Big Summer Program Ready

Another varied program of events will be awaiting the summer visitors to Hampton Beach according to chamber of commerce, precinct and Hotel association officials.

Highlighting the entire summer program will be the August Festival climax. The ever popular baby contest will be held from the Sea Shell stage on August 23 from 2 to 3 p.m.

The second consecutive firemen's muster day will be held on August 28. This event proved to be very popular last year and will again include a full days activities. At 10:30 a.m. a parade of participating fire apparatus will be held followed by Hand Tub Playout competition.

A few days earlier on August 21, the gigantic combined Hotel Association and Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce Parade of Floats, Horribles, Bands and Antique Cars will be held at 1 p.m.

The always fun-filled bathing suit day will be observed from 2 to 3 p.m. on August 30th.

During the entire week of August 24 through 28 three times daily an old fashioned vaudeville show will be held. This will be sponsored by the Precinct and Hotel Association.

BEAUTY CONTESTS

Highlighting the events leading up to August Festival days will be the two beauty contests which have become famous over the years at Hampton Beach. The Miss Hampton Beach contest will be held on July 20 at 8:30 p.m. at the Casino Ballroom and the Miss New England contest will be seen on August 3rd also at the Casino Ballroom.

CHILDREN'S DAY

The day that the children look forward to all year, Children's Day, will be observed on Wednesday, August 18. This is another fun-filled day beginning with the always popular sand castle contest at 11 a.m. The children's parade will be held at 1 p.m. with prizes to be awarded for the best decorations and the best rolling toys. The coronation of the Junior King and Queen will also be held. Free ice cream will be distributed at 2:30 p.m. and a special children's band concert will be held at 4 p.m.

CORONATION BALL

One of the most colorful events of the entire summer and one which many persons look forward to, the Coronation Ball, will be held on August 20th. At this time a Hampton Beach girl, Miss Sheila Scott, reigning Miss Hampton Beach will relinquish her crown and title to the new winner.

OTHER EVENTS

The entire summer will be filled with daily events including band concerts daily thru Labor Day beginning June 26 and excepting Mondays and Festival Week. Concerts will be held at 4, 7 and 8:30 p.m. Stan Bednarz will again direct. Sunday concerts will be held also at the same hours and at 2:30 p.m.

Miss Coca Cola will lead calisthenics on the sand in front of the Sea Shell week days from July 5 through August 27. These will be held at 10:30 a.m.

Beginning on Wednesday, July 7 and carrying through each Wednesday through August Organ concerts will be held from the Sea Shell stage beginning June 26 through Labor Day at 2 p.m. There will be special concerts on Mondays at 3 and 8:30. There will be no concerts on Sundays.

Talent shows which have proved to be popular over the past several seasons will again be held from the Sea Shell

EARLY SEASON VISITORS at Hampton's family beach were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Maron of Loudonville, N. Y. and children, Philip, 5, H. Iena, 3, and Mark, 1. The Marons were enjoying the Precinct playground just south of the Chamber of Commerce complex. Randall Photo

August 25 at 9:10 p.m. fireworks will be seen. stage on Monday evenings from 7 to 8 p.m. These will feature both junior and senior division talent.

Many other special events will be announced at the Chamber of Commerce Office.

Welcome Vacationers

For 37 years the staff of the Beachcomber have been combing the sands, streets and hostleries of Hampton Beach for news to bring to our readers. This is our 38th consecutive year of publication and with it comes a hearty welcome to all vacationists and local residents.

It hardly seems possible that our all-too-short summer vacation and recreation season is upon us once again. We are looking forward to renewing acquaintances with all of our old friends and to meeting as many newcomers as the summer wears on.

The upcoming 1965 season at Hampton Beach already shows promise of being one of the best in recent years. Much has happened since Hampton Beach businesses closed their doors last fall. Work continues year after year at the beach as more and more stores, hotels and motels are renovated and constructed. Once again local townspeople, state officials and local legislators have had a busy winter as they have endeavored to provide the best for the many vacationers at Hampton Beach.

We, here at the BEACHCOMBER, are looking forward to serving you once again with our weekly coverage of beach events through pictures and news stories.

Happy vacationing at HAPPY HAMPTON from all of us here at the BEACHCOMBER.

ONE PHASE OF THE HARBOR IMPROVEMENT construction for Hampton Beach and River has been completed with the erection of a stone groin off Church Street, shown above several months ago in the first stages of construction. Purpose of the groin is to prevent sand from washing off the north end of the Beach. Randall Photo

Sea Shell Ready For Second Year

Sea Shell Manager William Elliot announced this week that many repairs and several changes have been made for the operation of the Hampton Beach Sea Shell for the summer months.

Moving into its second year of operation, the New Hampshire State Park facility continues to be the hub of activity for the Hampton Beach summer visitors with the state providing many functions at the Sea Shell.

This year the Sea Shell will again house first aid headquarters. Ruth McDonald of Manchester, N. H., who has completed basic advanced and instructor courses in first aid will serve as the chief first aid attendant. The first aid room will be manned and open during the same hours that the life guards are on duty. This year when Ruth McDonald is on her day off Mr. William Elliot and Arthur "Rick" Darrah, Sea Shell employees, will take over emergency first aid treatment. Both men completed first aid courses during the past winter months.

The upper point of the Sea Shell will again be the main headquarters for the lifeguards. They will be under the supervision of veteran Head Lifeguard Dan Stone of Hampton.

The many shows, band concerts and other activities will be held from the stage of the Sea Shell.

One of the major changes has been the moving of Jackie's Travel Agency to the new Dudley Building with its entrance from C Street. Occupying the former travel agency room in the Sea Shell is the State Meter Patrol which last year was housed upstairs in the chamber of commerce office.

