but has chosen to follow the barber's career.

In addition to her mom and dad, Mr. and Mrs. David Reynolds, Judy has a proud 14 year old sister, Debbie. Debbie will be attending Memorial this fall. Her dad is a district manager for the John E. Cain Company.

Judy has a couple of hobbies which she enjoys more than the others. They include modern dancing. Perhaps this comes naturally as her mother is a dancer. Judy also is a member of the National Rifle Association and enjoys it very much after having joined a rifle club while in school.

During high school she was a cheerleader, she played basketball and served on many, many committees such as the Junior and Senior Proms. While attending high school her favorite subjects were Government and Spanish.

"I was completely dumbfounded at the close of the contest and didn't quite realize what had happened. I didn't understand why the photographers were taking pictures of me back stage as the final names were announced."

But it didn't take the new Miss Hampton Beach long to realize that she was the winner and a mighty big winner, pointwise, at that. She said she hadn't been too nervous because she hadn't honestly expected to win. But when the contestants narrowed down to five girls she began to wonder a little. She said she tripped when she ascended the ball-room stairs for the last round. "This made me nervous and I thought my chances were ruined."

But they weren't ruined as

The day long activities will get underway with a parade beginning at 10:30 a.m. Immediately following the parade and shortly after noon, the handtub competition will get underway in the town parking lot on Ashworth Avenue.

The line of march of the parade, second to be held at Hampton Beach in a week, was recently announced by Mr. Tarleton.

The police escort, Hampton Police, will head up the parade with the color guard being a contingent from Pease Air Force Base with Sgt. Leo Cook commanding. Chief Marshall for the day's activities and heading the line of march will be Chief Perley George of the Hampton Department.

The marshal for the first division will be the Hampton Beach Fire Queen, Denise Putnam, Beverly, Mass.

Judy found out. Next week, on August 20th, she will officially receive the crown of Miss Hampton Beach. Although she has already begun her year's reign with the taking of pictures and several appearances, an exciting year will begin in earnest next August 20th. Her first official duties will be to serve as leading lady in the annual parade of floats. And this will be only the beginning of this quiet but sincere young lady from Manchester, New Hampshire.

A highlight of this year's parade will be the presence of Snokey the Bear. Also in the first division will be the N. H. Forest Fire Truck and fire apparatus from cities and town of Rockingham County and visiting firemen.

Marshall for the second division will be Miss Hampton Beach of 1965-66, Miss Judy Reynolds of Manchester, New Hampshire. In this group will be several troops of the Boy Scouts of America who will be making a return to the beach for parades for the first time in several years.

Third Division Marshall will be Miss New England of 1966, Miss Anita Finnegan of Hyde Park, Mass. In the division will be judges of a Veteran Firemen's Land League led by the hand engine, Winnacumnet of Hampton Beach.

In the fourth division will be trucks, buses and motorcycles towing trailers.

The parade will halt for five minutes so that local units, majorettes and others may perform for the spectators.

Gala Coronation Ball Friday Night

On August 20th, beginning at 8:30 p.m. in the Casino Ballroom a pretty Manchester, N. H. lass, Miss Judy Reynolds, will officially begin her reign as Miss Hampton Beach 1965-66. At the same time an equally charming and talented young lady, Miss Sheila Scott, North Hampton, N. H., will relinquish the crown which she has held for a year.

Many local beauty contest winners, runners-up and former contestants as well as visitors to the beach are expected to take part in the Coronation Ball, always one of the most colorful events of the summer recreation season.

Clipping a long list of summer events at the beach, the Coronation Ball will kick-off the August Festival during which parades, vaudeville acts and all the trimmings will be seen at Hampton Beach.

Close to 40 girls have already registered at the Hampton Beach Chamber of Commerce signifying intentions of serving in the official court of Miss Hampton Beach during the coronation ceremonies this year. Over 100 girls are expected to participate on August 20th.

Some of the girls who have already registered to take part are Catherine Skyes, Brighton, Mass.; Gayle MacDonald, Boston, Mass.; Mary Ellen Mays; Nancy Brackett, former runner-up in the Miss New England Contest and present Miss Coast Guard, Brighton, Mass.;

Janice Dalton, Hampton; Bannan James, Seabrook, N. H.; Sandra Eaton, Newburyport, Mass.; Martha Peabody, Newburyport, Mass. and Diane Hussey, Salisbury, Mass.

