the code is for the New England area, the second for the state, the third for the area distribution point and the last two for the locality.

ZIP code numbers assigned to various communities in this area are:

Hampton, 03842; Hampton Falls, 03844; North Hampton, 03862; Rye, 03870; Rye Beach, 03871; West Rye, 03891; and Seabrook, 03874.

Beach Beauties Seek Title

A total of 21 girls, as of early this week, have signified their intentions of participating in the 1963 Miss Hampton Beach Beauty Pageant on July 23 at the Casino Ballroom. They will be vying for the coveted spot now held by Miss Jonnye McLeod of Hampton who only last Saturday evening was also crowned as Miss New Hampshire for the Miss Universe contest.

The 21 newcomers will bring the total of girls who have participated over the years to approximately 400 contestants from all over the United States, Canada and Cuba. This year's 16th annual pageant will have one note of sadness as the man who conceived the idea some 16 years ago will not be present. Mr. Edward S. Seavey Jr., editor and publisher of the Beachcomber, who began the contest through the Beachcomber in 1946-47, recently died.

In 1948 the Chamber of Commerce took over the production and down through the years the story of the pageant has been fabulous. Each year history is made with the most outstanding fact being that many girls have gone on to compete in the Miss Universe, Miss America and other lesser contests. Some have obtained top notch modeling jobs, others movie contracts and still others have had a wonderful time according to pageant officials.

Registered to date are the following girls including Dana O'Neil, 18, Methuen, Mass.; Anita Brenda Mello, 21, Lowell, Mass.; Joan Ellen Phalen, 18, North Andover, Mass.; Ann M. Dunham, 18, Woburn, Mass.; Alida Bossie, 17, Portsmouth; Catherine LaPlante, 17, Portsmouth; Jacqueline A. Dwyer, Bedford, Mass.; Suzanne Regan, 16, Salem; Nancy Joan Brackett, 17, Brighton, Mass.; Elizabeth Joan Mansur, 17, Gardner, Mass.; Lorrie Gagne, 17, Nashua; Gayle Trackerman, 17, Worcester, Mass.; Patricia Gilmartin, 20, Manchester; Brenda Marie Ahlstrom, 18, Gardner, Mass.; Brenda Colt, 17, Lowell, Mass.; Patricia Curtin, 17, Lawrence, Mass.; Mary Lou Clinton, 18, Arlington, Mass.; Janice G. Fay, 18, Methuen, Mass.; Pauline Morin, 19, Manchester; Doris Mathieu, 20, Manchester; and Darlene Jeanne Brown, 17, Lowell, Mass.

Production Manager Hamel of the chamber of commerce is still accepting applications and hopes to have 35 girls compete for this year's top honors. The pageant will be staged in the Casino Ballroom with trophies, flowers and savings bonds, among other items awaiting the winner. Miss Hampton Beach of 1963 will be crowned at the Coronation in August. Pictures of many of this year's contestants as well as those of past years may be seen at the chamber of commerce office.

40 Beach Beauties Vie For Miss Hampton Beach Crown

The first major attraction of the local summer recreation season, the Miss Hampton Beach Beauty Pageant for 1963, will be held at the Casino Ballroom next Tuesday evening, July 23 at 8:30 p.m.

Close to 40 girls from many areas are expected to participate in the 16th annual affair with the cherished title of Miss Hampton Beach at stake. Most of the girls will be eyeing the enviable positions held last year by Miss Sandie Kaye of Plaistow, first New Hampshire girl to win the title, and Miss Jonnye McLeod, present titleholder and first Hampton girl to gain the top honors. Both girls were later named to participate in the Miss Universe contest. Miss McLeod is presently in Miami participating in the Miss USA and Miss Universe contests together with two other New England states winners with whom she participated at Hampton Beach last season.

As in the past, for some of the girls come evening's end, there will be sadness while for others there will be joy. For all, a cherished experience never to be forgotten. New friendships will be made, some of which will last a lifetime. Others will find the contest the beginning of a brilliant future. Backstage, the girls will display nervousness and emotion. On stage, they will show poise, personality, talent and a sincere desire to win.

Over the years, the BEACHCOMBER has had more than a passing interest in the show which has become probably the greatest single attraction in the Hampton Beach summer entertainment program. One of the Eastern seaboard's largest and most fascinating beauty shows, the Miss Hampton Beach pageant as it is known today got its start on an idea conceived by the former editor of the BEACHCOMBER, the late Edward S. Seavey, Jr.