The Hampton Beach project which is studying youth problems is occupying the upstairs office of the chamber of commerce building facing the Ocean Boulevard side. This project is being undertaken under a Federal grant.

Manager Elliot reported that many of the Sea Shell stage area seats had been overhauled, repainted, sanded and dipped in a special treatment designed to withstand the weather.

Both men's and women's toilet facilities are open a major portion of the day. The open pavilion is located at the southerly end of the Sea Shell. The Chamber of Commerce office is located at the northerly end.

Summer School At Winnacunnet

Interested in furthering your education while vacationing? You can do it by attending one or more of the summer school classes at Winnacunnet High School in Hampton Center.

Classes will meet for periods of 1½ hours Monday thru Friday between 8 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Each course will be $25. There will be a $5 book deposit refunded if books are returned in good condition.

The McGinness Family Entertains At World's Fair

The eight musical members of the McGinness Family represent Hampton Beach, New Hampshire, at the New England States Exhibition of the World's Fair, Saturday, June 19, 1965.

Irish songs, folk songs, original music and lyrics, guitar solos and accompaniment were features of the programs held at 1 and 3:30 p.m. on the Village Green of the six-state site.

Summer school is open to all students from all schools, public, private and parochial who have completed 7th and/or have recently graduated from high school. Students must have letters of recommendation from their home schools.

All staff members will be fully certified teachers. Deadline for registration is July 1. The classes will continue from July 6 through August 13.

Mom and Dad, Dr. John and Mrs. Frances McGinness, are a well-known musical team who have been singing together for 18 years and have written and produced many shows in greater Boston and Hampton area. The family, which resides in Beverly, Mass., during the winter was accompanied by Mrs. Norma Pizzo, also of Beverly, and an accomplished pianist.

The family arrived in New York Friday afternoon via compact bus given to them especially for the trip by a Beverly automobile firm. They returned to Beverly late Sunday.

On Friday afternoon they were taped for color closed-circuit television at the fair for the RCA pavilion.

The McGinnesses spend summers in Hampton and lead community singing every Friday night from the bandstand. They have been singing together for five years.

The Hampton Playhouse opens its gala seventeenth season of summer theater at Hampton, N.H. June 26th thru July 3rd with Jean Kerr's fabulous New York record breaking comedy hit, "Mary, Mary." And as in the past years, the opening night audience will be invited to participate in the traditional champagne party on the lawn after the show.

Mary Mary captivated all of Broadway's hard-boiled critics on its opening in 1961, except the redoubtable Walter Kerr of the New York Herald Tribune. He didn't review it because the play had been written by his wife, Jean Kerr, whose effervescent sense of humor has been compared to Robert Benchley's, S. J. Perelman's and Mark Twain's as a result of her previous play "King of Hearts" and her two notable best selling books, "Please Don't Eat The Daisies" and "The Snake Has All The Lines."

The other New York critics, aware that Mr. Kerr had disqualified himself from reviewing his wife's play, paid it the compliment of saying "Even Walter Kerr would have liked this one."

As a matter of fact, he did. After an assistant had duly written a pretty rapturous review of Mary Mary in the Herald Tribune on the morning after its opening, Mr. Kerr later wrote a Sunday article in which he allowed that he was favorably disposed to the play. "When I read "Mary, Mary" in manuscript, I loved it," he wrote. "When I saw it at the New Haven try-out I loved it; when I saw it the following week in Boston I loved it. Furthermore, I have been to see it in New York just recently, and I still love it. Consequently, I shall express no opinion of the play." He did permit himself the unequivocal opinion that the actors were very very funny.

The Hampton Playhouse production of the play will feature three veteran favorites, Jan Sullivan, Richard Kennedy, and Tom Wilson. Rue McClanahan, a new comer to the Playhouse this season, and a Texan by birth, will be seen in the title role.

Annual Audubon Meeting

The president of the National Audubon Society, Carl Buchheister, is to be the guest speaker at the 51st annual meeting of the New Hampshire Audubon Society to be held in Franconia the week-end of July 25th-27th. Mr. Buchheister will lecture and show a movie Saturday evening at 8:15.

The New Hampshire Audubon meeting will take place at Franconia College which commands a magnificent view of the White Mountains. Four field trips in the area are planned including an all day Sunday trip to the Society's Pondicherry Wildlife Refuge in Jefferson. Two important wildlife movies will be shown, "Nature's Choice" and "Wildlife Heritage." Also scheduled is an illustrated talk by a New Hampshire Audubon member, Bob Smart, who has recently returned from Africa. The complete program of events for the week-end is as follows:

Friday, June 25, 2 to 6 p.m. Registration (no fee); 3 p.m., Informal bird and flower trip to Littleton; 8 p.m., Movie "Wildlife Heritage."
Saturday, June 26; 8:30 a.m. Field trip to Cannon Mt.; 1:45 p.m., Movie "Nature's Choice"; 2:30 p.m. Business meeting; 4 p.m. Illustrated lecture by Bob Smart; 4:45 p.m. Field trip in area; 8:15 p.m. Lecture and movie by Carl Buchheister, President of National Audubon Society.
Sunday, June 27, 8:30 a.m., Field trip to N. H. Audubon Pondicherry Wildlife Refuge in Jefferson. Alternate shorter trip to Easton led by John Mc-

Ilwaine of Littleton. Tudor Richards, president of the New Hampshire Audubon Society, invites members to come and bring friends. All Society field trips and activities as well as annual meetings are open to anyone interested in wildlife and conservation. For further information write the New Hampshire Audubon Society, 18 School Street, Concord, N.H.

Red Cross Swim Program

The Exeter District Chapter, American Red Cross, announces the opening of its summer swimming program at Kingston State Park.

