

Resuscitator Calls Keep Firemen Busy

Fourteen calls for various forms of assistance kept the members of the Hampton Fire department unusually busy during the past week.

July 22 — A call at 8:30 a.m. found firemen responding to Hobson avenue with the resuscitator. Frank MacWaters, 74, Malden, Mass., was DOA.

July 24 — Firemen were called to C street at 6:47 p.m. to wash down gasoline which was overflowing from an automobile. No fire resulted.

July 25 — Firemen teamed up to render a combined first aid and resuscitator assistance in taking Mrs. Donna Shaw, 43 Orchard street, Leominster, Mass., to the Exeter Hospital from Ocean boulevard at the center of the beach. The call was received at 1:06 p.m.

At 2:55 p.m., Jeane Dohens, Nashua, N. H., was rushed to the Exeter Hospital in the fire department ambulance after sustaining a cut on her arm and hand. She was taken from the fire station. Still later the same day at 4:27 p.m., firemen were called to transport Mrs. Gloria Joashin, Central Falls, R. I., to the Exeter Hospital after she sustained a cut foot. Firemen rendered first aid and then took the patient to the hospital from L street and the boulevard.

July 26 — At 2 p.m., firemen were called to give resuscitator assistance to George W. Hughes, 191 9th street, Providence, R. I. The call was received from Wall street at the beach. A few minutes earlier at 1:55 p.m. firemen responded to a radio alarm from the town radio to extinguish a small grass fire located next to Taylor river on the Toll road, Interstate 95, Tank 1 and Car 20 responded.

At 6:45 p.m. firemen rendered first aid to Judson Ovington, 17, Terry street, Georgetown, Mass., at the rear of the Casino. The same day the fire department pick-up truck responded to Ocean boulevard to wash down gasoline outside a beach establishment.

At 8:55 p.m. firemen were called to the new town dump location and spent approximately 1½ hours at that site extinguishing a dump fire. The tank and truck and the pick-up truck responded.

July 27 — Firemen responded to a call from the police department to render resuscitator and ambulance aid at the Wave Motel on Ocean boulevard. George Cupi, 18, Watertown, Mass., was taken to the Exeter Hospital.

Resuscitator aid was also given to James Besso, West Newton, Mass., and firemen also filled a tank with oxygen which belonged to Mr. Besso for his use. The call came to firemen at 9:50 p.m.

Daniel Lebel, Hartford, Conn., was given resuscitator aid and was taken to the Exeter Hospital by police at 10:25 p.m.

July 28 — Firemen responded to a false alarm for resuscitator aid to Bradford avenue at 1:25 p.m.

Walter Slezak At Ogunquit Playhouse

Walter Slezak, in his only New England appearance this season, opened at John Lane's Ogunquit Playhouse, Ogunquit, Maine, in the Peter Ustinov comedy "Romanoff and Juliet" Monday evening, July 29.

The versatile Mr. Slezak needs no introduction to theatre, television and motion picture audiences. Remembered for his sparkling performances on Broadway in "My Three Angels", the musical hit "Fanny" for which he won the Antoinette Perry Award, and the more recent murder-comedy success "The Gazebo", the

The BEACHCOMBER

Vienna-born actor first zoomed to stardom in this country in the film "Lifeboat". Since then his unique talents have been enjoyed in numerous fine pictures including "The Miracle" made recently for Warner Brothers, and video viewers have seen him on many of that medium's most distinguished shows. Mr. Slezak, the author of the best-seller "What Time Is The Next Swan?", a book about his father the famed Leo Slezak, himself appeared at The Met in "The Gypsy Baron" during the 1959-60 season.

Laid in the "smallest country in Europe", Romanoff and Juliet describes the romance between the Soviet ambassador's son and the daughter of the U. S. ambassador, and the resulting tizzy in both embassies heightened by the hilarious antics of the toy country's head, originally portrayed by author Ustinov for a year on Broadway and re-created at Ogunquit by Walter Slezak.

Directed by Malcolm Black, the cast includes Michael Gorrin, Joseph Boland, and Marie Powers, remembered in the title role of Carlo Menotti's "The Medium".

Evening performances are at 8:40 Monday thru Saturday, with Matinees Wednesday and Friday at 2:45. The Box Office is open every day except Sunday. Reservations may be made at Midway 6-5511.

A permanent wheat kitchen has been established at the Medical Center in East Pakistan to develop new wheat recipes.

Miss New England Contest Will Be Staged Next Tuesday

Following a year's reign as New England's most beautiful girl, a pretty Georgetown, Mass., lass, Louise Ann Richardson, will relinquish her crown to the new Miss New England at the end of next week's contest.

The Miss New England beauty pageant, second major event of the 1963 beach summer season and prelude to Mardi Gras week entertainment-wise, will be staged at the Casino ballroom next Tuesday evening, August 13 beginning at 8:30 p.m. The affair will again be under the direction of Production Manager Henry Hamel, now in his 11th year in that capacity, with William "Bill" Elliot serving as master of ceremonies.