During the summers of 1946 and 1947, Mr. Seavey organized the Miss Cover Girl contests. In 1948, the local chamber of commerce took up the lead given by Mr. Seavey and thus was born, 16 years ago, the Miss Hampton Beach beauty pageant. A note of sadness will be seen at this year's show, however, as Mr. Seavey who attended the 15th anniversary of the affair last year as an honored guest, only recently died.

The story of the pageant down through the years has been nothing short of fabulous to say the least. Each year new history has been made. A search of the BEACHCOMBER files has revealed a few interesting statistics worth mentioning in conjunction with the 16th annual pageant.

Perhaps one of the most incredible stories connected with the contest over the years was brought to light last year by the previous titleholder, Miss Sandie Kaye of Plaistow. Competing in the program in 1960, after urging from her friends, Sandie placed second. A month later, she took top honors in the Miss New England contest and the next year was back at the beach again. This time she captured the hearts of the judges and the audience to become the first girl to hold both the titles of Miss New England and Miss Hampton Beach simultaneously.

Not satisfied with these achievements, Sandie later became Miss New Hampshire 1962 for the Miss Universe contest and set a sparkling example for other girls to follow as she placed fifth in the Miss USA contest.

Equally exciting has been the story of the first local girl to rise to local beauty contest fame. Jonnye McLeod likewise placed among the top five girls in two earlier beach contests prior to taking the coveted Miss Hampton

MISS UNIVERSE CONTESTANTS from New England held what seemed like a class reunion as they boarded the plane at Logan International airport last Wednesday evening for their trip to Miami, Florida. Three of the girls, Miss New Hampshire, Jonnye McLeod of Hampton, Miss Massachusetts, Su-Su Smith of Newton Upper Falls, Mass. and Miss Vermont, Ellen Centerbar, all competed against one another at local Hampton Beach contests last year. The three girls shown above, who competed locally, ran the number to ten girls in the 15 years of local contests who have gone on to take part either in the Miss America or Miss Universe contests. Shown as they prepared to depart for Miami Beach, Florida are, left to right, Miss Centerbar, Miss McLeod, Miss Smith, and Laurel Baker, Miss Maine and Gail Dinan, Miss Connecticut. Not shown was Miss Rhode Island, Rosemarie Dickinson. The New England contestants will be seen via CBS television during the Miss Universe pageant Saturday evening, July 20.

Outings Designed For Vacationers

Vacationers seeking diversion from their day-to-day activities will welcome special one-day outings now being offered by Trailways to favorite New Hampshire locations.

Convenient round-trip schedules allow you to depart in the morning, enjoy an exciting change of scenery, and return to your vacation center in ample time for evening activities.

Two separate tours are offered, including a visit to the summit of Mount Washington, and a four-hour sail around picturesque Lake Winnepesaukee.

Trailways buses depart daily for these two areas, from Hampton Beach, Portsmouth, Dover and Rochester.

In addition, the Mount Washington tour also is available to vacationers staying at Alton Bay, Wolfeboro, Center Ossipee, Conway and North Conway, while those vacationing at Rye Beach, Farmington and New Durham, may leave via Trailways, for the Lake Winnepesaukee tour.

The one-day excursion to the summit of Mount Washington includes a comfortable Trailways ride to the Glen House, and an auto trip on the famous Toll Highway en route to New England's highest peak.

Vacationers who wish to bypass Glen House may go to scenic North Conway for lunch, sightseeing, and a ride on the Skimobile up Cranmore Mountain. Other alternative itineraries also are available.

A ride via Trailways bus, to Alton Bay, and a leisurely lunch at popular Weirs Beach precedes the relaxing boat tour of beautiful Lake Winnepesaukee aboard the modern craft, Mount Washington.

Lake Winnepesaukee is renowned for its clear waters, natural beauty, and breeze-swept beaches. Known as the "big lake" because of its 72 square miles of water surface, and 136 miles of shore line, it offers an ideal facility for boating, fishing, bathing, and other vacation activities.

Your local Trailways travel agent will help you plan your outing to fit your personal schedule.

Viewer Added To Facilities At Sea Shell

As one facet of the over-all facilities at Hampton Beach made possible through the cooperation of the state officials, a viewing machine has recently been set up on the second story veranda of the southerly wing of the Sea Shell. From this vantage spot many spots and items of interest can be seen including Cape Ann, ships at sea and the historic Isles of Shoals.