The July classes will start on Tuesday, July 6th, July from 9 to 12 noon, and will have the following sessions: 9 to 9:45 a.m.; 2 classes of swimmers and 1 of Intermediates I. 9:45 to 10:30, 1 class of Intermediates I or II; 1 of Intermediates II and 1 class of Advanced Beginners. 10:30 to 11, 1 class of Advanced Beginners or Beginners I; and 2 classes of Beginners I. 11 to 11:30, 2 classes of Beginners II. 11:30 to 12, 2 classes of Beginners III. 11 to 12:30, 1 class each for life saving and Advanced Swimmers.

This schedule provides for a maximum of 10 in a class. It is therefore urged that all participants be at the park by 9 o'clock on opening day so they may be assigned to their respective instructors for the following days. After 6th July they will come at their scheduled hour.

The Chapter may have 4 instructors this year. One new instructor will be Mrs. Andrew J. Mammay of Dover who has taught before at various camps; and we are pleased to announce that Miss Donna Lancaster will again teach for us this year.

Two other possible instructors, who now are at Aquatic School in Brookline, N.H., are Bruce Sloan of Kingston and Ronald Currier of South Hampton. We wish them luck on this, their last week at camp Teyva and trust they will join our chapter's swimming program.

Mockingbirds Seen In N. H.

Folks up near Concord reported seeing three mockingbirds recently on their roof top and officials of the New Hampshire Fish and Game department believe the birds are mating.

It is real rarity, the F and G men said, for the birds to be this far north as they are usually only rarely seen north of Rhode Island or Connecticut. Although able to defend itself when cornered, the mockingbird, when treated kindly, becomes quite friendly, and with its ability to mimic many sounds, has become a favorite bird of Southern people.

The Collins View

By DICK COLLINS

A brand new summer season has arrived, and the first Beachcomber of the season is fresh off the presses; and like a bad penny, yours truly has returned. I do hope you will make this column a weekly habit. I will try to bring you up to date on the things that are happening here and there amongst the beaches.

There have been a lot of changes here at Hampton Beach — I should say the "NEW" Hampton Beach. Among the changes, Hampton Beach has a new police chief. At the age of 29, he is the youngest chief to head the department. Paul Leavitt is his name, and he is very popular amongst the beach people and the townspeople. We do believe he will be a credit to the community.

Those who like stock plays should remember June 26th, when John Vari, owner-manager of Hampton Playhouse, will throw open the doors with the Annual Champagne Party thrown on the lawn. This stock playhouse is one of the best in the country and it will take a lot for any other competitor to overcome the assets that lie at this playhouse. I do believe that this season will be a record-breaking one; so good luck to Al Christy and John Vari from this corner. Even if you just want FREE champagne drop in at the Hampton Playhouse.

via NBC: One can't help but wonder what the networks are thinking of. We have Shindig still with us but Hullabaloo has taken a breather while its "CAST" tours (or barnstorms) the country to prepare for the September 18th debut. So lots of luck to you all if that's your type of MUSIC.

As a public service I will tell you now where Jackie's Travel Agency is now located. You will find them on the corner of C Street here at Hampton Beach, no longer in the Chamber of Commerce Bldg.

Yours truly has been told that James Franciscus is in the area doing some vacationing. Mr. Franciscus is the late "Mr. Novak". But Mr. Novak" alias Franciscus is not taking it too hard, because he wanted out of the show in the first place. We'll have more to say about his new show which may hit TV this Fall.

A look at the beach and the style of bathing suits being worn by the female population makes one wonder how much less can be worn. But I bet you boys out there really don't mind, hum?

A new club for the beach crowd has opened up at Boars Head called the Onyx Room. We wish Carmen and Pat the best of luck. I hope you're not too far off the beach BEAT.

Question: Does anybody "really" know what CAVE is doing on the beach? We have tried to find out many times but it seems to be a BIG secret. I sure wish someone would let me know before I have grey hair and am "65" or over.

It seems very funny not to see the College Inn standing at the foot of C street as it did for many years. Many happy tourists stayed there, your reporter among them, but that's progress and this is the New Hampton Beach.

Question: What happened to the Troll Bridge on C street?

Last, but not least, our thought for the day: If we were to pick the best dressed merchant here at Hampton Beach, who is always dapper and debonair, our opinion would be that James F. Fallon, manager of Fallon's Drug Store, would win in a walk. One never sees him without his bow tie and his sharp suits. Who's your tailor, Mr. Fallon?

And now we turn to the C. I. A. file for the first time this summer. To Fred Kennedy at the Casino Arcade, Walk On By; to Bill Heppie at the Casino Golf Course, Mr. Success; to Ed Coleman, Hello Dolly!

That's it for now. Stay out of the hot sun — rent an umbrella so you can stay cool. And so to lunch . . .

Old Salts Club Sets Limits

The 12th season of a "Club" originated to honor fishermen who bring home the "Big Ones" is now underway at Hampton Beach.

All deep sea and salt water fishing enthusiasts should take advantage of membership in this club. Uniquely enough there are no dues, and no meetings. The only requirements is to catch and have certified one of the fish mentioned below.

These fish include Codfish, 9 lbs. or better; Pollock, 16 lbs. or better; Haddock, 4 lbs. or better; Blue Hake, 7 lbs. and upward; Catfish, at least 8 lbs. and Halibut or Bass, any size.

The fish must be weighed and officially certified by a weighing clerk at Al Gauron's or Smith and Gilmore deep sea fishing headquarters at the Hampton River Bridge. Fish must be taken from Hampton area waters.

As soon as you have had the fish certified present your papers to members of the staff at the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce and they will see that you receive an embossed certificate, membership card and shoulder patch.

Fisherman may use handline or rod and reel. There are no age limits for fishermen and both male and female may participate.