This will be the 7th annual Miss New England contest with the present program having been an outgrowth, in 1957, of several previous contests which augmented the Miss Hampton Beach contest.

At that time, weekly contests were held out-of-doors on the stage of the old bandstand and were known as the Miss Personality, Miss Glamor Girl, Miss Sunshine and Miss Sea Nymph contests. Girls participating in the Miss Personality contest were required to wear cotton or sunback dresses. Those competing in the Miss Glamor Girl pageant wore cocktail gowns or afternoon dresses while those in the Miss Sunshine contest were required to wear shorts and blouses or sweaters. The Miss Sea Nymph contest found entrants competing in swim suits or beach outfits.

These contests were staged as a prelude to the Miss Hampton Beach contest in 1954, 1955 and 1956. In 1957, they were combined to make one gigantic pageant to coincide with the Miss Hampton Beach contest. Although it has not reached the status of its famed sister contest, it is, nevertheless, becoming increasingly larger with each passing year.

Some of the interesting statistics which go with this contest are as follows:

In 1959 and 1960, 23 girls participated making for the lowest number of contestants to compete. Last year, in 1962, 33 girls took part for the largest number of girls to date.

Massachusetts took over the lead in winners last year when Miss Richardson copped the title. Up to that GETTING ACQUAINTED prior to the Miss New England Beauty contest next Tuesday evening at the Hampton Beach Casino Ballroom are, left to right, Joetta Miller, Patricia Curtin, Karen Pimentel, Lorraine Paradise and Linda Jordan. The above quintet are only a few of the more than 30 girls who will be vying for the crown now held by Miss Louise Ann Richardson of Georgetown, Mass.

HAMPTON BEACH MARINA is the home for many year round and visiting boats. The local business built up in a few years by Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Helen Gilmore is one of the finest such marine establishments in many a mile. Just a few of the varying size ships which tie up in the local basin each year are shown in the above photo.

Deaths & Funerals

ALBERT F. CARBONNEAU
EXETER - Albert F. Carbonneau of 5 Walnut street, died at Concord hospital August 3 after a long illness.

A native of Exeter and lifelong resident, he was born Dec. 6, 1904. For 19 years, he was a foreman for the Allied N. H. Gas company in the Hampton Beach area. On Nov. 18, 1948, he suffered almost total paralysis in a freak blasting accident. For 20 years he served with the Exeter Fire department, Company 2.

Members of the family include his wife, Mrs. Ruth (Wiggin) Carbonneau; a son, Albert F. Carbonneau, Jr. of Hartford, Conn.; two daughters, Mrs. R. Donald Biron of West Acton, Mass., and Mrs. Richard Wilson of Newmarket; nine grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Alma Kusiak and Mrs. Rose Marcotte, both of Exeter, and Mrs. Alice Baillargeon of Hampton Falls; five brothers, Michael J. and Arthur, both of Island Pond, Vt., Lionel J., J. Harold and Jerome J., all of Exeter.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Exeter Funeral home followed by a high requiem mass at St. Michael's church. Burial was in the family lot at Exeter cemetery. Pall bearers were all nephews of Mr. Carbonneau.

Local Coast Guard Aids Bay Staters

The "Wee Three" which encountered engine trouble less than a mile off Godfrey's Ledge was towed to shore by the U. S. Coast Guard during the past week.

The Coast Guard 30-foot utility boat towed the disabled craft to safety with the boat's owner, Mrs. Martha Rogers of Andover, Mass., and two other persons on board.

LAST SECTION OF EXETER-HAMPTON EXPRESSWAY was opened following brief formal ceremonies at 2 p.m. Monday afternoon. Shown representing state Highway Commissioner John Morton and cutting the ribbon to open the final segment of the road is Mr. Charles Downing, construction engineer. Shown as Mr. Downing cuts the ribbon, are many local and state dignitaries most of whom worked in some way toward seeing the road completed.

Beach Expressway Opened

The final section of the Exeter-Hampton Beach expressway was opened to traffic shortly after 2 p.m. Monday afternoon, August 5.

Traditional ribbon cutting ceremonies were observed at the Lafayette road interchange. Arrangements for the program were made through the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce by Executive secretary William Elliot.

Numerous local, area, and state officials were present for the ceremony which saw an entirely new panoramic area being opened up to travelers along with the opening of the new highway.

Charles Downing, construction engineer for the New Hampshire Highway department and representing Commissioner John O. Morton who was unable to be present for the ceremonies, cut the ribbon to open the highway to traffic a few minutes after 2 p.m. Present with Mr. Downing representing the state were Traffic Engineer Larry Morrill and Area Supervisor Ted Novak.

Beach Notes Change In Spending Habits

Canadian tourists, according to statistics compiled recently in the Seacoast area, are apparently eating more and buying less in the way of merchandise in the local vacation area than previously. A check of area banks, restaurants, motels and stores revealed this factor.