Others include Linda Lowell, Newburyport, Mass.; Janet Kent, Newburyport, Mass.; Barbara Brown, Salisbury, Mass.; Diane Strait, Salisbury, Mass.; Laura Marie Rousseau, Salisbury, Mass.; Ramela Bodwell, Amesbury, Mass.; Miss Mooseheart; Barbara Finn, of Manchester, N. H.; Dorot Norton; Constance Pattie, of Lawrence, Mass.; Ellen Kiley, Somerville, Mass.; Sharon Carlson, Windsor, Conn.; Nancy Simons, Hampton and Susan Brannagan.

Other girls who expect to participate are Glenda Caldwell, Yvette Chasse, Grace Crawley, Christine Arsenault, Susan Mullan, Kay Houlihan, Francis Houlihan, former Miss New England and three times Miss Hampton Beach runner-up, Sherrill Earnshaw, Patricia Crawley, Arlene Chabot, Peggy Perkins, and Pat Murphy.

Other late entrants were Maureen and Joan McClusky and Susan Tedesco.

Miss Dianne Higson who recently relinquished her crown as Miss New England, Anita Finnegan, are also both expected to take part in the program.

The Ball festivities will get underway at 8:30 p.m. and will conclude with the traditional Grand March.

Miss New England Crown To Annual Beach Visitor

Anita Marie Finnegan has been summering at Hampton Beach for approximately 17 1/2 years - at least ever since she was six months of age. A typical teenager from a prominent spot in the August 20 Coronation Ball, the Parade of Floats on August 21, the Firemen's Muster on August 28 and others.

Who is this striking brown haired beauty who rolled up 84 points, most ever by a Miss New England winner? Anita hails from 95 Beacon Street, Hyde Park, Mass. Physically she stands 5 feet 6 inches, weighs 120 lbs., and her vital statistics are 34-24-34. She possesses a vivacious smile, displayed plenty of poise and is a typical, wonderful New England girl.

Her dad, Gerard, is superintendent of the International Paper Company in Somerville, Mass. Her mom, Frances, was just about the proudest lady on Hampton Beach last week. Anita's brother is Jerry, 20, and her sisters are Lorraine, met so many wonderful girls.

Anita received the crown from outgoing queen, Diane Higson. The next year will be a busy one for her with several public appearances including a prominent spot in the August 20 Coronation Ball, the Parade of Floats on August 21, the Firemen's Muster on August 28 and others.

She was a familiar sight on the beach and this summer at her summer job at Kennedy's Restaurant at North Shore.

On August 3 just two weeks after she had placed fourth in the Miss Hampton Beach Contest, Anita climaxed her long summer stay of more than 17 years at Hampton Beach by attaining one of the top honors bestowed upon any girl anywhere. Anita, crying openly and unashamedly with happiness, ascended the Casino Ballroom steps as Miss New England of 1965-66.

14, Joyce, 7, and Beverly, 5. Miss New England graduated from Fontebonne Academy in Milton, Mass. and attended Newman Prep in Boston last year. She is enrolled at Massachusetts Bay Community College, an extension of the University of Massachusetts located in Boston. She is taking a business course majoring in secretarial work.

Looking back over the years just passed, Anita served as cheerleader for two years, was in the Mission Club, was official Red Cross Representative, belonged to the French Club and served on various Prom committees. Her favorite subject was English and she enjoyed swimming.

"Even if I hadn't won I had so much fun and enjoyed it so much it was worth it. I met so many wonderful girls."

"I didn't realize I had even a chance of winning until there were just two of us left. When I heard the words, Worcester, Mass., Catherine walked away leaving me alone. It was like a stampede as I was mobbed by the girls out back."

Would you recommend that other girls take part in such contests at the beach? "Yes. Definitely. I would recommend that girls take part. It is a wonderful experience. It gives a girl poise she wouldn't otherwise attain. It gives you a chance to meet new friends.

Were you nervous? "I wasn't too nervous. I have had a lot of contact with the public in my job. The Miss Hampton Beach Contest helped me."