Odd Fellows Hold Conclave June 25-26

The tenth annual Conclave of the Northeast Odd Fellows Association will be held in Augusta, Maine, on June 25th and 26th, 1965. World Leaders of all branches of Odd Fellowship will be in attendance. Sovereign Grand Master Kermit R. Coffey, head of all the Odd Fellows of the world, will be in attendance on Saturday. Governor John H. Reed, Governor of the State of Maine, will be present as well as a delegation from Washington.

Talented Amateurs Needed

Amateur performers will get the chance to show their wares at Hampton Beach as well as vying for the first, second and third place trophies as the annual talent show competition gets underway on Monday, June 28.

A young organist from Rockdale, Mass., and a top flight piano player from Hartford, Connecticut, are the present defending champions. Miss Joyce Ouellette, Rockdale, Mass., a 14 year old lass last year, won the 1964 championship with her renditions on the organ. Paul Montinieri, Hartford, Conn., held the audiences spellbound last season as he played a melody of tunes on the piano to gain senior division honors.

Many fine performers have taken part in the shows over the years and some have eventually gone on to gain fame on radio and television.

Mr. Henry Hamel, production manager at the Chamber of Commerce, is the man to see if you desire to take part. The competition in each division is limited each week, so if you desire to participate, sign up early.

Each entrant must sign up by completing an official registration blank at the chamber office well in advance of the night he or she wishes to perform. Those persons up to 14 years of age will be entered in the junior division unless they specify otherwise and those 14 and above will participate in the Senior Division competition.

State Beach Ordinances

Many new as well as old ordinances are in effect at Hampton Beach. These are posted at the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce and several other locations throughout the beach area. Newcomers to the area are urged to familiarize themselves with these ordinances.

The following have been adopted in the interest of public safety at all New Hampshire State Park beaches. Hampton Beach is State owned and controlled.

Swimming shall be restricted to the area designated as the swimming beach.

Inflatables shall not be permitted in the water.

Empty bottles shall not be permitted on the beach or in the water.

Fires shall not be permitted. Alcoholic beverages are prohibited in public.

Dogs and other pets shall not be permitted in the water or on the beach.

Changing of clothes in car is prohibited.

All persons shall obey any reasonable requests made by authorized park attendants or life guards.

Lifeguards and the Chamber of Commerce shall not assume parental responsibilities for children left unattended by their parents or guardian.

Whaleback Race July 31

Plans for the 2nd Annual Whaleback Ocean Race, sponsored by the Greater Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce, are going ahead as scheduled. It was announced by Sherman T. Baketal, General Chairman. The Committee has been formed with Roger Nolin, Race Chairman; Charlie Gray, Entertainment; Ted Gray, Treasurer; and Bruce Coutu, Publicity.

Baketal reports that this year there is a higher degree of interest from yachtsmen within the Seacoast area and from other areas. Preliminary returns show that there will be more than the 24 yachts that raced in 1964.

The course for this year's Race will be similar to last year which was in the area from York, Maine to Hampton, N.H., but weather will determine the exact course. The Race will start in the vicinity of Whaleback Light and viewers should have a good view from Rye, New Castle, or Garfish Isle. Starting time is 10 a.m. Persons desiring to view the yachts finishing up-river will have a good vantage point at Fort McCleary, New Castle Island, or the Kittery Point Yacht Club pier. The smaller boat race to be held August 1, 1965, is open to all.

The historical restoration project of Strawberry Banke will hold its "Strawbery Banke" days in Portsmouth starting on July 29. This will be a must for the weekend in Portsmouth for the yachting fan and those interested in the history of an "Old Town By The Sea." Anyone interested in entering the Whaleback Race for cruising class yachts should contact Capt. Sherman T. Baketal (Ret), General Chairman, Whaleback Ocean Race, P. O. Box 239, Portsmouth, N. H.

Chamber Of Commerce Hub Of Activity

Probably most visitors to Hampton Beach at one time or another have ventured into the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce building for information or just out of plain curiosity. The chamber building for many years has been the hub of activity for visitors to the beach. The spokes branching out from the hub have carried tourists and vacationists to many destinations and many points of interest. Perhaps it was to a nearby restaurant or lodging for the night; perhaps it was to a bowling alley or deep sea fishing; or it might even have been a trip through the White Mountains or to points north on into Canada.

What is a chamber of commerce? What does the chamber of commerce do for me the citizen, the traveler, the business man? How does the chamber get things done? How is it financed? Why does every community need one?

Because of many requests from various persons not only throughout our own area but from visitors alike who are amazed at the smooth, clock-like operation of the local chamber, an attempt will be made to answer these and other questions during the coming weeks.

The present local Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce which has been in existence for nearly half a century has mushroomed into one of the best, and most widely recognized groups of not only the State of New Hampshire but of the entire United States.

The original Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce got its start back in 1915 as a voluntary organization made up of business people and of property owners. This group was first established and known as the Board of Trade with Mr. Frank James as the original president. The aim of the members of this first chamber was to promote the recreational welfare of Hampton Beach.

Down through the years such men as James Tucker, Sr., Lester Ford, John E. Cuddy, Jr., George Bushway, Ben Butler, John Percival, Ray Goding, John Dineen, Atty. Seth Junkins, John Dunfee, Joseph Flynn and the present President Walter Vanderpool have served as presidents of the chamber with the basic aim remaining the same. Two of these men, James Tucker, Sr. and Ben Butler, went on to serve as executive secretaries for the group for long periods of time. These men saw the original aims of the chamber extended to cover many other items.

In general, the work of the chamber can be anything from a small information booth for a community to a gigantic state chamber of commerce such as the states of Illinois and California maintain. Basically the work of the chamber of commerce is broken down into three sections which include (1) service to the vacationist; (2) service to local business; and most important of all (3) service to the community.

It is actually the business community at work as the central agency for the community development of business, industry, the professions and all the civic interests in doing jobs that no individual can do.