In restaurants and motels, business area-wise appears to be in excess or at least equal to last year's volume regarding the Canadian clientele. Yet, at stores, Canadians are being more selective in their buying and the volume of business from Canadians ranges from levels near normal to somewhat less than previous years.

One of the contributing factors to the change appears to be the change in policy by the Canadian government with respect to the amount of merchandise that may be brought back to Canada duty-free. In previous years, Canadians were permitted to bring home sizeable quantities of goods without having to pay any duty.

Under a new policy this year, the Canadian visitors are restricted to $25 valuation of goods. That is, this is the amount that may be purchased in the United States and taken to Canada without payment of duty.

Conversely, Canada each year welcomes visitors numbering almost twice her own population. Because of the proximity of the United States of America, the majority of the vacationists come from here.

United States residents returning from Canada may take back, once every 31 days, merchandise for personal household use up to the value of $100. This is duty and tax free provided they have remained in Canada for 48 hours. Members of a family traveling together may combine their personal exemptions with a family of five, for example, being entitled to a total exemption of $500.

Queen City Pair Nabbed At Beach

Two Manchester juveniles, an escapee from the State Industrial school, were apprehended by local police at Hampton Beach Tuesday morning following a routine check by Officer Harold Fernald.

Officer Fernald noticed the youths, age 16 and 17, traveling the wrong way on the one-way stretch of Ocean boulevard near Great Boar's Head. When the youths ran, Officer Fernald summoned help. Putting three of the K-9 Corps to work, Lt. Leavitt, Sgt. Don Hanson and Officer Whitcomb apprehended the youths with the assistance of Sgt. Joe Farnsworth and Officer Fernald.

Ensnared investigation revealed the youths had stolen the car in which they were riding from Derry. Further investigation revealed they broke into Serino's Road stand in Londonderry and made off with a small amount of cash and merchandise.

Hampton law enforcement officials this week said the pair were returned to Derry where they will face stolen car charges. They are also expected to be arraigned in Londonderry on breaking, entering and larceny charges.

Increase Continues In Salts Membership

One of the top catches of the week which qualified the fisherman for the chamber of commerce Old Salts club was made by Theodore Asimakopolas, 4 Bell street, Nashua.

Fishing from a Smith and Gilmore party boat, Mr. Asimakopolas boated a 38-lb., 45 1/2 in. Striped Bass.

Several other large fish were caught during the past week qualifying the deep seas fishing enthusiasts for the Old Salts club.

Henry Basil, 31 East Pearl street, Nashua, N. H., qualified by catching a 22-lb. Catfish.

Leo C. Snyder, Boston, Mass., hooked an 18-lb. 8 oz. Codfish to qualify. Both catches were made from a Smith and Gilmore party boat.

Mr. Severi Tastula, Fitchburg, Mass., an 83 year old fisherman qualified while fishing aboard an Al Gauron craft captained by Walt Sturgis. His catch was an 8-lb. Haddock.

John Eckert, Jr., 12, 84 Main street, Rowley, Mass., pulled in a 21 inch 4 1/4-lb. Striped Bass to qualify while also fishing from a Smith and Gilmore party boat.

Philippe Gauthier, 7, 39 Glamis street, Dollard Des Drapeaux, P. Q., Canada, also qualified while fishing from a Smith and Gilmore party boat. The catch was a 6-lb. Haddock.

Another youngster, Michael J. Merrill, 9 Dracont road, Hudson, pulled in a 5-lb. Haddock. His catch was also made from a Smith and Gilmore boat.

Captain Louis G. Dupre, 803 Bomb. Squad., Pease AFB, became an Old Salt when his catch of a 5 1/2-lb. Haddock qualified him.

Memberships in the no-meeting club sponsored by the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce are still open. All one has to do to qualify is to have a deep sea fishing catch certified by either the Al Gauron office or the Smith and Gilmore pier at Hampton Harbor.

Fire Report

Hampton firemen this week reported they were called to assist Lytle A. Monblo, 77, 169 Maple avenue, Claremont, on August 3. A call from the Coast Guard for assistance was received but the victim was DOA of the firemen with resuscitator aid.

Fire department officials reported that Monblo apparently died while in a boat on the Hampton River in the area of the clam flats. Chief Perley George reported that Mr. and Mrs. George Smith assisted in returning the victim to the Marina. The call for assistance was received at 4:43 p.m.

Other calls reported by the fire department include:

July 31 — A car owned by Richard Eaton of Towle road was extensively damaged by fire on Timber Swamp road. The alarm was received at 2:45 p.m. with Box 981 being sounded. Mr. Eaton sustained burns to his hands during the fire in which the wiring and the upholstery of the rear seat were damaged.

On the same day firemen removed Brian Ferrick, 12, Cambridge, Mass., from the office of Dr. Roger Blake to the Exeter Hospital. The call was received at 5:17 p.m.