Seen by nearly every visitor to the area on clear days, the Isles of Shoals are the islands northeast of Hampton Beach. In 1650, there were 600 residents on the islands which were then a thriving port of fisheries. There are seven islands here, and on the largest, Star Island, there is a hotel where conferences of the Unitarian and Congregational churches are held during the summer. White's Island holds the lighthouse which can be seen from Hampton Beach and it was here that Celia Thaxter's father was lighthouse keeper and Celia Thaxter wrote many of her poems, the most famous being "The Little Sandpiper and I". Legend has it that Capt. Kidd hid some of his famous treasure on these craggy outposts, and as the visitor studies the crevices and crannies among the rocks, he can almost picture the old boy, hiding his ill-gotten loot. You may take a boat trip from Portsmouth daily, 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

The ledge of Horseshoe Falls at Niagara is being worn back about five feet each year. The ledge at American Falls is receding by about one-half foot per year.

An average of 20 million persons was injured at home each year in the two-year period July, 1959, through June, 1961, the U. S. Public Health Service reports.

SEA SIDE SURREY, one of the latest types of recreation to be added to the many facilities at Hampton Beach designed to serve the vacationist is the unique vehicle shown above. Trips are made three times weekly along the historic New Hampshire seacoast from the local beach area to New Castle. Information may be obtained at the chamber of commerce or at the surrey.

"Surrey" Tours Sea Side

Commencing last week, visitors to Hampton Beach may now take a fresh air excursion along the entire seacoast from Hampton Beach to New Castle via the latest accommodation, the Sea-Side Surrey.

Each Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings at 10 a.m. the surrey leaves the chamber of commerce - Sea Shell area and visits such places as the Fuller Gardens, Rye Beach, Rye Harbor, Wallis Sands, Wentworth-by-the-Sea, Fort Constitution, New Castle and also provides the opportunity for sight-seers to view Portsmouth Harbor and the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard.

Explained during the trip are such historic sights as the famed Hampton River Mile Long wooden bridge recently replaced by the new span at the southerly end of the beach. Proceeding north, the tourists will hear of "Daddy" Ashworth and the Hotel Ashworth together with the Marine Memorial.

A brief description of Great Boar's Head will be given in which it will be noted that it is believed the son of Lief Ericson landed there many years before the pilgrims. It was after this area of Hampton Beach that the original name of Hampton was called. It was an Indian name — Winnacunnit — which means "beautiful land of pines". History states that at that time, all of Boar's Head was covered with tall and beautiful pines.

The visitor will hear of how the State of New Hampshire has spent millions of dollars to protect the seashore area by the construction of seawalls. Proceeding north, a view of the Coast Guard station and the North Beach area will be seen and discussed. It will also be explained that just beyond the Coast Guard station are the remains of a colony of ancient fish houses and the present Sea Shore park.

Visitors will see such estates as the Charles Garland estate, one of the oldest seashore homes still standing, and the area's newest, the Barker estate, showing a touch of the old and the new. The Little Boar's Head areas, the North Hampton fish houses, Studebaker estate and others are seen before the vehicle leaves the seacoast area. It then passes to the rear of such estates as the Fuller grounds and the Fuller chapel. The visitor on the surrey will have the opportunity of touring the Fuller rose gardens.

The Farragut House, one of New England's oldest hotels and the Clement Studebaker Estate, judged by the National Architects association shortly after completion as the best laid out house in America, will also be seen. St. Peters-by-the-Sea can be viewed from a distance and the Rye Beach club will also be seen.

Also on the trip, the visitor will view Herb Philbrick's store, a landmark of interest inasmuch as the man who wrote "I Led Three Lives", originally owned the store. Straw's Point in Rye was originally settled in 1622, only two years after the pilgrims landed at Plymouth. Also viewed is the multi-million dollar Rye Harbor and Rye State Park areas together with Wallis Sands State Park areas.

Camp Langdon, Wentworth-by-the-Sea, Wentworth Golf course, Mike's Marina, Fort Constitution and the historic town of New Castle are seen.

Reservations for the trip may be made at the chamber of commerce or at the busmobile.

John Forsythe and Patricia Barry In "Kind Sir"

John Forsythe and Patricia Barry opened at John Lane's Ogunquit Playhouse, Ogunquit, Maine, Monday evening, July 15 in Norman Krasna's sophisticated, romantic comedy "Kind Sir".

Mr. Forsythe, star of television's popular, long-running series "Bachelor Father" and highly acclaimed for roles in the Broadway hits "Mr. Roberts" and "The Teahouse of the August Moon" as well as in many of Hollywood's finest films, co-stars with Patricia Barry, one of television's loveliest and most sought-after actresses whose countless video performances on all networks have won her two "Emmy" nominations, in the comedy the New York Times termed "a romp".