Anita won the Miss Mardi Gras title in her home town and church in 1964 from approximately 20 girls. Proving that old adage "third time never fails", Anita took a comfortable fourth place spot in the Miss Hampton Beach Contest and then roared home to an overwhelming victory in the recent Miss New England Contest.

Dreams never come true? Prophecies don't hold forth? Who said they don't. You'll never prove it by talking to Anita. The night of the contest prior to leaving she had just had her hair done. One of her friends said kiddingly, "I wonder how the crown will look on you?"

It didn't take long to find out. Sincere, Pretty, Intelligent. Down to earth. You name it. That's Anita Finnegan, Miss New England, 1965-66.

Guides Show On Sunday
Something besides trout is going to ripple the surface of the placid waters of cool Back Lake in this Canadian border town August 22nd.
That's the date for the famous New Hampshire Guides Show and one feature of such programs is invariably log-rolling and canoe-tilting contests. Human beings, therefore, are going to be dunked, joining brookies, square-tails, lakereels or whatever species of the speckled beauties happens to be about.

Guides with years and years of know-how will also engage in wood sawing and chopping contests, a variety of canoe races and will demonstrate other skills of the practiced woodsman.
Back Lake is a part of the famous Connecticut Lakes complex which serve as headwaters for New England's major river. It lies deep in the heart of New Hampshire's Christmas Tree Country and is dear to the hearts of those who appreciate a wealth of elbow room as well as to sportsmen.

Northern New Hampshire has been blessed with greater rainfall than most other areas of the northeast this summer, and Mother Nature's "green thumb" has left a very strong imprint.
After such guides as are dunked have dried off, and all hands have had a chance to get their breath back, there'll be a piping hot lumbercamp-style beanhole-bean supper at which spectators are welcome.

YMCA Camp Lincoln Events
The Big Top Tent, representing Carlisle College won the fifth annual Thanksgiving Day celebration held at YMCA Camp Lincoln in Kingston, this past weekend. Carlisle led by David Gay, Sr. Counselor from Topsfield, Mass. and Counselors David Chapman of Candia, Daniel Driscoll of Derry, and Jr. Counselor-in-Training Stephen Hume of Hampton won the volleyball and soccer games and the inspection, bowling, history bee, and tribal challenges contests.

Their total points were 96, with cabins 8, 3, and 6 representing Center College placing second with 17. Michael Stare of Greenland, Bruce Reynolds of Kingston, Weston Cook of Rye, Roger Penn of Hampton, Kuphus Aluade of Nigeria, and Jay Alberts of Kingston led the Center College team.

Harvard with 16 points placed third as they were led by Andrew Kopecki of Exeter, Warren Glazer of Maplewood, New Jersey, Larry Young of Kansas City, Missouri, and Bruce Carrier of Exeter.

UNH, representing cabins 2, 4, and 7 finished fourth with a score of 15.

The special Thanksgiving Day program also included a tall tales contest, an mural art contest in which each college team were required to paint a mural depicting some scene commonly associated with the Thanksgiving season. The day was climaxed with a typical Thanksgiving Dinner including the turkey and all the fixings.

"Who's Afraid Of Virginia Woolf?"

A notion of the peppered broth that was coming reached the eagerly anticipating theatergoers of New York when "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" had a pre-Broadway try-out in Boston, and the municipal censor called it "a cesspool" and insisted on rigorous cuts in the dialogue. Along with this came the threat of closing the show and summarily banning the play in Boston.

When the play opened in New York the effect was just as explosive. The critics, bruised and shaken, reported enthusiastically on the tremendous power of the explosion. Others reported angrily about the horror of the explosion. One commentator noted eleven months after the opening that "the play is still stretching both ends of the vocabularies of critics and audiences." A letter-writer wrote, "I'm a simple theatergoer and I think 'Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?' is one of the dirtiest, crudest, cruellest, nastiest and most wonderful plays I've ever seen."

Indeed, this is a drama of such jolting power and frankness that it shocked the Pulitzer Advisory Board of Columbia University into the rare course of rejecting the recommendation of its jury given the Pulitzer Prize. In consequence, no Pulitzer Prize was awarded that year — and two jurymen resigned in protest amid a general uproar in the press. However, the play walked away with just about every other award of its first season on Broadway: — The New York Drama Critics Award, The ANTA Critics Award, The Outer Circle Award, The Foreign Press Association Award, the Annual Variety Poll and five Tony Awards! And, looking this was the overwhelming popularity of the play. For over a year there was never an empty seat. In all, the play ran 660 performances in New York, over 19 months, to May 1964. And now "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" is being made into a movie in Northampton, Mass., starring Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton.