Still later at 6:08 p.m., firemen were called to the ladies comfort station at the Sea Shell to render resuscitator aid. Mary Mulligan, 67, Lowell, Mass., was DOA, however.

August 1 — Firemen rendered first aid assistance to David Claunder, 12, Springfield, Mass., at 2:02 p.m.

August 2 — At 1:03 a.m. firemen answered a call for resuscitator aid and removed Robert Hewitt, 477 Winnacunnet road, to the Exeter Hospital.

August 3 — At 6:08 p.m. firemen answered a call for assistance at 18 C street. Later in the evening at 7:13 p.m. Louise Martin, Worcester, Mass., was given first aid treatment by the firemen at the station for a cut finger.

TWO CARS were extensively damaged and one woman hospitalized in the above High street accident. Mishap took place at 11:45 p.m. near 125 High street on August 1.

Several Hospitalized As Traffic Crashes Increase

Several persons were hospitalized and others received minor injuries in a rash of accidents on local highways during the past week.

Police said Helen K. Cruikshank, 37, Hunterville avenue, Rye, was hospitalized with a ruptured spleen after a car which she was operating was in collision with a parked car owned by Mrs. Grace P. Whitman, 125 High street.

The Cruikshank car was headed east on High street at 11:45 p.m. on August 1 when the mishap occurred. Police said the vehicle pushed the Whitman car a distance of 44 feet with the Whitman car coming to rest on the front lawn of 131 High street. Both vehicles sustained extensive front end damage. Mrs. Cruikshank was removed to the Exeter Hospital according to investigating Officers Pierson and Russell.

Four persons were injured in a single car Winnacunnet road mishap at 2 p.m. on August 4. Police said a car driven by John D. Sullivan, 50, Methuen, Mass., went out of control while heading east on Winnacunnet road opposite Viking street. The car swerved to the opposite side of the road and hit a utility pole causing it to break. The front end of the vehicle was extensively damaged. Lt. Leavitt and Officers Chick and McCrady reported that Alice Sullivan, a passenger in the car, received multiple fractures of the right leg. Two other passengers were also injured including Edmund Sullivan who sustained abrasions of the leg and arms, and Mary Sullivan who received bruises of the shoulder. Also the driver, John Sullivan, was injured.

In a two car collision on U.S. Route 1, Lafayette road at Whittier's corner, cars driven by Jess B. Benton, 41, Scotch Plains, N. J. and Richard O. Swain, 21, Hampton Falls, were damaged. Officer Eastman reported no injuries in the accident which took place at 10:40 a.m. on August 3. The left front side and bumper of the Benton car were damaged while the right front fender and bumper of the Swain car were damaged.

Joyce F. Perkins, 19, Seabrook, driver of a vehicle involved in a collision with a car operated by Frank H. MacMillan, 80, Portsmouth, received a neck injury. Police said the vehicles were both headed south on Lafayette Rd. when the mishap took place. Officer Clifford H. Eastman reported the rear bumper and trunk area of the Perkins car were damaged while the left front fender, headlight and left front of the MacMillan vehicle were damaged. The mishap took place south of the Exeter Hampton Expressway Lafayette road interchange.

Officer McCrady reported that vehicles operated by Mary C. Fitzmaurice, 41, Stamford, Conn., and David Flett, 16, South Hampton, were in collision as both vehicles were headed south on Ocean boulevard. No injuries were reported, but the front end, bumper, grille, hood and radiator of the Fitzmaurice vehicle were damaged while the rear bumper, tail light and trunk lock on the Flett vehicle were damaged. Cars operated by Barbara D. Robinson, 19, Pompano Beach, Fla., and George H. Jelley, 37, Lowell, Mass., were damaged when they were in collision at the corner of D street and Ocean boulevard. The mishap took place at 2:10 p.m. on August 2.

Lt. Leavitt reported that cars driven by Robert Sturgis, 19, Hampton, and James A. Curtis, 25, Lebanon, were damaged when they were involved in an accident at the corner of D street and Ashworth avenue. The accident took place at 2:35 p.m. on August 2. The right front fender of the Sturgis car was damaged while the left front fender of the Curtis car was also damaged.

Jews were not the only religious group to suffer at the hands of the Nazis. More than 1,800 Roman Catholic priests were imprisoned in Dachau concentration camp when the camp was liberated by American troops at the end of World War II.

Recent Drought Is Worst In 50 years

Rains of the past week were expected to relieve at least partially drought stricken New Hampshire. Forestry officials noted the recent dry spell was the worst in 50 years.

State Forester William E. Messeck, Jr. said that July was the seventh consecutive month in which rainfall was sub-normal.

"You can go back 50 years and not find a condition like we have right now," he noted last week.