"Kind Sir", the mocking, amusing tale of the romance and accompanying entanglements between a banker/diplomat and a beautiful, highly successful actress, bears the gay imprint of the author's bantering style known to playgoers in such other Krasna Broadway hits as "Dear Ruth", "John Loves Mary", and the more recent "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?".

Appearing with John Forsythe and Patricia Barry in this light, flippant comedy, directed by Gus Schirmer, Jr., will be Marv Cooper, Frank Milan, Hildegarde Halliday and Don Doherty.

Evening performances are Monday thru, Saturday at 8:40. Matinees, Wednesday and Friday at 2:45. The Box Office is open every day except Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Phone reservations are accepted at Midway 6-5511.

N. H. Day is Slated For Fenway Park

According to present plans, Hampton Beach will long be remembered by at least one member of the Red Sox "family" following the proposed New Hampshire Day at Fenway Park on July 28.

Local lobstermen hope to lure a whopper of that species of crustacea into their nets between now and the 28th. It will be presented to Public Relations Director Bill Crowley and, according to officials, should serve as "a tasty reminder to the Crowleys that it was at Hampton Beach that Bill first met the girl whom he was later to marry."

Among the awards to be made to personalities identified with the Red Sox official family is expected to be a live turkey. The gobler will go to Curt Gowdy, the "Voice of the Red Sox". The bird is being donated by the Rosemore Farms of Goffstown, raisers annually of more than 40,000 quality turkeys. Gowdy will be asked to temporarily surrender custody of the young tom-turkey, so that it may be returned to its New Hampshire home, fattened up and be returned, dressed, to grace the Gowdy table on Thanksgiving.

Many awards will be given from the various regional associations around the state together with many individual awards. The Division of Parks is awarding passes for rides on the Cannon Mountain Aerial tramway to all the Red Sox players.

Most of the awards will be made by Gov. John King in the home plate area between the first and second games with Los Angeles. The Division of Economic Development has been doing the "leg work" on the Fenway Park project and announces it still has available box and reserved-grandstand seats in "New Hampshireville." Deadline for purchasing tickets through Mrs. Pat Vliet at the DED office in the State House Annex at Concord is July 22.

Beach Playground Has Busy Season
 Only five species of monkeys are equipped to swing by their tails; other species lack the prehensile adaptation.

Each year, the John C. White Memorial Playground just south of the Sea Shell provides a play mecca for thousands of boys and girls visiting Hampton Beach. Over the years, many changes have taken place. The playground was formerly open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. during the summer season only. Mr. Gagne not only had the hours extended from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. in July and to 7 p.m. in August, but also made arrangements to have the playground remain open on a year 'round basis. During the winter months, the equipment was formerly dismantled and stored. Now, even on a cold winters day with snow on the ground, children can be seen playing in the area. Children from every state in the union and Canada have visited the playground. Although the attendants on duty are not actually baby sitters, they perform many such duties and maintain proper discipline among the visiting boys and girls. Mr. Gagne also supplied two uniforms each and official badges for the attendants.

On colder days, when weather is not ideal for swimming, the play area is often jammed to capacity. Even adults like to use the facilities and have to be frequently reminded the equipment is built for children only. The John C. White Memorial Playground, maintained by the precinct commissioners, is one more reason why Hampton Beach has become nationally known as the family beach.

Isinglass is obtained from the bladders of sturgeon, cod and hake fish.

Student Honored By Local Firemen

The Hampton Beach Fire department and Firemen's Relief association this week announced they will honor the late Robert Trofater by having his name placed on the special memorial plaque in the High street cemetery. The plaque was designed to honor all past members of the local department.

Although the former Winnacunnet student, who died suddenly and unexpectedly, was not a regular member of the local department because of his age and insurance problems, he nevertheless was a member in good standing of the local Firemen's Relief association and was an unofficial fire fighter. Lt. William Stickney reported this week that the name of Robert Trofater will be engraved on the Firemen's Memorial plaque in the near future.

EVERYONE WAS A WINNER in the junior division of the Monday evening talent show held at the Sea Shell as only four participants took part. Patricia Sullivan, left, took second place while third place winners, Debbie McDonald and Mary Ann Walsh, tied for that spot. Top honors went to Ilona Bolich, right, of Manchester.

In further honors, the members of the local department in full dress uniform, served as an honor guard at the recent funeral services for the 16-year-old youth.

Firemen experienced a light week during the past several days. On July 12 at 10:20 a.m., a false alarm was sounded from Box 18 on Ashworth avenue at C street.