With a cast of Rue McClanahan, Ian Sullivan, Dierdra Owen, and the special appearance of the Hampton favorite, Dennis Drew, this promises to be one of the biggest hits ever to come to the Hampton Playhouse. For adults only, this jolting masterpiece is sure to make you laugh riotously, weep, and cry out in anger. You will not be the same when you leave The Hampton Playhouse after seeing "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

New Federal Conservation Sticker Information

Information about the new $7 Federal recreation-conservation stickers may be obtained from the New Hampshire Division of Parks, Director Russell B. Tobey said today.

Application blanks for the stickers, which are valid this season at Federal recreation areas where an entrance fee is required, also may be obtained at the division office in the state house annex at Concord, he said.

Stickers are not being sold by the Division of Parks, he added, but may be obtained from any U.S. Forest Service Office.

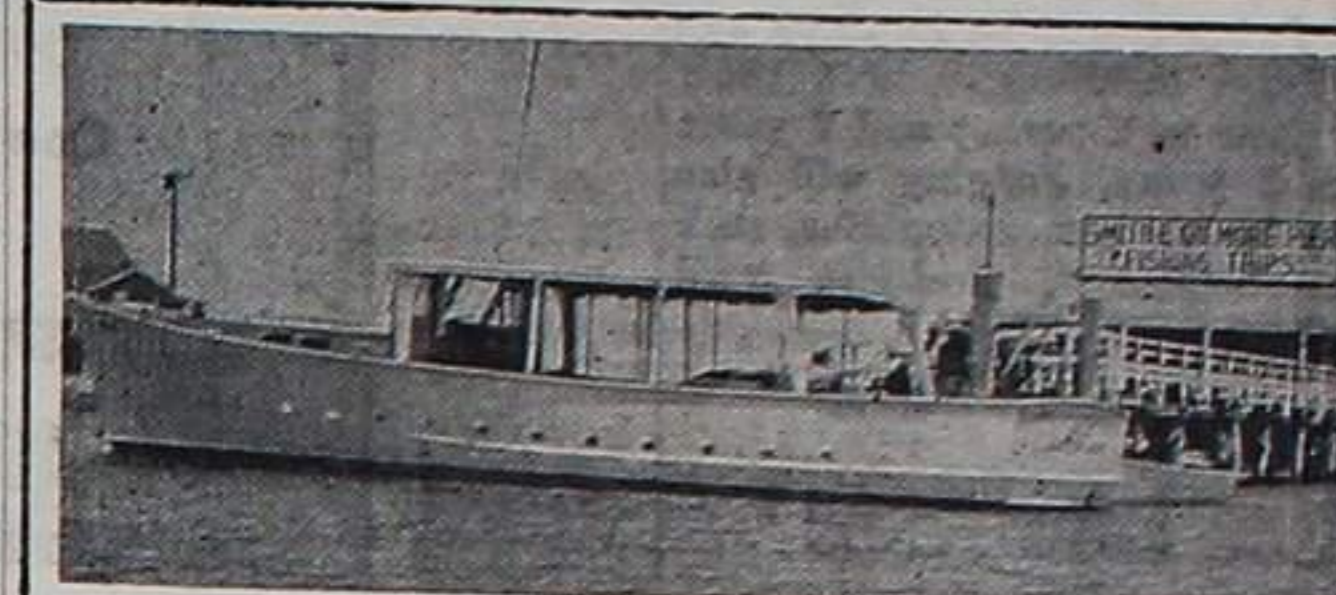

The stickers, valid until March 1966, permit unlimited use of designated Federal areas by the purchaser and all other occupants of a non-commercial vehicle. There are no fees for children under 16 years of age.

Designated areas include National Forests, National Park Service areas, National Wildlife Refuges and others where a fee is applied. The White Mountain National Forest is included.

Seasonal permits, available at $1.25 per person over 16 years of age, also may be used for admission to designated areas of the White Mountain National Forest, but may not be used in any other national forest.