Next week we shall continue the story of the chamber of commerce at work and will eventually lead up to the specific work of the local chamber.

We extend an invitation to vacationers to visit Northern New England's Largest Exclusive Imported Automobile Dealership.

Chamber Staff Complete

A near veteran staff will man the busy Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce information center during the summer months.

Working directly under Chamber president Walter Vanderpool and the directors of the Chamber of Commerce is Executive Secretary William Elliot.

Mr. Henry Hamel will again be returning as Promotional Director. His duties include arranging of all the shows, parades and beauty contests.

Mr. Roland Bragg continues as the bookkeeper for the Chamber of Commerce.

Returning as booth attendants this summer are Mrs. Alzena Elliot, Mrs. Florence Tarleton, Janice Dalton and Holly Elliot. The lone newcomer to the staff this year will be Cynthia Croteau.

The chamber office is open twelve hours a day. Varied types of information may be obtained here.

Elementary Summer School

The Hampton Elementary Summer School program sponsored by the Public School Systems of Supervisory Union 21 will be held this summer for children who have spent one year in Grades two, three, four, five, six and seven.

Five programs will be offered in three areas. Classes for remedial, strengthening and expanding work will be taught in the areas of reading, language arts and mathematics. Also offered are enrichment programs in science and social studies. Class sizes will approximate 15 pupils depending upon registration.

The summer school program will consist of a five week session and will be held at the Hampton Centre School on Winnacunnet Road. Hours for the session will be from 9 a.m. to 12 noon with the charge for each course being $15.

The remedial classes are for those pupils who are below the standards of their regular class in one of the three areas. In these classes they would receive continued instruction and practice in the areas which are essential for success.

The strengthening classes are for those pupils who do average work but would benefit from continued instruction and practice in order for them to make full use of abilities during the regular school year.

The expanding classes are for those students who do better than average or outstanding work at their level and wish to maintain and increase their skills and continue their progress in an area.

The science and social studies programs will allow for individual projects and instruction directed toward interests and needs of the individual.

Present New Program At Theatre by the Sea

Theatre by the Sea in Portsmouth is presenting a program of three one act plays Thursday through Sunday June 24th to 27th. "At Liberty by Tennessee Williams, a drama; "A Marriage Proposal," a comedy by Anton Chekov; and "Hello, Out There", a romance by William Saroyan.

"At Liberty", one of William's first plays, explores the areas of intimate human relationships which he developed more fully in "Glass Menagerie" and "A Streetcar Named Desire." Patricia McGregor and Helen Moore play the roles of the actress and her mother.

"A Marriage Proposal" by Anton Chekov, is a departure from the serious works commonly associated with this great writer's name. A farcical, rollicking comedy, it features Apollo Dukakis as the father, Helen Moore as the daughter, and James Cooke as the Suitor.

"Hello, Out There", a romance by William Saroyan, is a tender tragedy with Apollo Dukakis as the Young Man, Patricia McGregor as the Girl, James Cooke as the Husband, Helen Moore as the Wife and Ted Ward as a Man.

The program is being billed as "A Pocketful of Plays." It provides a sampling of the works of the great playwright, with humor, wit, and pathos intermixed in three plays completely different in imagery and idiom yet with a common denominator in that each play revolves around the universal human need for love.

Elmer Henneka At The Organ

Mr. Elmer Henneka, Hampton Beach and St. Petersburg, Florida will serve as organist for the summer months performing from the stage of the Sea Shell.

Mr. Henneka is no stranger to local music lovers as he has for many years played the organ from the local stage prior to the official opening of the beach season. This summer Mr. Henneka will play for all the regular organ concerts.

Organ concerts will be held from 2-3 p.m. daily beginning June 26 and carrying through Labor Day. Sundays and Mondays will be excepted here.

On Mondays organ concerts will be held from 3-4 and from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Country Flavor By Haydn S. Pearson

Creeks and brooks run quietly between their banks on the way to a distant sea. Only a few weeks ago leaping brooks laughed on the highlands. They dashed down rocky ridges and swirled across upland pastures to swell the streams that flowed through meadows on their way to the large rivers. As Spring's urgency subsided and the green tide rolled over hills and valleys, the waters began to subside. Beneath a July sun, slow moving brooks sing a muted song as they move between grass and willow-lined paths. Kingfishers sit motionless on the branches and the soft hum of insect wings among the grasses and daisies blends with the quiet music of the stream.

We know that water is a constant factor in our world. Some 300 cubic miles of water fall on our planet each 24 hours. We suffer both from periods of too much rain and too little. There are areas on the Earth's surface that are deserts and other areas that are rainy jungles. In our climate some brooks dry up in summer.

But the meadow creeks and brooks flow steadily through the hot days of summer. No longer the gay, hurrying waters of spring. Now the streams flow peacefully through lowland woodlands and open meadows and fields. Man, if he will, can spend a peaceful interlude by the quiet waters and in the low-pitched, unhurried song hear chords that calm the heart.

When is Nature's benediction most meaningful? Is it a May morning when green is show-

CYO, Insurance At Beach

Each year the business people of Hampton Beach play host to many groups and organizations. This year will be no exception.

Two of the earliest groups to be visiting the beach as units will be CYO groups from Massachusetts and employees from the John Hancock Insurance company.

Both of these groups have been making annual pilgrimages to Hampton Beach for many years. Both send advance "units" to plan the entire day and members of these groups can usually be seen at all corners of the beach participating in everything from swimming to bowling to boating.

ing on the hillsides and the birds offer their dawn chorus? Is it October when glory flames on the hills or a bright day in January when white hills sparkle in the light?

There are those who think that a calm, moderate-temperature day in July is Nature's best benediction. It is a peaceful quiet world at dew-spangled dawn. First sun rays paint soft color pictures on the mountains and hills, woodlands and fields.