Car 20, the fire department chief's car and ambulance was called to service on July 13 at 1:30 p.m. in taking 2 1/2-year-old Gary Leach to the office of Dr. Roger Blake where he was treated for a cut finger. Gary was from Medford, Mass.

Also on July 13 at 7:27 p.m., an alarm was sounded from Box 3. Firemen responded to the Bridge Market where they reported a hot water heater had apparently overheated and was believed to have been a fire. Engine 4 responded.

Kowalski left a lasting impression on an engrossed audience. Certainly not to be forgotten on the list of memorable performances is Valerie Veroska's portrayal of Blanche DuBois, the degenerate, aristocratic, sister-in-law. Valerie Veroska's attention to dialogue movement and mood made her performance a true interpretation of the part.

Before closing, mention must be made of the highly commendable jobs done by Darcy Pulliam as Stella Kowalski and Harry Cohn as Steve Hubbell.

IRA Holds Hostage At Playhouse

"The Hostage", by Brendan Behan, is the rowdy, blistering comedy - drama - musical - vaudeville hit show that has delighted audiences everywhere from Paris to London, New York to Texas, with its lusty irreverence and uproarious satire and will be playing at the Hampton Playhouse from July 22 thru July 27.

If you can imagine a bad dream that is a good dream, you will have come close to the "pot au feu" that Mr. Behan has stirred up with a witch's ladle and then slopped, with nightmare gayety all over the stage. The curtain rises on a feverish jig. When this broth settles down — but it never does settle down, and they're back on their toes the minute a tinny piano tinkles — we learn that we are housed in a brothel, and while a dozen raffish idlers, toppers, lechers and perverts are pursuing their nightly devotions, the seedy place is going to become a temporary prison.

The plot involves a young British soldier held as hostage, (in a wild house of ill repute), for a TRA fighter due to be hanged in Belfast jail the following morning. Basically, that's a peg for a powerful and poignant drama, but not in Behan's hands. With a remarkable flair for raising a laugh and for sharp lines of dialogue, the playwright emphasizes comedy. There are some twenty-odd songs and dances plus a few barroom favorites that are outrageously funny!

The inhabitants of this mad house whose antics divert the young soldier through his night of capture include several "ladies of the evening", a fruity "sociable worker," a mad Anglo-Irish (i.e. a Protestant with a horse) patriot, a former rebel with a game leg, a hypocritical civil servant, a butterfly of a young man, and other zanies. Involved in a tender orphan girl who works as maid in the house.

Time Magazine said, "The play is sprawling, choking, howling, off-key marvelously in tune, humane and hilarious."

Wyman Seeks Polaris Job For Shipyard

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara was asked last week by U. S. Rep. Louis Wyman to give the contract for one of the proposed $40 million Polaris submarines to the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard.

He said last Thursday that he told McNamara in a letter that the cost factor "will be kept at an absolute minimum." Wyman said the contract is needed at Portsmouth to keep its 9,000 employees working.

Warning Issued On Watching Eclipse

An eclipse of the sun on Saturday, July 20, will be partially observable in every state except Hawaii.

In conjunction with the eclipse, a warning was issued in a letter recently passed along to the Hampton Publishing Co. by Winnacunnet High School assistant principal Allan Bushold. The letter notes that "every student and teacher should be personally interested in the content of a letter received by the New Hampshire Deputy Commissioner of Education, Paul Farnum, from Edward W. Mathews, executive director of the New Hampshire Association for the Blind. The body of the letter states:

"This summer, a natural phenomenon is scheduled to occur in this part of the world. Although it is interesting and wonderful to observe, it can prove permanently disabling.

"July 20, 1963 from 1:04 to 6:07 p.m., an eclipse of the sun is scheduled to take place. It is figured that the view of the total eclipse will be in Maine, so it is quite likely that we in New Hampshire shall be able to see a considerable part of the event.

"In the past people have watched the eclipse through dark glasses, smoked glass, photographic film, and the like, and they thought that they were protecting their eyes. The truth of the matter is that there is no safe way to observe the sun directly, and permanent burn damage to the eye can result. Recommended ways are to watch eclipse over television or by the cardboard reflector method.

"My purpose in writing to you is to bring this information of danger to the eyes to your attention in the possibility that you may be able to provide a warning to our school students and their parents. I hope that the suffering caused by needless eye injury may be avoided.

"Thank you for any attention you may give to this matter."