Music School Set For Youth At UNH

Summer Youth Music School— On August 11, nearly 300 high school students are expected to converge on the University of New Hampshire campus to participate in the annual UNH Summer Youth Music school. The 16th session of the school will open on that day under the direction of Professor Karl H. Bratton, chairman of the UNH Department of Music. In the 16 years since its founding by Professor Bratton, the Summer Youth Music school has gained a considerable reputation, with music educators from as far away as the Midwest attending to observe the methods of teaching. The school has grown from an attendance of about 125 in its first year to its present size, and can claim "alumni" from no fewer than 32 states across the nation. It is the largest school of its kind on the Eastern seaboard, and has earned high praise from nationally known figures in the music field. Under the leadership of Professor Bratton, a staff of 31 will give daily instruction in chorus, orchestra, band, song leadership, dance band, and music appreciation. During these two summer weeks the students, most of whom come to the school with several years of musical experience behind them, will work with teachers of superior calibre and will have an opportunity to associate with music-minded young people from many sections of the country.

It has become a custom of the school to present two public concerts in conjunction with its program of training. This year the performances will be given on Sunday afternoon, August 18 and Saturday evening, August 24, at the University Field House. The University's outdoor swimming pool, tennis courts, playing fields, and other recreational facilities will be open to the school members. A picnic at the New Hampshire seashore, folk dancing, tournaments and games of various kinds will be features of the school's supervised recreational program.

Historic N.H. Homes Opened For Tour

Eight houses of historic interest in the Monadnock Region of New Hampshire will be open to the public on Thursday, August 22, in a tour sponsored by the Colonial Dames of New Hampshire for the benefit of the Moffatt-Ladd Museum House in Portsmouth.

The tour will begin at 11 a.m. at the Historical Building of Peterborough where coffee will be served and documents and paintings representing milestones in the history of the state will be on display. At Hillcrest, the third house in the tour, guests who bring box lunches may picnic on the lawn. The following houses and gardens will be open: In Peterborough: Wilson Tavern, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. Edward Rowse, at the junction of Route 101 and Old Street Road. Built in 1791, this handsome house is filled with reminders of its post-Revolutionary history and of the part it played in the Civil War when it was one of the stations of the Underground Railroad. The Brick House, residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Abbot Morison. The house was designed by George S. Morison, uncle of the present owner, on land that has been in the Morison family almost continually since it was first cleared in 1780. Hillcrest, the former summer home of the American composer, Edward MacDowell and Mrs. MacDowell, 150-year-old farmhouse the character of which has been maintained as it was in the lifetime of the MacDowells.

In Dublin: Daybreak, the studio of Mrs. Alexander James, designed by Eric Gugler for Alexander James, the artist and son of William James, the philosopher. The studio and gardens of Mrs. James are of equal interest. Morelands, the gardens of Mrs. Frederick F. Brewster, just off Route 101, have received wide attention in pamphlets of the Garden Club of America and are considered among the leading gardens in New England for beauty and originality of design.

Loon Point, the residence of Mrs. Joseph Lindon Smith and of the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel W. Hale, Jr. has, among other noteworthy features, one of the oldest amphitheatres in America, called "Teatro Bambino," designed by the late Joseph Lindon Smith, artist and archaeologist who, with his wife, Corinna Lindon Smith, assembled a treasure trove of objects in their summer home on Dublin Lake. Snow Hill, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Philip F. Bastedo, was designed by J. Laurence Mauran and remodelled by Nathan Wyeth. History and tradition combine in the distinctive story of this house which, during World War I, was the summer residence of the German Ambassador to the United States.

At the last point in the tour, the Frothingham House, summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bourne Pillsbury of South Natick, refreshments will be served. Tickets for the tour may be obtained at any of the houses. Excursions to the Isles of Shoals off the coast of New Hampshire leave the wharf at Ceres Street, Portsmouth, at 11 a.m. daily, except Saturday. The boat "Kiboko" arrives back at Portsmouth from the islands at the Atlantic Ocean at 4:05 p.m. Religious groups en route to conferences on the island have preference.

TALENT SHOW WINNERS in the junior division Monday evening included Babe and Billy Marshall, center, Lowell, Mass., first; Maureen Trainor and Jane Sweeney, Haverhill, Mass., second; and Ann Marie Messier, Springfield, Mass., third.

Youthful Duo Takes Talent Title

A cute duo of Babe and Billy Marshall, ages 5 and 6, 53 Glenn road, Lowell, Mass., captivated the hearts of the Monday evening talent show audience to gain top honors in the Junior Division earlier this week.

Doing a song and dance routine to "Ain't She Sweet", the couple will return for the finals the latter part of August. Second place honors went to another twosome, Maureen A. Trainor and Jane E. Sweeney, ages 11 and 12 of Haverhill, dancing an Irish Step Dance to Londonderry Hornpipe.

Ann Marie Messier, 10, 577 Page boulevard, Springfield, Mass., copped the third place award as she played an accordion cordvox. Her rendition was "Washington Post March".