At high noon warmth broods on the countryside. Starting rows of crops are lines of green above brown soil. Apples are beginning to swell on the bough and gardeners watch the tomatoes in the garden. Through the long hours of sunlight, birds hurry back and forth with food for their young, and grass plots teem with small forms of life.

July is the heart of summer. The monotone song of tractors echoes from the fields and the spicy fragrance of yilting grass is perfume in the air. Nature is pushing forward on its destined schedule as seeds and fruits mature. When day is done and shadows begin to bivouac in the lowlands, the countryman likes to sit on the farm porch and watch Day slide slowly into Night. Fireflies stage their dot and dash ballet above the lawn and chimney swifts settle twittering into their nests.

News Wanted

In order to bring as complete a coverage of beach events as possible during the coming weeks the staff of the BEACHCOMBER is urging that you notify a staff member immediately if you feel you have a newsworthy item or a picture worth taking.

This season Wayne Elliot, a veteran of three years with the BEACHCOMBER, will be available much of the time at the SEA SHELL and at the Chamber of Commerce. Wayne will be taking many of the pictures for the Beachcomber again this year and he will also be writing many of the stories.

This year the staff of the BEACHCOMBER is especially looking for personal items and news worthy pictures. Personal items are always of interest especially to the many people who return to the beach year after year and who are looking for familiar names in the news.

If possible all items should be typewritten and double spaced. They can be turned in at the chamber of commerce office in care of either Wayne Elliot or THE BEACHCOMBER. If Wayne is on duty and is available he will be glad to take pictures for BEACHCOMBER use if he feels they are news worthy.

Let's keep the news rolling in all summer.