Mr. Mathews recommends watching "the eclipse over television or by the cardboard reflector method". The first method is self-explanatory, but students, teachers and parents may wonder how the cardboard reflector method works. It basically involves any apparatus which will produce an image of the sun, in focus on a screen (cardboard, translucent frosted glass or tracing paper). The observer, therefore, looks at the image and avoids certain harmful solar radiations.

This image can be produced by a variety of devices:

A camera with a ground glass screen.

A telescope with its image on a screen.

The sun shining through a pinhole onto a screen in a darkened room.

A pin-hole camera with a translucent back.

The eclipse in southern New Hampshire and southern Maine is scheduled to begin at approximately 4:40 p.m. The maximum amount of the sun to be obscured in this area is 94.4 percent which is to be exceeded only by Fairbanks, Alaska by less than 1 percentage point.

Historic houses in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, open in mid-June and remain open through mid-September. Among these Colonial homes are those of John Paul Jones (1758); Wentworth-Coolidge Mansion (1630); Richard Jackson home (1664); Wentworth Gardner (1760); Moffat-Ladd (1763); Thomas Bailey Aldrich Memorial home (1790); Warner home (1716); Gov. Beach crown. She is presently one of the youngest girls to be taking part in the Miss USA and Miss Universe contests at Miami in representing the Granite state.

Over the years the contest has been both large and small. In 1950, only 11 girls competed but in 1956 a record high of 44 young ladies took part. The early contests were held on the new historic bandstand with John Dineen, past chamber president and owner of the Casino Ballroom, later offering the services of the ballroom for the staging of the pageant.

Perhaps the most incredible portion of the Miss Hampton Beach story is the work of Production Manager Henry Hamel. In his 11th year with the local chamber, Henry, year after year, has persuaded girls to enter the contest with many being a little reluctant and scared to do so. But in the case of Jonny McLeod, Sandie Kay, Dianne Lipson, Carolyn Komant, Sally Ann Freedman, Sandra Ramsey, Sandra Sadowski and Lyla Moran, among others, a proud Henry Hamel has seen his girls bring honor not only to themselves but also to their respective states in achieving national fame. All the above girls participated in either the Miss America or Miss Universe contests after their starts at Hampton Beach.

Girls from all sections of the United States, Canada and Cuba have competed over the years. Massachusetts holds the honor of having the most winners with eight, New Hampshire now has two winners while Maine, Rhode Island and Canadian girls have placed first.

The oldest girl to cop the title was Gaynor Jenkins, a Canadian lass who won at age 22 in 1952. Seven girls share youngest winning honors at 17. Six girls including Jonny McLeod, Caryle Cadaro, Sally Atkinson, Barbara Curran, Sally Ann Freedman and Sandie Kaye placed in the top five one year and then, displaying determination, came back in following years to take top honors.

Over the years, some of the area's top personalities including such names as Claire Devaney, Dinny Whitmarsh, Ted Ashby, Claude Higgins, Cliff Taylor, Doris Romaine, James Broderick, Walter Greene, Mary Tierney and others have served as judges.

The girls are chosen on a modified point system modeled after the Miss Universe contest. Following elimination rounds, the girls continue to accumulate points for poise, personality, face and form. No talent is required although many of the girls have much talent. Girls are attired in bathing suits and high heel shoes. Evening gowns are displayed at the Coronation Ball.

Over the years, "Bill" Elliot has served as master of ceremonies for the affair and puts the finishing touches on a production already made beautiful and exciting by Mr. Hamel.

Safety Tips For Boaters

The American Red Cross recently released advice on safe use of boats and pleasure craft. They offered the following safety tips for boaters:

1. Keep the passengers in your boat down to a safety number. Don't overcrowd.
2. Don't overpower your boat. Your dealer can tell you what size motor is safe.
3. Equip your boat with safety items. A life jacket for every passenger and a stern light (if you plan to be on the water at night) are "musts". Recommended also are anchor, oars, boat hook, extra line, fire extinguisher, tool kit and first aid kit.

4. Don't smoke while fueling.
5. If your rowboat capsizes or overturns, don't swim away from it. Hang on until help comes. It usually will float.

FAMED MARINE MEMORIAL, erected some years ago to honor the boys of New Hampshire who have lost their lives at sea, has become a cherished landmark for newcomers visiting Hampton Beach. It is also the site of Memorial services held several times a year by members of Hamptons Post 35 American Legion.

Marine Memorial Is World Famous

One of the famed and more popular sights at Hampton Beach is the Marine Memorial located opposite the Hotel Ashworth. Visitors have traveled from far and wide to view the monument which was erected some years ago and has since served as a spot for annual local memorial services to boys and men who have lost their lives at sea.