Extension Notes

Jellies and jams, conserves, marmalades, and preserves can add zest to summer or winter meals. Most of them provide a good way to use fruit not at its best for canning or freezing. One can use very large or very small fruits and berries that are irregular shaped.

Homemakers who would like the N.H. Extension Service bulletin on "How to Make Jellies, Jams, and Preserves at Home," should send a postcard to Miss Ruth G. Stimson, Rockingham County Extension Home Economist, 61 Water Street, Exeter, N.H. The twenty-nine page leaflet has fifty recipes for jellies, jams, and preserves.

There are hints on storage, containers, jelly ingredients of sugar, pectin and fruit. A test for doneness is included which is some of the biggest problems in making jelly. The temperature test, sponge test and a new refrigerator test. In this latter method a small amount of boiling jelly is put on a cold plate and put in the ice compartment for a few minutes. If the mixture gels, it should be done. During this test, the jelly mixture should be removed from the source of heat.

The Extension Service bulletin on jelly has pictures on methods of making and a section on questions and answers on jelly making problems. What makes jelly cloudy? Why do crystals form? What can be done to make soft jellies firmer? What makes jelly weep or become syrupy? What makes some jelly tough? Why does mold form on some jelly and jams? What causes fading?

These and other question and answers may be found in this Extension Service bulletin. Send for your copy today.

Join Old Salts Club With Cod, Pollock

Cod and Pollock highlighted the catches by those persons qualifying for membership in the Old Salts Club during the past week. The total number of members who have received official membership into the 1965 club has climbed to 65 persons.

Biggest catch of the week was made by Jerry Capron, Ackerman's Trailer Park, Salem, New Hampshire. Fishing aboard a Smith and Gilmore Party boat, Jerry hauled in a 31 pound Blue Hake.

Six year old John W. Shea, 14 Sunset Drive, Worcester, Mass., caught a 24 1/2 lb. Pollock. John's fish was one of the largest registered at Old Salts' headquarters this season.

John J. Nickerson, 740 Exeter Road, Hampton, N. H., became one of the few local residents this season to qualify for membership. John caught an 18 1/2 lb. Codfish.

Another large fish, a 16 lb. Pollock, was caught by Nellie Lehan, Old Andover Road, North Reading, Mass. This catch was also certified by Smith and Gilmore headquarters.

Dennis Johnson, 316 Lynnfield Street, Lynnfield, Mass., caught a 16 1/2 lb. Pollock to become a 1965 member.

Paul A. Rogers, 78 William Road, Nahant, Mass., caught a 15 lb. Codfish six miles off the Isles of Shoals while fishing aboard the "Sea-Esta", a 28 foot inboard cabin cruiser out of Lynn, Mass. The boat owned by Mr. Rogers was docked at the Hampton Beach Marina for three days.

Fishing with Mr. Rogers aboard the "Sea-Esta" and qualifying for membership was Al Miller, 21 Starret Road, West Lynn, Mass. His catch made with a rod and reel was a 14 lb. Codfish.

Another fisherman fishing from the "Sea-Esta" was Harry Cavaley, 316 Lynnfield, St., Lynnfield, Mass. Henry boated a 9 lb. 13 oz. Codfish.

Kim Dill, 82 Atlantic avenue, North Hampton qualified for membership by catching a 4 1/2 lb. Haddock. The catch was certified by officials of the Al Gauron Deep Sea Fishing Party Boats operating out of the State Pier.

Nancy A. Hebard, Wilmington, Vermont, qualified for membership with a catch of an 8 lb. Haddock. The catch was certified by Captain Walt Sturgis.

Catching a 4 1/2 lb. Haddock qualified Paula Crikos, 2 Ardsmore Road, Melrose, Mass. for membership in the Old Salts Club.

Only a little more than two weeks remain for those persons desiring to attain membership in the 1965 Old Salts Club. No dues are paid. No meetings are held. All you need to do to qualify is to catch one of the listed fish at any of the local deep sea fishing headquarters or at the chamber of commerce, have the catch certified and visit the chamber of commerce office to pick up your arm patch, certificate and wallet card. Why not give it a try today.