Janice Tripp, 19, 85 Sexton avenue, Westwood, Mass., won the first division talent award as she sang a medley from "The Music Man".

John Kotses, 22, 51 School street, Concord, sang and played his way to the second place win Monday evening.

The third place award went to the Finkston Trio of Maynard, Mass., the group did impersonations and sang.

The finals were scheduled to be held on August 26, the final Monday of August. All of the first place winners of both divisions have been invited to participate in the contest.

Hunting Law Revised To Include Non-Vets

Disabled veterans, under RSA 207:7-a, have been entitled to obtain a special permit from the New Hampshire Fish and Game department to hunt from a motor vehicle. This law has now been expanded to include any person who is suffering from paraplegia or the loss of, or the loss of the use of, both lower extremities.

Such persons must have a current hunting license, in addition to the special permit. A fee of .50 is charged for the permit. Each permittee is given one deer seal which must be attached to the deer immediately upon killing. If he needs assistance, the permittee may give the seal to someone to attach to the deer before moving the animal to the vehicle for the permittee to tag.

UNIQUE HAND PAINTED PLATE depicting Old Hampton Beach was recently presented to Sen. and Mrs. Douglass Hunter by their guests for the past several years at the Hotel Douglass.

Couple Presented Unique Chinaware

Senator and Mrs. Douglass Hunter were this week presented a unique hand painted plate depicting old Hampton Beach.

The presentation was made by long time visitors to the plate depicting old Hampton Mr. and Mrs. J. F. O'Brien, 1 Bell road, North Brookfield, Mass.

Coming at an appropriate time as Hampton citizens prepare for the 325th anniversary celebration of the founding of Hampton, the painting shows the center of Hampton Beach as it probably looked around the turn of the century.

In the background are the old sand dunes which at one time made up a great portion of Hampton Beach. Also seen is the original old bandstand. On the plate is a replica of the "carnival cottage" which was given away during carnival week. Sen. Hunter explained that this was a "knock down" type unit and is still on the beach at another location.

The police station, which has also been relegated to memories and the history book, is also pictured on the plate as is Bobby Ring's famed pop

Sea Shell Show Rates Audience A

Four separate contests with more than 30 persons participating, had the Sea Shell audience howling with laughter Tuesday morning. The occasion was the second weekly Audience Participation show which saw winners being crowned from Melrose, Charlestown, and Dedham, Mass., Schenectady, N. Y. and Manchester.

To warm things up, Master of Ceremonies "Bill" Elliot had several youngsters playing musical chairs. In a battle right down to the wire, Elaine Shehan of Melrose, Mass., was named the winner.

Ten persons — five men and five women — participated in a balloon blowing contest. Top prize went to Mary Deiss of Dedham, Mass. and Joe Russo of Charlestown, Mass. A special consolation prize was awarded to Nick Winek of Manchester.

The two final stunts of the morning proved to be the most hilarious. Starting with three husband and wife teams, MC Elliot sent the husbands back stage while he quickly substituted three other girls from the audience for the wives. With all but their legs covered, the girls waited while each husband tried in vain to choose his own wife. Only Mr. Gordon Dunham of Schenectady, N. Y.

Garden Club Group Meets In Stratham

The Junior Horticultural group sponsored by the Salty Marsh Garden club held an out-of-doors meeting recently at Stratham Hill.

The outing, attended by ten youngsters, was conducted by Mrs. Velma Hansen, club president, along with Mrs. Jewell Brown, leader of the junior group, and Mrs. Maratha Marrelli. Highlight of the meeting was a study of the various forms of plants and wild life found in the area.

In other club news it was reported that Mrs. Hansen attended the Presidents' Conference held July 31 at Bow, N. H.

Seacoast Tour Set By Audubon Society

The Audubon Society of New Hampshire has arranged a coastline field trip for Saturday, August 10. Field trip leaders, Mrs. George Cottrell of Hillsboro and Kimball Elkins of Cambridge, Mass., announce that this trip will be conducted by bus. They ask members and friends to meet at 9 a.m., in the state area (the former military reservation) at Odiorne's Point (Fort Dearborn) beside Route 1A about 3 miles south of Portsmouth. Enter by the south gate and park cars inside.

The bus will leave at 10 a.m. for an all-day tour of shore bird areas in Rye, Hampton, Seabrook and Hampton Falls. The bus is scheduled to return to Odiorne's point about 5:30 p.m.

All Audubon Society of New Hampshire trips are open to the public.

Top Notch Comedy Must At Playhouse

Do you like to laugh? Really, laugh I mean—so that your sides ache and tears roll down your cheeks and you wish they would not say something funny for a few minutes so you can catch your breath? This is the bill of fare at the Hampton Playhouse this week. "Come Blow Your Horn" is guaranteed to push your laugh button at the opening curtain and keep a firm finger on it until the closing.