Eighteen years ago, the canvas wrapped body of a young army officer slid into the South Pacific. His dad brought back his boy's identity through this beautiful Memorial.

The monument is the lengthened shadow of William E. Downs, whose vision made possible the granite lady. The Memorial is not only a tribute to Capt. William D. Downs, who fought in World War II, but to hundreds of other men and women who died for their country. It is a "place to remember" for all New Hampshire veterans, whose bodies were never recovered.

Parents, friends and visitors join in ceremonies, or solitary silence to pay tribute to the honored dead, whose names are carved in granite beside the beautiful lady.

This memorial was not erected to those who swim or sunbathe nearby, yet it is for them too, if it reminds them of the LOCAL OLD SALT is James Haughton, 11, 76 Locke road, Hampton. Jim gained membership last week in the historic club which honors those who bring home the big ones as he boated a 4-lb. halibut while recently fishing from a Smith-Gilmore party boat.

Local Youth Tapped By Old Salts Club

Early this week, three new applications were received at the chamber of commerce office for membership in the Old Salts club. The newcomers brought to a total of seven those who have qualified and registered to date during the 1963 season.

Heading the group was an 11-year-old Hampton youngster who qualified late last week with a catch of a 4-lb. halibut. The catch was the biggest of the fishing party on the Smith and Gilmore craft from which Jim was fishing. Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Haughton of 76 Locke road.

Joseph E. Brown, 6 Smith street, Cumberland, R. I., also qualified for membership by catching a 10-lb. haddock. He received his certificate, membership card and Old Salts arm patch at the chamber of commerce.

William Gadzuk, 45 Main street, Chelmsford, Mass., was the third person to qualify during the week by catching an 8-lb. haddock. His catch was made from an Al Gauron fishing boat operating out of the State Pier.

Membership in the cherished club is still open and all a person needs to do to qualify is to have his catch certified with the boat captain or office personnel at either the Al Gauron Party Fishing office or the Smith and Gilmore office. If the catch meets the minimum requirements, the person may register for the club at the chamber of commerce office.

In a letter recently forwarded to the Hampton Police department, the men of the local police force were commended by the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce for their work during the recent Fourth of July weekend.

The letter forwarded to Chief Roden by Executive Secretary "Bill" Elliot, on behalf of the directors, reads as follows: "The Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors voted unanimously to commend the Hampton Beach Police department for the excellent and orderly manner in which traffic and crowds were handled over the recent 4th of July holidays.

"We know your men worked long and hard, conscientiously and seriously to make sure that no problems such as occurred in the past could develop during the 1963 Independence Day celebration."

Girl Steals Hearts At Talent Show

Everyone who participated in the Monday evening talent show this week was a winner. Some of the persons who had previously registered failed to show up for the performances.

Nevertheless, the competition was some of the keenest ever at the local Sea Shell. In the junior division, four petite girls battled it out for top honors with 5-year-old Ilona, 1679 Brown avenue, Seabrook, emerging with the trophy award of the initial performance. The daughter of regular concert organist at the beach, Paul Bolich, Ilona led her way into the hearts of the overflow Sea Shell audience with an acrobatic routine "Never On Sunday."

Patricia Sullivan, 63 Bestick street, Braintree, Mass., took top place honors when she did an acrobatic dance. She was accompanied by the "Shadow Waltz."

Debbie McDonald, 7, 58 Hawthorn street, Lawrence, Mass., Mary Ann Walsh, 8, 79 Ryan terrace, Shrewsbury, Mass., tied for the third place. Debbie did a song and dance routine to "You're Just a Fool" while Mary Ann also competed with a song and dance routine.

Bill McGinness, who has sung many times from the old Hampton Beach bandstand with his family, took the spotlight alone Monday evening and, flashing an outstanding smile and personality, walked off with top senior division honors. Bill, 17, 20 Pierce avenue, Beverly, Mass., an annual summer visitor to Hampton Beach each summer sang "This Is the Story of Charlie of the MTA" and accompanied himself on the guitar.

Danny Kirmel, 14, 344 Summer street, Lynn, Mass., was back for another try this season and just missed first place as he placed second with the singing of "My Kind of Gal" and tap dance routine to "My Heart Stood Still."

Billy Cox, another past performer in the local shows took third place. The Andover, Mass. resident sang "Zing Went the

Court Revision Bill Approved by Legislature

The bill revising the state's municipal court system for the first time in 50 years was one of the many bills passed by the legislature in the final days of its current session. The measure has the support of Gov. John King and would eventually eliminate municipal courts.