Appoint Committee To Study Rock. County Government

The Rockingham County Commissioners have appointed a committee to study this county's government. The announcement came from Chairman of the Commissioners, William S. Bartlett, Sr., who said, "We feel that county government in Rockingham County is being wrongly criticized for it is generally acknowledged that Rockingham County is the leading county government in New Hampshire."

The committee will meet with each department head to see if there is an opportunity for individuals to pay for services which are rendered to them rather than to have these costs born by the taxpayers.

"We do not feel that these departments should be self-supporting," Bartlett said, "but we do feel that the difference should be narrowed down."

"For example: 60% of our patients at the County Home are Old Age Assistance. 75% of this cost is met by Federal and State contributions. Considering our cost per day per patient for full board and care, medical fees, medications, clothing and occupational therapy, we know that the County taxpayers are bearing the cost of these patients greater than the 25% required by law."

"We realize that the cost of County Government has increased but, also, the cost of all Governments, Town, City, County, State and National have increased as much, if not more, than County. However, we are not alibing our increased costs. We feel that the difference between the cost of good government and poor government is so small that poor government cannot be tolerated", he continued.

"We also know that the services County Government is rendering must be performed by some unit of government and we know that we are performing these services as efficiently and economically as any government can perform them," Bartlett explained. "The facts are that the cost of these services has increased while the revenue has not kept pace with the increased costs," the Commissioner said.

"This Committee, consisting of Mayor Timothy Connors, Portsmouth; Rep. Ellen Cressey, South Hampton; Rep. Donald A. Ring, Hampton; Rep. LeRoy M. Junkins, Exeter; Selectman, Percy C. Rogers, No. Hampton; Merton Webber, Windham; Town Manager, Theodore R. Novak, Exeter; Rep. Ross Watts, Deerfield; Selectman, Donald Bentley, Derry and Mrs. Nettie Kemp, Kingston, will serve without pay and we hope will come up with recommendations which will reduce the cost to the taxpayers and will bring in suggestions that will lead to legislative changes in 1967 guaranteeing these reductions. It will be a standing Committee and will work with the Commissioners until 1967. Other names will be added to the Committee from time to time. After the formation of the Rockingham County Selectmen's Association this year, they will appoint members from their Association to serve on the Committee," Bartlett concluded.

Vaudeville Acts During Festival

One of the highlights of the August Festival will be vaudeville acts slated to be held at the Sea Shell stage from August 24 through August 28.

The Hampton Beach Village Precinct and the Hampton Beach Hotel Association will present Billy Spina and his son Bobby. They will be doing a singing, comedy and a dance routine.

Second feature act will be the Rae Nichols quartet. Rae is the regular Hampton Beach Concert organist for the summer. Her quartet is well known having played in many area establishments.

One of the feature attractions of the week long festivities will be the giving away of a portable television to some lucky guest who is staying at the beach at the time of the drawing. The television is on display at the chamber of commerce office and is being given by the Hotel Association to a guest registered on August 27 at a Hotel Association Member Hotel. The guest must be present at the time of the drawing in order to win the television. No tickets are being sold. One need only be a guest at one of the member hotels on August 27 to be eligible to win the television set.

Swimmers Receive Red Cross Certificates

Aimed at making water pleasure safer for those who go to beaches and lakes during the summer months, the Exeter District Chapter, American Red Cross water safety program in July gave out a good amount of certificates, said Mrs. S. Richard Strand, the chapter's Executive Secretary.

By standing beside it the child can easily tell how his height compares with the depth of the pool at that point. It is hoped that this mark well above water will help the person if he cannot swim well.

Red Cross will be happy to advise how this contour depth line can be constructed in any indoor pool, and of course outdoor pools as well.

Mrs. Strand does hope that pools in the Exeter chapter's area will adopt Mr. Simpson's idea and urging pool owners to apply it. For further information on how to place this depth line, Mrs. Strand will be very happy to provide it.

At Kingston Park 42 certificates were given in July for beginners, advanced beginners, intermediates and swimmers.

Camps and the Phillips Exeter Academy turned out an equally fine number. PEA gave out 22 Senior Life Saving certificates; Camp Merriday in Hampton 54 in all; in beginners, advanced beginners, intermediates and swimmers. Camp Kings gate in Kingston had 25 in all; in beginners, advanced beginners, intermediates, swimmers, advanced swimmers and Junior Life Savers. And 6 Senior Life Saving certificates were given at Hampton Beach.