For A Change Of Pace Visit Rye

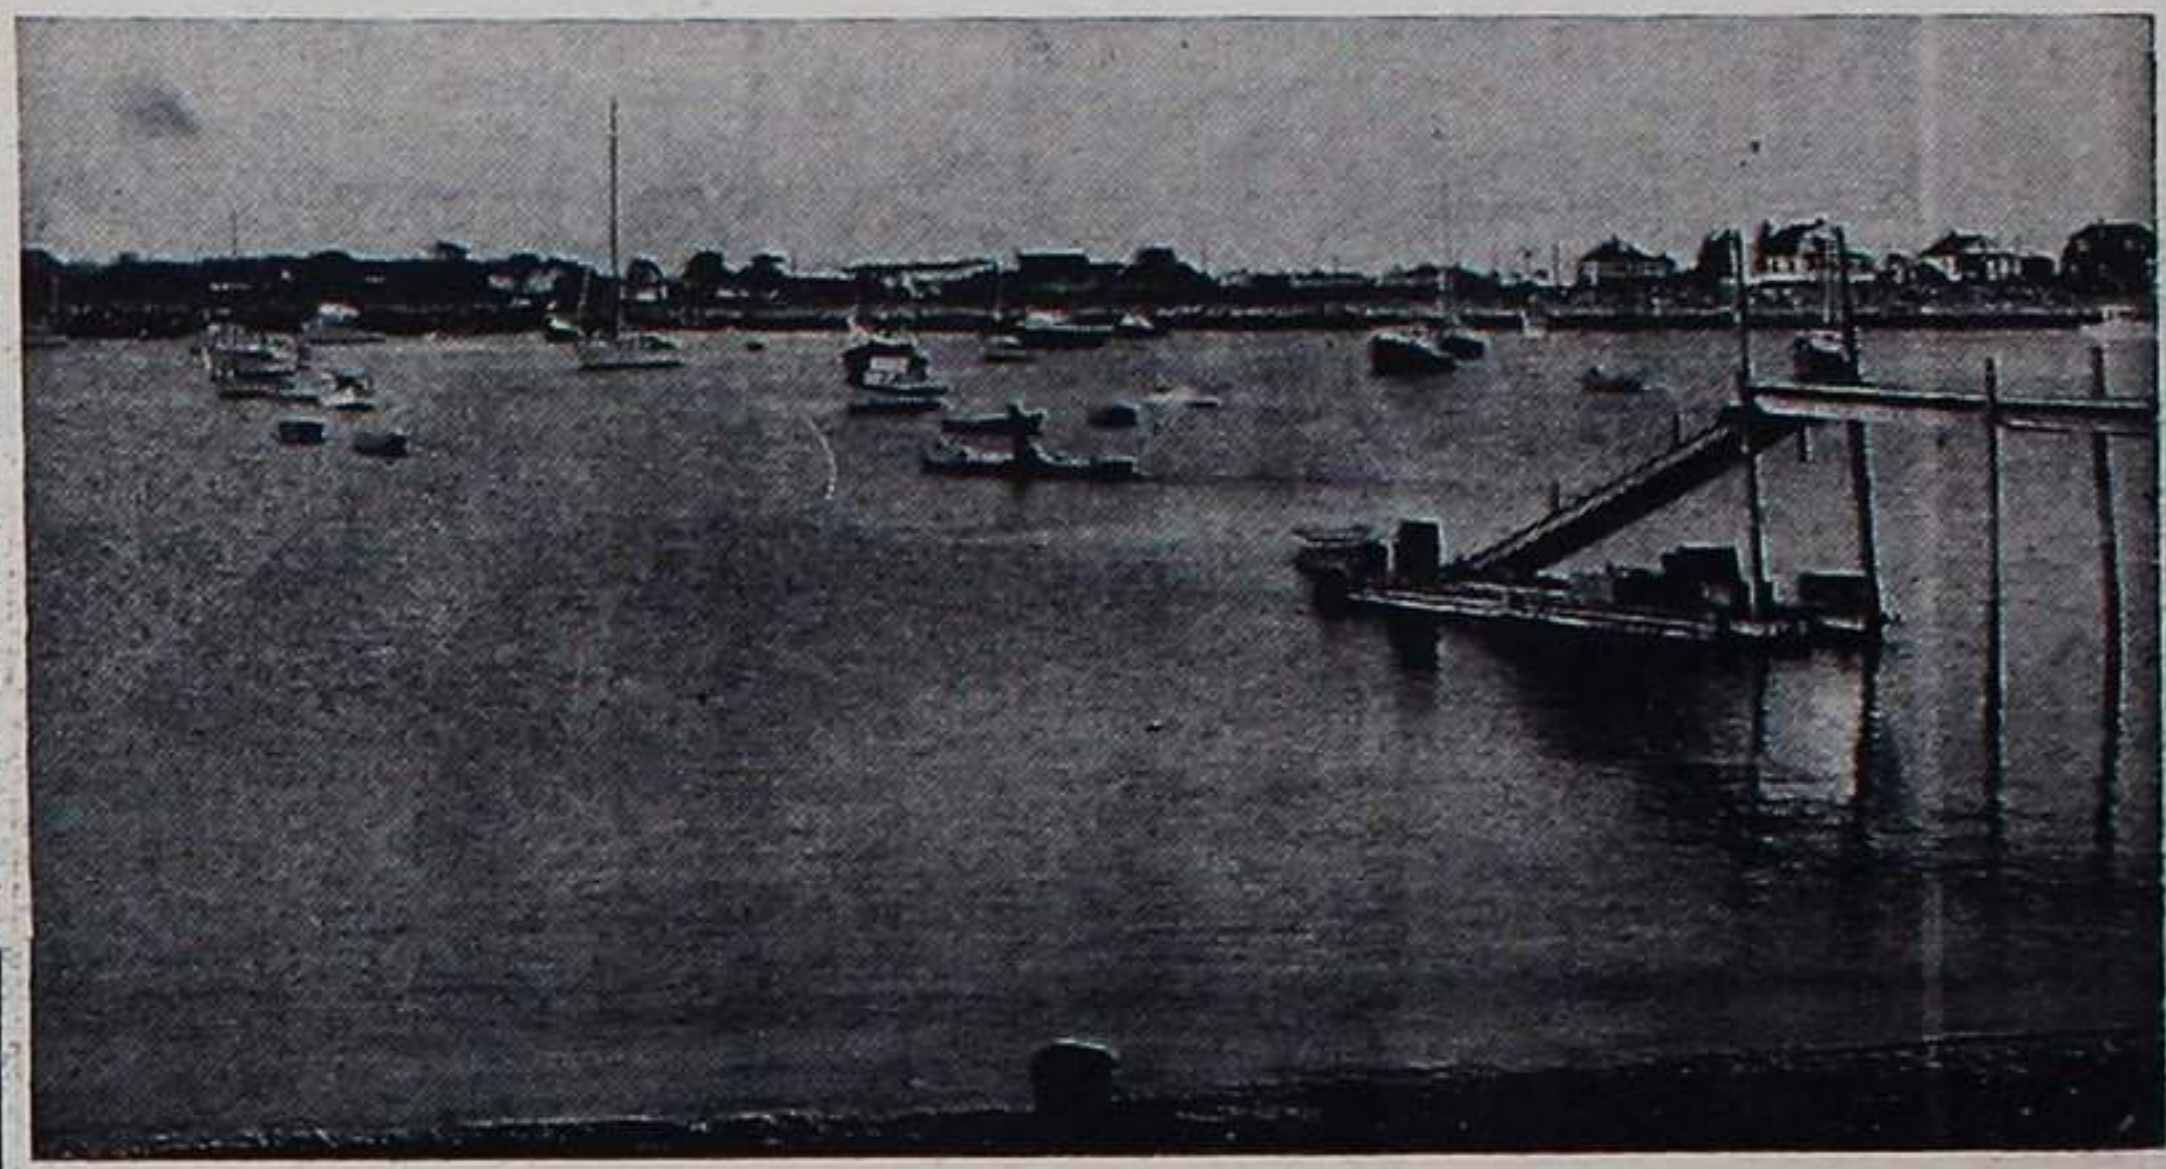

Long clean sands, a picturesque harbor and old homes describe the Seacoast town of Rye.

Long famous for its old resort hotels, Rye has more recently been an area of local and state sponsored construction. Within the last ten years, many new motels and restaurants have been built to serve the travellers who journey South from Portsmouth or North from Hampton Beach.

Last year the first phase of construction at Rye Harbor was completed with the erection of two new wharfs, one for fishermen and the other for public use, a large parking lot and rest room facilities. The small harbor has been dredged to make a deeper channel and to offer more mooring space in the compact harbor. Other work will enlarge the harbor and make easy-to-use boat slips.

The harbor is especially good for sailboats because it is relatively deep and one needs sail only a few hundred yards to be in the ocean. Long time consuming tacks are usually unnecessary at Rye Harbor. Ragged Neck is the North

RYE HARBOR is one of the most picturesque areas of the New Hampshire Seacoast. Although its history dates back to pre-Revolutionary days, Rye Harbor is the site of some of the state's newest facilities for the boat owner. Constructed last year were two new piers, a launching ramp and a dredging project which enlarged the channel and opened up new mooring areas for the small but popular harbor. Our scene in the photo views north from Harbor road with the wharf of a private fisherman in the foreground. The Harbor is particularly popular with sailors because of the deep harbor and the nearness to the ocean which saves a long tack common to other N. H. harbors. Randall Photo

State Parks Raise Rates

Service fees will be increased July 1 at 17 major, heavily-patronized New Hampshire state parks to comply with a legislative edict for additional income in the next biennium, Russell B. Tobey, director of the New Hampshire Division of Parks, announced today.