The bill would abolish 100 three municipal courts in existence and would be set up 37 district courts. It would be a process of attrition, however, with judges being left the option of leaving their municipal courts during the tenure of judges on the bench.

Sen. Herbert W. Rainie, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee for the Senate, described the bill as "not perfect" but a step toward a complete district court system of the future — perhaps in about 10 years.

Local criminal matters would remain in the jurisdiction of municipal courts still in existence but all civil cases would be transferred to district courts.

Local CG Aids Bay State Man

A Stoneham, Mass. man, Armen Romanelli, 49, a passenger on the Rio Roc fishing party boat, was treated for a shark wound last week. The wound became imbedded in the hand of the deep sea fisherman. The Hampton Beach Coast Guard was contacted to assist after meeting the craft off the Boat's Head, Mr. Romanelli was taken to a doctor.

Gold was discovered on Boston Creek in the Klondike in 1896 by George Carmack and his Indian companions.

Queen City Beauty Captures Miss Hampton Beach Crown

MISS HAMPTON BEACH 1963-64, Beverly Ann Hebert, 18, Manchester, N. H., became the third New Hampshire girl in the past three consecutive years to cop the coveted title. The win came after five rounds of judging during which Miss Hebert piled up 71 of a possible 100 points. Placing a close second, only a few points behind the winner, was a local area girl, Miss Frances Houlihan of Seabrook, N. H. Third place honors went to Miss Lynda Rauding, also of Manchester. The Massachusetts girls win gave New Hampshire girls three winners in the 16 years of the contest. Massachusetts girls still hold the most wins with eight. Miss Hampton Beach was the third tallest girl in the contest at 5'8". The former title holder, Miss Jonnye McLeod, was unable to be present because of commitments in Florida following the Miss Universe contest. She will, however, be present for the official coronation ceremonies in August. — Photo by Colt

Miss Beverly Ann Hebert, an 18-year-old beauty from Manchester, became Miss Hampton Beach of 1963-64 in the annual beauty pageant staged by the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce under the direction of Henry Hamel and William Elliot last evening in the Casino Ballroom.

Sponsored by the Casino Ballroom, the 5'8" brunette contestant weighed 140 well-distributed pounds and her vital statistics read 36-25-36.

The second place winner and the first runnerup to Miss Hebert was a senior at Winnacunnet High school in Hampton, Miss Frances Houlihan of Seabrook. Miss Houlihan, in her first try in the local competition, piled up an impressive number of points as she was edged out by the winner. Only 16 years of age, she was the youngest girl to place in the top three this year. She was sponsored by the Tides Hotel.

Third place honors and second runnerup awards went to another Manchester lass, Lynda Rauding, 30 So. Taylor street. She, too, made a lasting impression on the judges and audience as she accumulated many final round points to walk off with the third place honors. Lynda was sponsored by the Anchorage Restaurant.

Thirty-seven contestants entered this year's race for the coveted Miss Hampton Beach title and faced tough competition. While Frank Lawlor's Hampton Beach Concert Band played background music, the girls were rated by a distinguished panel of judges headed by Claire Devaney, TV celebrity and well-known area fashion coordinator. Others on the panel were Walter Green, photo-editor for Associated Press International; Denny Whitmarsh, New England TV news expert; Jack Hamilton of the amusement section of the Boston Globe; and Claude Higgins from the Sullivan Agency, Boston, Mass.

This year, all top five girls received honors in the final stages of the contest. Selected as the fourth runnerup was Miss Louise Ann Richardson of Georgetown, Mass., the present reigning Miss New England. The third runnerup was Miss Nancy Joan Brackett, a comely blonde from Brighton, Mass.

Area residents will be interested to know that another Hampton girl, Miss Pam Hunter, sponsored by the Hampton Beach Lifeguards, placed seventh in the contest. Pam, an honor graduate of Winnacunnet High this year, was eliminated in the last round.

In an impressive ceremony, Miss Hebert received her robe and flowers from members of the court. She was crowned by Jay Dineen and was presented her trophy and savings bond by Joseph Flynn, president of the chamber of commerce. Trophies, crowns and savings bonds were also presented to the first two runnersup.

The new Miss Hampton Beach will be officially crowned by Miss Jonnye McLeod at the Coronation Ball in the Casino Ballroom, August 21. An interesting side-note to the contest is that Jonnye is now in Miami Beach, Florida, where she has been a participant in the Miss Universe contest as a result of winning the Hampton Beach title last year. This week, her proud parents were notified that she was being given screen and talent tests and therefore would not be at home for the local beauty contest last night.