In the Junior Division, ten acts vied for the top honors with the Nollet Sisters, Patricia, 11, Joyce, 10, Beverly,

In the close competition, a very talented young lady from Saugus, Mass., Donna Russo, 13, gained the second place win with a dance routine. Third place was accorded Gary Metz, Cumberland Hill, Rhode Island. Gary played the accordion.

Miss Gear of Salem, Mass. will return to the stage on August 30th as the August 9th Senior Division winner. Jane danced her way to the win and rolled up a very high count in the applause following the contest. Two talented singers, Alex Carl, Athol, Mass., and Jay Holloran, No. Hampton, N. H., took the second and third place trophies respectively. Alex sang "Adam and Eve" and Jay sang "I Believe".

Others participating in this group were John Voci, 14, of Lynn, Mass. who played the guitar and sang; Joanne Lopez, 16, Saugus, Mass. who danced; Mark David, 15, Springfield, Mass. who played the piano; Laura Rousseau, 16, Salisbury, Mass. who sang and Diane Strait, 16, Salisbury, Mass. who also sang.

The Collins View

By DICK COLLINS

Well here we are in the homestretch of the summer with only three weeks to go until the final days of the summer season.

This past week we took note of a local real estate dealer who has a very interesting hobby. If you are down on I Street here at the beach take note of Bobby's, on the front of the building you will see number plates from all of the fifty states. I understand how expensive this hobby is because no doubt one has to pay every state for the set of plates that are purchased.

Not long ago I drove down to the State Pier here at Hampton and checked out the many boats that are lodged in the area. There are all kinds of boats from large fishing craft to a little putt. Also I believe that if you want a speedy boat ride out along the coast that is possible too.

By the way did you know that Pat Fuller owner of one of the nicest hotels on the beach plays a lot of golf lately, and shoots in the 80's. John Dineen also plays a fair game of golf we understand.

There is a chap working at a men's shop here at Hampton by the name of Peter, not so strange, but his whole name is Peter Volpe and all you Mass. residents are familiar with that name, are you not? Peter is the nephew of Gov. John Volpe of Mass. After talking with Peter I cannot really tell if he is a Democrat or a GOP'er so if you see a big fancy car around the beach with a real low Mass. number plate like "A", that will be Peter coming to work.

At this point yours truly would like to give credit to a member of CAVE who in my opinion is doing a fine job. Her name is Elaine Moriarty. There are not many girls that would take on a position like Elaine holds down. She attends UNH during the school year and makes her home in Conn. I did have the pleasure of working with Elaine on a few programs but not long ago I was forced to resign from CAVE because of the fact of no co-operation, but we do hope Elaine will keep the "faith".

Checking the THRUSH file: Warren at the Colonial Gift Shop, "The Loser"; Mary at the same shop, "The Thing"; did you hear Bill O'Neil at a local hot dog stand got shot down by Gloria, Mary Lou a cashier says to Jay, "I Can't Help Myself"; Dick Curry says "Girls Come Running" and fi-

".. Virginia Woolf" Shocking Violent Drama

Few plays in the modern theatre can match the literary quality of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" which will shock audiences this week at the Hampton Playhouse in a violent dramatic symphony that destroys four lives mentally and morally during an all-night drinking bout.

The play is extremely controversial (It caused the resignation of four members of the Pulitzer Prize selection committee). The play is shocking (The Management in a pre-certain speech invites anyone in the audience to seek a ticket refund who does not wish to expose themselves to the language and situations that will unfold on stage). The play is long (Although, Director Louis Beachner cut nearly 200 lines nally a belated Happy Birthday to James F. Fallon, Jr., and Fred Hall.

Old gardeners never die they just spade away.

News Wanted

In order to bring as complete a coverage of beach events as possible during the coming weeks the staff of the BEACHCOMBER is urging that you notify a staff member immediately if you feel you have a newsworthy item or a picture worth taking.

This year the staff of the BEACHCOMBER is especially looking for personal items and news worthy pictures.

from the script the play still runs three hours.) Despite these "drawbacks", "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" is a theatrical experience that a true aficionado of the spoken word should not miss.