It is the story of a bachelor who has extended his youthful, fine to the age of 33 much to the disgust of his parents and at the expense of his job. Since the play-boy works for his father, it complicates the plot and then when he introduces his younger brother to the "high-life" things really come to a boil.

Richard Kneeland was absolutely brilliant in the principal role of the bachelor. He took the very witty dialogue and gave it verve and a sparkle that made the lines dance with laughter. This capable actor has a real flair for comedy and "Come Blow Your Horn" provides him with excellent material for exercising his talents.

A lambent bit of support comes from Betty Fromen Bright. An opening night audience spontaneously applauded her hilarious scene with a constantly ringing telephone in her son's apartment and it was richly deserved. It was a high spot in a really "up" production! Also, Richard Kennedy received the same treatment from the audience following his side-splitting scene as the irate father putting the blast on his errant son. His characterization of the Jewish, waxed fruit manufacturer was funny-funny.

Stephen Levi in his first major role at the Hampton Playhouse sowed the seeds of success when he demonstrated a fine acting potential as the young brother while Holly Hill entertained the audience with a real sex-hungry performance as the gal upstairs who likes bachelors. Katherine Helmond — actress deluxe — returned to the Playhouse this week for the balance of the season gave her usual convincing performance as the sensible female who knows how to win bachelors.

Sarah Christie rounded out the well-balanced cast with a surprise walk-on at the final curtain. Then after the curtain — if you are as lucky as the Monday nighters — you will get a bonus treat in the form of an after curtain speech by enchanting Renee Taylor for the "adults only" production of "Natural Affection" in which she will star next week.

Steven Fredrics hit the jackpot again with brilliant set — a bright and gay apartment with an off-stage back drop of the New York skyline. The whole conception was colorful and harmonious and gave this great comedy a perfectly delightful setting. The action is fast and the lines come chop-chop so it took outstanding direction to bring off such a high level of performance on an opening night for which Adrian Hall gets full credit.

Audience Due Shock In Volcanic Drama

You may have heard of plays about life in the raw. Well, William Inge, Pulitzer Prize winner, has written one about life in the rawest. It's as shocking as anything to come from the pen of Tennessee Williams, and outdoes Edward Albee's "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" in it's dip into the lexicon of four-letter words!

This play, "Natural Affection", is the hypnotic and devastating play which is coming to the Hampton Playhouse from August 12 thru August 17. "Natural Affection" is the volcanic comedy-drama about a teenage boy who returns from a reform school to live with his unmarried mother and her lover. It is by far Mr. Inge's most daring play and one which will provide our audiences with one of the most shattering climaxes ever portrayed on any stage. It is a drama of tremendous force—a play so moving, so completely moving, that you can only leave the theatre by the force of tearful tension. Anyone who sees this play will rarely be so moved again. It's a modern Oedipus story of sensational impact and ribald, incisive humor.

Howard Taubman, critic for the New York Times, said of it, "The very title of Mr. Inge's play is ironic. "Natural Affection" abounds in all sorts of relationships in love, including intimations of homosexuality and incest. Very little of it seems natural; much of it is sordid and shocking!"

"Natural Affection" will feature Katherine Helmond, John Vari, Renee Taylor, and Richard Kennedy.

Here we are again you lucky guys and gals.

I guess no one can say the weather for the beach has not been ideal. And things have been booming during the past week as far as the Casino ballroom entertainment is concerned. Sammy Kaye drew a very good dancing crowd. Then we had a complete change. By that we mean "frantie" Freddie Cannon of Revere, Mass., appeared at the new Jack Dineen "College Mixers" show. If you like that type of singing, I guess you enjoyed yourself.

For all you other people who were present Saturday night when Maynard Ferguson brought his band to the Casino ballroom, I am quite sure you enjoyed yourself as did your reporter. We're looking forward to the band of Les Elgart which will be playing Friday and Saturday nights. This is one of the finer dance bands so be sure to check your dates for this event.

As I mentioned last week, the Oceanside Record Hop has been very well attended. Coming to spin the records Wednesday, August 7 will be WBZ's own Dave Maynard which should provide for a very good evening of entertainment. If you have not been to this dancing spot kids, you are missing Beach we find them listed in the following order: (1) Fin-gertips Part Two; (2) Surf City; (3) So Much As Love; (4) Easier Said Than Done; (5) Wipe Out; (6) Devil in Disguise; (7) Blow In The Wind; (8) Judy's Turn To Cry; (9) Just A Look; (10) Ring of Fire.

And now to make a few personal mentions as my spys report. Donna of the Casino took "Just one Look" at Ted. Chris says it's "Hopeless". Jack Kennedy at Funarama is in a "Ring of Fire". Mike King at Jack's is "Swinging on a Star" and a fine Mr. James Fallon of that great drug store says "One Fine Day". Well, that does it kids, for another week. Be good and keep out of the hot sun. We'll see you next week at the same spot. Remember the password is "swing". RLC

Bay State Leads In Miss N. E. Winners

Massachusetts, with three top winners, leads in wins to date as the Miss New England Beauty Pageant swings into its seventh annual contest next Tuesday evening at 8:30 p.m. at the Casino ballroom.