SUBMARINES
 — MADE TO ORDER —

 Cor. Ocean Blvd. & 'I' St.

Tobey said the first major increase in 12 years was necessary to comply with a requirement by the House Appropriations Committee that the division adjust its rates to obtain more income.

The new rate structure, applicable only to adults and persons over 12 years of age, has been reviewed and approved by Commissioner John F. Rowe of the Department of Resources and Economic Development, he said.

"If there is no public resistance," he continued, "we anticipated that the new rates will raise an additional $114,000 annually from our original estimated $1,534,765 to $1,648,766 set by the House for each fiscal year."

Rates will change as follows on July 1, Tobey said:

Daily service fees at 15 state parks will increase 100 percent from 25 to 50 cents; Sunday and holiday fees, formerly 35 cents at seven of these parks since the mid-1950's, will increase by 43 percent to 50 cents. Camping fees will rise from 50 to 75 cents per person at five parks (the minimum per tent site will go up from $1 to $1.50); and from 75 cents to $1 at four other parks (tent site minimum will increase from $1.50 to $2).

There will be no increase in fees at eight parks which offer limited services and are less heavily patronized. Children under 12 in family groups will still be admitted without charge to all state parks.

A charge of 50 cents per person will be in effect for the first time at Clough State Park in Weare and Otter Brook in Keene. Coleman State Park in Stewartstown and Cardigan in Orange will continue to offer free use.

Fees at the Franklin Pierce Homestead in Hillsborough will go up from 35 to 50 cents per adult and from 20 to 25 cents for children from 12 to 18. Fees will remain the same at the Daniel Webster Birthplace and Wentworth-Coolidge Mansion.

Rep. Joseph M. Eaton of Hillsborough, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, was recently quoted as stating that the division had been given a firm "footnote" orders to raise admission rates to help balance its new spending allotments.

House Bill 653 carried the footnote: "Rates charged for service and self-supporting parks shall be adjusted to assure that estimated revenues will be realized. Expenditures for the division of parks shall not exceed legislative net appropriation plus actual revenue."

The 50 cent fee, effective July 1, will apply to the following state parks: Bear Brook, Echo Lake, Ellacoya, Forest Lake, Echo Lake in Franconia Notch, Greenfield, Kingston, Monadnock, Moose Brook, Silver Lake, Sunapee State Beach, Wadleigh, Wellington, Wentworth and White Lake.

The 35 cent fee has been charged on Sundays and holidays at Bear Brook, Greenfield, Kingston, Silver Lake, Sunapee Beach, Wellington and White Lake.

There will be no change in the charge of 50 cents per person at Hampton Beach State Park and Wallis Sands State Park. Camping fees will go up from 50 to 75 cents per person at Coleman, Crawford Notch, Mt. Mansfield, Monadnock and Pillsbury. They will be increased from 75 cents to $1 at Bear Brook, Franconia Notch, Greenfield and White Lake and from 50 cents to $1 at Moose Brook because of recent improvements.

The 25 cent fee will increase to 50 cents at Mt. Prospect State Park in Lancaster where a renovation project is completed this summer. Annett Wayside Area in Rindge will increase its charge from 20 to 25 cents per person.

All State Parks Open Free For Residents On June 26

All New Hampshire state parks with a service fee will be open without charge to residents on Saturday, June 26th.

Service fees will be waived for the eighth annual State Park Day to give residents an opportunity to use and get acquainted with the growing system, Russell B. Tobey, director of the New Hampshire Division of Parks, said today.

The privilege applies to all of the 30 state parks which apply a fee, the three historic sites, and the Annett Wayside Picnic Area in Rindge. Eight other waysides have no fees.

All cars bearing New Hampshire registration plates at their passengers will be admitted free on that day, Tobey said.

Parking fees will be waived at two seacoast state parks, Hampton Beach and Wallis Sands. Exceptions are a fee applied at Hampton for checking and use of the shower which is optional. Wallis Sands does not charge separately for use of its bathhouse.

Other exceptions are camping fees, the aerial tramway and admission to the Flume in Franconia Notch, and the chairlift at Mt. Sunapee State Park.

Project To Benefit Bathers, Mariners

An eight year, $750,000, project to improve Hampton Harbor is well underway despite a minor delay.

Already completed are a stone groin and a jetty off the south end of the river with work continuing on a North jetty and outer harbor dredging.

Although construction began only this spring, the project has been in the planning stages for eight years.

Under the direction of the Corps of Engineers, the project is set up to keep sand on the beaches and out of Hampton River. Several years ago, the channel was dredged and the sand pumped on to the North end of Hampton Beach. Time and tides have washed the sand to the mouth of the river leaving a long sand bar which passable only at higher tides and even then the water is extremely rough and is a dangerous trip for all but the largest boats. Boats now must enter the harbor near the off-shore rocks or over the deepest water on the sand bars.

The channel to the bridge is not very wide at low tide, and once inside the bridge water is very shallow in many areas making limited mooring space, particularly on the Seabrook side of the river.

A stone groin off Church Street, Hampton Beach, will, according to the engineers, keep the sand on the North end of the beach from washing to the mouth of the Harbor.

Jettys at the North and South sides of the mouth river will keep the huge bars from forming which in the past have made navigation in the area a most difficult maneuver for all but native fishermen.

Currently under construction is the North jetty which extends out 1,000 yards from the corner of the State Park along the line of an old jetty now almost covered by sand. The outer harbor is being dredged at this time and this phase is nearly completed.

The remainder of the project, dredging the inner harbor and putting the dredged sand back on Hampton Beach, will not be started until after Labor Day.

A contract for this phase was awarded two weeks ago, but the award was later withdrawn when complications regarding dumping the sand came about. This project had been scheduled to begin July 15.