A small cast of four talented performers carry the entire burden of the verbose script in which words, words and more words — one played against the other in chromatic precision — build the plot through a series of dramatic sequences like the movements in a symphony each mounting upon the other in increasing fury to the final crashing of "symbols" and quiet denouement of tragic destruction.

The role of George — the chief executioner — is superbly played by Dennis Drew, whom the management of the Playhouse brought up from New York for this particular role. Drew has the talent to make words come alive from a simple, quizzical "What?" to the climatic, "Our son is dead!" and words must come alive in "Virginia Woolf" to capture the lyrical qualities that Albee wrote into the script.

Drew's acid test of acting ability is making the progressive transition from a sympathetic brow-beaten husband to a paranoid conspirator who, with the accuracy of a chess player, makes a calculated attack upon the minds and morals of the three people around him. Drew's fine talent grasps this theme and plays it with ascending fury to the climactic moment of truth.

His frustrated wife, Martha, who finds solace in the gin bottle give Rue McClanahan her most challenging role of the summer — and a bouncer of roses to Miss McClanahan for the exciting way she meets the challenge, "tout a fait" her role demands a reverse characterization from a brash, shrew to a pathetic, broken female. She was wonderful.

Diedre Owen and Ian Sullivan, as the younger couple unwittingly exposed to diabolical destruction, supply the support for the sub-themes that run through this dramatic symphony. Again unqualified credit must be accorded this support. Miss Owen is her finest and Mr. Sullivan once more demonstrating his great versatility and capacity as an actor.

You may not like "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" In fact, you could hate it. You may not understand Albee's symbolism that he has written so beautifully into the lines. But one can not leave the theatre without a real sense of having been exposed to a great theatrical adventure. Even though you might be shocked by the sounds and your sensibilities offended by the themes, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" is exceptional theatre. It is a credit to the co-managers John Vari and Al Christie that they have had the courage to bring this play to the New Hampshire seacoast — that they selected Louis Beachner to apply his sensitive talents to the direction of the play — and that they assembled such an outstanding cast to bring "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" into reality.

Top New England Muster Saturday

A LITTLE BIT OF "???" Can you guess what it might be? Children were participants in the parade held last week. Photo by Elliot

The following word comes from Fred Aiken, member of the New England Firemen's League regarding the upcoming August 28 Firemen's Muster.

"Veteran firemen, fire-buffs, and their families throughout New England are eagerly awaiting the great Firemen's Muster which is to be held at Hampton Beach on Saturday, August 28th.

"Not only will this affair be the biggest of its kind, in point of entries, as it has last year but it also may solve the question of which engine is to be crowned New England Champion of 1965. Which actually amounts to the mythical title of "world's champion".

"Last year the Hampton Beach "squirt" set a new record in modern muster annals for number of entries. Not in the past 30 years has a New England muster drawn as many as 26 individual entries which Hampton Beach hosted in 1964. Not since the old Brockton Fair musters have so many hand-engines competed at a single play-out. And again this year the honors fall to the local muster committee. It all attests to the wonderful job done by Perry Tarleton and his energetic committee. Throughout New England the veteran and volunteer fire companies have the highest of praise for this great muster."

Chairman Perry Tarleton this week said that 27 engines should be on hand to compete in this all important competition.

Judges for the muster are chairman, President Francis A. Walsh of North Kingston, R. I.; secretary-treasurer, Charles C. Mastin of Ashburnham, Mass. and timekeeper Clarence Bryant of Newburyport, Mass.

On the pipe platform will be Phil Clark of North Andover, Mass. and Richard McDonald of Winchendon, Mass.

Engine platform head will be Frank Willey, Sr. of Newmarket, N. H.

The all important paper platform judges and work, will be Leonard Knight of Newbury, Mass.; P. P. Henry Graham of East Greenwich, R. I.; P. P. James Ellison of South Hamilton, Mass.; P. P. James Butler of Dover, N. H.; and host Chief Perley George of Hampton Beach.

Judging for the best musical unit in the parade will be Ellen Heneka, Mrs. Lillian Brindamour and Harriet Harris of Hampton Beach.

SECOND PLACE HONORS in the prettiest costume group were accorded these three local girls, Denise Dupuis and Robyn Patent of Hampton and Susan Binette of Exeter. Photo by Elliot