New Hampshire is second with two winners and Vermont has one winner. The other three New England states have yet to post a winner in the contest designed to seek out the top girls in New England who are vying in the local area.

A run-down of the top award winners in the six previous contests and the forerunner dating back to 1954 has been compiled through the use of the BEACH-COMBER and HAMPTON UNION records.

In 1962, 33 girls participated in the contest with a Georgetown, Mass. beauty, Miss Louise Ann Richardson, being crowned Miss New England. Second place honors went to Nancy Joan Brackett of Brighton, Mass. and third place was accorded Miss Su-Su Smith of Newton Upper Falls, Mass.

In 1961, 32 girls participated with Sylvia Gustavson, 19, of Winchester, Mass. winning the title. Second place went to Su-Su Smith, 21, Newton Upper Falls, Mass. while Louise Ann Richardson, 16, of Georgetown, Mass. took third place honors.

1960 — 23 girls took part. Winners included: 1. Sandie Kay, 16, Plaistow; 2. Gayle Ellen Wackell, 17, Worcester, Mass.; 3. Lorraine Bourgeois, 19, Manchester.

1959 — 23 girls took part. 1. Marjorie MacLeod, Concord; 2. Joan Cole, 20, Hull, Mass.; 3. Debbie Zabriske, 16, Newburyport, Mass.

1958 — The record is incomplete as to the number of contestants. 1. Doreen McNamee, 20, Brattleboro, Vermont; 2. Ellen Murphy, 17, Salem, Mass.; 3. Gail B. Westendarrp, 18, Portsmouth.

1957 — 26 girls. 1. Maureen Burke, 16, Methuen, Mass.; Maureen Donahy, 18, Lawrence.

Repairs Sought For Hampton State Pier

Sen. Douglass Hunter this week reported that he is seeking to have repairs made to the present state pier.

He noted that he and Mr. John Batchelder of the Seacoast Regional Development association have been in touch with a representative of a firm handling styrofoam products.

Sen. Hunter this week said he hopes to have the state Department of Parks assist in the project of replacing the present barrel-type floats used to hold up the loading area of the present state pier with new type styrofoam.

Sen. Hunter said he was looking ahead to the future when the dredging and other harbor improvements will be completed. He said the pier remains a public pier and once repaired will probably be taken over by the N. H. Port Authority for continued proper maintenance.

It was also noted that when the present pier was originally constructed replacing the old pier, that the job was done for considerably less funds than were appropriated. Sen. Hunter feels that some of these excess appropriations could be used to replace the present float-type facilities with styrofoam. Cost estimates and the feasibility of the project are still under study.

Beach Officials Gearing For Gala Mardi Gras Week

Judges Selected For Mardi Gras Baby Contest

Judges were named this week for the annual Mardi Gras Baby Contest which will be held this year on Monday, August 19 at 3 p.m.

Production Manager Henry Hamel of the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce said that the Chairman for the judges this year would be Mrs. Harriet McCurdy. Assisting will be Mrs. James Fallon, Sr., Mrs. Lloyd Ring and Mrs. Amos Lockner.

Judging will be done in several categories from birth upwards through older age group. Information for entry into the baby contest can be obtained by contacting officials at the chamber of commerce office.

Beach Coast Guard In Two Sea Rescues

The Hampton Beach Coast Guard recorded two more rescues last weekend.

The unit's 30-foot utility boat was called to the scene of a skiff sinking near Breaking Rock buoy, about halfway to Merrimack River.

The persons in the boat already had been picked up by passing craft when the Coast Guard arrived. They were identified as Charles Wright, 21, and Malcolm Merrill, 15, both of So. Main street, Seabrook and Ernest Blaisdell, 18, of Salisbury.

Saturday, a 30-foot cruiser, owned by Robert Hemery of Methuen, Mass., was assisted to Newburyport after it experienced engine trouble a mile southeast of the Isles of Shoals. Four persons were reported aboard the craft.

The Coast Guard received two calls for overdue boats during Sunday night's storm.

THE HAMPTON BEACH "Sea Shell", completed just before the summer season began, replaces the old wooden bandstand which was a beach landmark for many years. The new beach-front facility contains offices for the chamber of commerce and other organizations as well as space for the beach lifeguards and first aid unit. Accommodations for over 1,200 persons is provided in the bandstand area and visitors can get a panoramic view of the beach from atop the southern wing.

BOAR'S HEAD in the background, one of the more familiar landmarks at Hampton Beach dominates this view of the beach with its usual crowd of summer visitors enjoying the sandy beach. In the foreground is one of the town-operated parking lots where beach visitors can find parking space adjacent to the ocean. In a single day during the summer season one can usually find cars from nearly every state in the union.
